Fraseología contrastiva Pedro Mogorrón Huerta,2011 Este libro recoge diversas propuestas sobre la investigación actual en fraseología contrastiva. Los autores presentan un ámbito multilingüe donde tienen cabida el español, el francés, el árabe, el italiano, el catalán, el alemán y el inglés. Desde esta óptica, se estudian estructuras fijas más o menos flexibles, como colocaciones, locuciones verbales, paremias, refranes o construcciones adverbiales. Los especialistas reunidos en este volumen orientan sus contribuciones hacia aspectos contrastivos, traductológicos, lexicográficos o aplicados a las nuevas tecnologías, tanto en contextos cotidianos como en textos de especialidad. Carmen González Royo y Pedro Mogorrón Huerta son doctores en Filología y profesores en el Departamento de Traducción e Interpretación de la Universidad de Alicante. Previamente, han coeditado Estudios y análisis de fraseología contrastiva: Lexicografía y Traducción (2008).

Nonlinear Laser Spectroscopy V. S. Letokhov,V. P. Chebotayev,2014-04-18 The laser as a source of coherent optical radiation has made it possible to investigate nonlinear interaction of optical radiation with atoms and molecules. Its availability has given rise to new research fields, such as nonlinear optics, laser spectroscopy, laser photochemistry, that lie at the boundary between quantum electronics and physical optics, optical spectroscopy and photochemistry, respectively. The use of coherent optical radiation in each of these fields has led to the discovery of qualitatively new effects and possibilities; in particular, some rather subtle effects of interaction between highly monochromatic light and atoms and molecules, in optical spectroscopy, have formed the bases for certain methods of so-called nonlinear, laser Doppler-free spectroscopy. These methods have made it possible to increase the resolution of spectroscopic studies from between 10 and 10<sup>11</sup> limited by Doppler line broadening up, to about 10<sup>12</sup>; at present some laboratories are developing new techniques that have even higher resolution. The discovery and elaboration of the methods of nonlinear laser spectroscopy have resulted largely from contributions by scientists from many countries, in particular from the USA (Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Stanford University, National Bureau of Standards in Boulder, Harvard University, etc. ), the USSR (P. N. Levedev Institute of Physics, Institute of Semiconductor Physics in Novosibirsk, Institute of Spectroscopy, etc.

The Influence of Culture on Human Resource Management Processes and Practices Dianna L. Stone,Eugene F. Stone-Romero,2008 It is clear that organizations are becoming more culturally diverse, and a better understanding of multiculturalism and its impact on organizations is needed. This book, with contributions from expert academics, is designed to motivate both the further development of models concerned with the influence of cultural diversity on several Human Resource Management processes and practices and the design and conduct of empirical research on the same topic. It primarily focuses on processes and practices that occur at three general phases; the pre-hire phase, the selection phase, and the post-hire phase. An improved understanding of the roles that culture plays in such processes and practices should contribute to both the efficiency and effectiveness of organizations and the performance and well-being of their members. This edited book is appropriate for undergraduate and graduate students in industrial and organizational psychology, human resource management, sociology of work, and cultural diversity within organizations. It can provide a central resource in classes on organizational psychology, strategic human resource management, and global issues in human resource management. Professionals and practitioners who increasingly interact with organizational issues at the global level will find this book essential to their work.

Applied Mathematical Physics Lucas Morgan,2020-09-22 Mathematical physics is the field of science that is concerned with the development of mathematical methods for applications to the problems in physics. Partial differential equations and the related areas of Fourier analysis, variational calculus and vector analysis are applied in the domains of celestial mechanics, thermodynamics, hydrodynamics, celestial mechanics, electricity, magnetism, etc. The special and general theories of relativity are built on the mathematical principles of group theory, topology and functional analysis. Statistical mechanics builds on Hamiltonian mechanics that is closely associated with mathematical ergodic theory and probability theory. This book outlines the applications of mathematical physics in detail. Some of the diverse topics covered herein address the varied branches that fall under this category.
