Housing Microfinance Franck Daphnis,Bruce Ferguson,2004 * First book to link housing and microfinance * Presents international and US experience As the premier book to provide a comprehensive overview of housing microfinance worldwide, Housing Microfinance sets the standard for future work in the field. The expert contributors combine wisdom from the separate fields of housing policy and microfinance, demonstrating what each can learn from the other. With solid guidance for practitioners and policymakers, the book reviews important issues for international and domestic microfinance institutions that are considering expanding into housing and for providers of conventional housing loans who seek to offer their services to poor clients who lack collateral or regular income.

Abrindo trilhos. Tecendo redes Joaquim Ramos Pinto,Nuno Alarcão,Álvaro Monjardino,Ana da Silva,Brígida Rocha Brito,Carlos Albuquerque,Catarina Cunha,Francisco Gonçalves,Isaura Carvalho,Joana Marques,Marcos Olímpio,Maria Antónia Barreto,Maria João Cardona,Mariana Tandler Ferreira,Miriam Trindade,Orlando Garcia,Sílvia Pereira,2010-01-01 “Abrindo Trilhos. Tecendo Redes. Reflexões e Experiências de Desenvolvimento Local em contexto lusófono” analisa a problemática do desenvolvimento local. Este é um produto do Projecto de Investigação “O impacto do turismo no desenvolvimento comunitário em África: análise de experiências insulares”, resultando de uma parceria com a Universidade Autónoma de Lisboa. A ideia de editar, e assim partilhar, as reflexões contidas no livro surgiu aquando da realização do 1º Encontro de Desenvolvimento Local em São Tomé e Príncipe (organização em parceria: RoçaMundo, CEA/ISCTE-IUL, Universidade Autónoma de Lisboa, Centro de Estudos Sociais da Universidade dos Açores e Associação Internacional de Investigadores em Educação Ambiental). Trata-se de um livro temático em co-autoria, no qual são apresentadas discussões conceptuais e experiências de desenvolvimento local em curso. Numa primeira parte, “Conceitos e Enredos Metodológicos”, são analisados os principais conceitos e os critérios metodológicos da intervenção-acção no contexto do Desenvolvimento Local. Na segunda parte, “Partilha de Experiências em contexto lusófono”, são apresentados casos de desenvolvimento local em curso nos países africanos de língua portuguesa, com destaque para São Tomé e Príncipe, Guiné-Bissau e Angola. Do ponto de vista temático, o livro centra-se em três grandes áreas de intervenção que, neste caso, estão totalmente interligadas e interdependentes: o turismo; a educação; e a economia solidária. Após a conclusão do livro fica lançado um desafio a todos os que colaboraram na sua real ização, mas também a todos aqueles que contribuírem para a sua divulgação, lendo, comentando e passando a palavra: o trabalho em parceria abre trilhos, desbrava caminhos, constrói pontes e tece redes. Permite identificar novas pistas e assim abrir novos trilhos, criando oportunidades e tendo por base as pessoas. Se estes princípios não forem respeitados, o processo de desenvolvimento pode efectivar-se, mas certamente que se opera de forma distinta, percorrendo caminhos mais difíceis e morosos, e nem sempre alcançando os pressupostos inerentes à localidade. O desafio que fica lançado consiste na necessidade de dar continuidade aos caminhos até aqui abertos e às redes tecidas. Em prol do bem-estar das comunidades locais e da concretização de um Mundo mais equilibrado e, por certo, interactivo.

A History of World Agriculture Marcel Mazoyer,Laurence Roudart,2006-06 Only once we understand the long history of human efforts to draw sustenance from the land can we grasp the nature of the crisis that faces humankind today, as hundreds of millions of people are faced with famine or flight from the land. From Neolithic times through the earliest civilizations of the ancient Near East, in savannahs, river valleys and the terraces created by the Incas in the Andean mountains, an increasing range of agricultural techniques have developed in response to very different conditions. These developments are recounted in this book, with detailed attention to the ways in which plants, animals, soil, climate, and society have interacted. Mazoyer and Roudart’s A History of World Agriculture is a path-breaking and panoramic work, beginning with the emergence of agriculture after thousands of years in which human societies had depended on hunting and gathering, showing how agricultural techniques developed in the different regions of the world, and how this extraordinary wealth of knowledge, tradition and natural variety is endangered today by global capitalism, as it forces the unequal agrarian heritages of the world to conform to the norms of profit. During the twentieth century, mechanization, motorization and specialization have brought to a halt the pattern of cultural and environmental responses that characterized the global history of agriculture until then. Today a small number of corporations have the capacity to impose the farming methods on the planet that they find most profitable. Mazoyer and Roudart propose an alternative global strategy that can safegaurd the economies of the poor countries, reinvigorate the global economy, and create a livable future for mankind.

Principles for Building Resilience Reinette Biggs,Maja Schlüter,Michael L. Schoon,2015-04-02 Reflecting the very latest research, this book provides an in-depth review of the role of resilience in the management of social-ecological systems and the ecosystem services they provide. Leaders in the field outline seven principles for building resilience in social-ecological systems, examining how these can be applied to advance sustainability.

Elusive Reform Mark Ungar,2002 Democracy cannot exist, proclaims Ungar (political science, City U. of New York-Brooklyn College) without the rule of law, which he defines as comprising an independent effective judiciary, state accountability to the law, and citizen accessibility to conflict-resolution mechanisms. He looks to Latin American countries to illustrate how stable democracies are undermined by executive power and judicial disarray that prevent the rule of law from taking hold. Annotation copyrighted by Book News, Inc., Portland, OR.

Improving Agricultural Extension Burton E. Swanson,Robert P. Bentz,Andrew J. Sofranko,1997 This book on Improving Agricultural Extension: a Reference Manual offers a critical review and inventory-analysis of the State of the Art in agricultural extension theory and best practices written by internationally known agricultural extension practitioners, educators and scholars. A total of 38 authors from 15 countries contributed to the 23 chapters of this book and thus they provided broad international perspectives, covering both theory and practice, as well as micro and macro issues related to agricultural extension. It is the third edition of a classic reference manual on agricultural extension published by the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) of the United Nations. Aimed at agricultural extension planners, managers, trainers, educators, and field practitioners, this book could be useful in improving the quality of agricultural extension and in generating new ideas and methods for increasing further the cost-effectiveness of agricultural extension programmes. It provides many sound and practical suggestions for developing and improving the conceptual, technical, and operational methods and tools in order to strategically plan, efficiently manage, and scientifically evaluate a problem-solving, demand-driven and needs-based agricultural extension programmes.

Combating the Financing of Terrorism Nicholas Ridley,2009-10-26 The terrorist threat in the 21st century is global and the accompanying illicit processes of terrorist funding, raising and transferring of monies is on an international scale. Therefore this paper is wide ranging and examines the difficulties of combating the financing of terrorism in terms of time scale, geography and economics; the difficulties faced by the intelligence services; the modus operandi of terrorist financing and possible exploitation of economic sectors by terrorist groups; and the perspectives and reactions of the private financial sector, especially the banking institutions. In addition, international counter-measures to terrorist financing are outlined which, if they are to be fully successful, have resource implications for the private financial sector. Finally, the Middle East and Arabian Gulf countries are examined as regional examples of how anti-terrorism funding directives are being implemented. International terrorism is and will remain a near constant threat in the 21st century. Therefore, applying effective international cooperation in intelligence exchange; maintaining an open-minded approach to changeable terrorist funding patterns; and proactive recognition of intelligence indicators in combating the financing of terrorism can be a powerful deterrent to global terrorist activity. As well as the difficulties inherent in combating the financing of terrorism, the whole phenomenon of terrorism has been impacted by globalization—defined generally as the continuous intensification of international economic relations. However, the main impact of globalization on terrorism is that of increasing economic accessibility. The Internet can be used to raise funds from new donors as well as permit users to transfer monies to the bank accounts of terrorist organizations with the minimum of delay. The twin key components of globalization – deregulation and liberalization – have led to an exponential growth of economic activity around the globe, making effective financial governance an increasing challenge and affording to terrorist organizations a choice of financial regions in which to operate and greater opportunities for transaction concealment.
