The European Union's Eco-Management and Audit Scheme (EMAS) Michael S. Wenk,2005-04-11 The European Union's Eco-Management and Audit Scheme, or EMAS, has been in existence since 1995, with over 3,000 sites registered to the Scheme. However, even to the present day, there exist very few texts which address the specific requirements of the standard and provide real world examples of the practical considerations companies and sites must contend with in order to successfully earn registration to the Scheme. No author has synthesized the controversies, debates, developments and amendments which have surrounded and impacted this often controversial Scheme, until now. This text definitively breaks down each component of the EMAS regulation, including the appendices and applicable EU guidance documents on the topic, providing a step-by-step analysis of the Scheme. In addition, the work provides examples of three of Akzo Nobel Incorporated's manufacturing locations which have been registered to EMAS, providing examples of how to meet the requirements of the Scheme. The target audience is threefold: first, environmental managers who are considering implementing EMAS in their firms, but who have little knowledge of the Scheme, will find the work highly useful. Secondly, university students, professors and programs who study environmental auditing as part of their coursework, and who are seeking a solid overview of the program may employ the text. Finally, verifiers in the countries which are recent additions to the EU may use the work to familiarize themselves with the requirements of the Scheme.

Wenk,2005-04-05 This text definitively breaks down each component of the Eco-Management and Audit Scheme regulation (EMAS) – even its appendices and EU guidance documents – providing a step-by-step analysis of the Scheme. In addition, the work offers case examples of three of Akzo Nobel manufacturing locations which have been registered to EMAS, providing real-world advice on how to meet the requirements of the Scheme.

EMAS – a Tool Supporting Eco-innovations Agnieszka Ociepa-Kubicka,2015-12-29 The development of entrepreneurship in the 21st century cannot occur without taking care of the natural environment. Having undertaken ecological activities, the entrepreneurs benefit at the economic, ecological and social levels. Therefore, the implementation and popularization of eco-management in companies is so important. EMAS had been launched by the European Parliament and Council (EC). It is a system of environment management directed at various organizations, e.g. financial institutions, schools, service providers, production entrepreneurship etc., which voluntarily would like to exceed the minimal scope of law provisioned directives, constantly limiting the negative influence of their activity on the environment. The book contains the problems connected with the introduction of EMAS in the enterprises. It analyzes the benefits from EMAS Implementation, problems with the environment management schemes' implementation. It also presents examples of EMAS implementation in various companies. The book is designed for a wide range of readers: teachers, students, businessmen and wide environmental management system on the level of central and local government.

The Last High Priest Rev. Gary Emas,Micki Emas,2016-11-22 The story was to show to the reader the seven thousand hours of documented proof of Jesus Christ, the last high priest. To answer the question to the Muslim, Jew, Buddhist, atheist, or any religion that does not have a relationship with Jesus Christ-- a man child, a Samaritan Jew, a savior, a king. To see the silent years of Christ from eighteen to thirty years old, as we uncover the mysteries of Jehovah. I am Rev. Gary Wayne Emas, DD, of Bread of Life Ministry now. But before, I was known as Wayne Alexander Richards and into money, power, sex, and gambling. I would ask myself one important question: What does it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his own soul? At what point in my life was I going to see a break--either by dying and ending it all or by seeing the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. I was in a desert place, thirsting for a drink from a well but unaware that the one I was seeking was the well of living water. Over the last twenty-eight years, I have worked alongside men and women who shared the same question we all ask and had a common desire to see the good news of Jesus Christ spread throughout this vast land we call earth. Have you ever asked the ultimate question? Where do we find ourselves at the end of the walk? What destiny lies ahead? From the cradle to the grave. My prayer is that this book will answer most of your questions and leave some open to interpretation. The Bible says many are called, but few are chosen (see Matthew 20:16). I believe my duty is to share with you the life I led from Soteria to the new road that leads to Sozo.
