Integrated Chemical Processes in Liquid Multiphase Systems Matthias Kraume,Sabine Enders,Anja Drews,Reinhard Schomäcker,Sebastian Engell,Kai Sundmacher,2022-06-21 Liquid multiphase processes represent a promising option for realizing novel, efficient, and sustainable production processes, as required for the transformation towards climate-neutral manufacturing processes. This volume presents the results obtained over twelve years in the DFG-funded collaborative project Transregio 63 “Integrated Chemical Processes in Liquid Multiphase Systems”. In an interdisciplinary approach to the design and operation of such processes, essential principles of Green Chemistry are realized, such as using long-chain olefins as model representatives of renewable raw materials, highly efficient catalysts, and green solvents, linked with process optimization to improve energy and material efficiency. Experts from different fields addressed all steps of the development process, from the description of the reactions on the molecular level via thermodynamics and the design of efficient separation processes to the operation of entire miniplants for liquid multiphase production processes. Thus, the complete development chain from the first reaction-related investigations in the laboratory to the technological realization in miniplants with model-based control is demonstrated. Numerous methodological innovations are proposed and validated using several innovative phase systems (thermomorphic multiphase systems, microemulsion systems, Pickering emulsions) and homogeneously catalyzed reactions. Engineers and chemists from the chemical industry as well as advanced students and researchers will get valuable insights into the physico-chemical phenomena in chemical multiphase processes and benefit from recommendations concerning methods for the selection of phase systems and rapid model-based process development.

Extending the Complexity of the Leaky Pipeline Phenomenon in Natural Science Anna Wolfram,2023-10-19 In the realm of global innovation, STEM powers knowledge-based societies. However, ongoing gender disparities curtail the complete utilisation of human capital. As argued in the goal congruity theory, women's choices to communal goals prompts female exits from STEM. Exploring this theory in natural science and academia, two questions arise: 1) Does the leaky pipeline persist, and where are gaps? 2) Do female scientists leave to afford other goals? Stats show early career gender balance, but senior positions lack women. Notably, men dominate decision-making roles. Qualitative research with 26 female scientists reveals an overall positive and communal perception of natural science and academia. Moreover, the perceived affordance of communal values within science majorly contributes to the desire of female researchers to continue pursuing an academic path. These findings contradict the literature-established goal congruity theory and thus, provide an experienced-based foundation to extend the complexity of the leaky pipeline phenomenon in natural science.

Hell Empty, Heaven Full Reinhard Bonnke,2022-08-23 Every day, millions of people who don't know Jesus Christ as their Savior move farther down the dark road to destruction. But as international evangelist Reinhard Bonnke says, hell was never designed for people, and heaven is expecting them! Tens of millions of people have come to know Christ through Reinhard's ministry. In this book, he shares his contagious passion for bringing the gospel to the lost. Each chapter in Hell Empty, Heaven Full discusses biblical stories that highlight how God's priority is saving people and how He wants us to join Him in that process. As Reinhard says, “Our calling is to put a kind hand on the shoulder of the world and turn it round to see God. It will adore Him. The Lord is the Savior.... He loves because to love gives Him joy. He loves beyond all the parameters of human affection and makes even the assault of the cross an expression of His love. His pain asserts it. He finds satisfaction in giving, pouring Himself out to us, surrounding us with wonders, making His redeemed the garden of delight in which He walks. To proclaim the gospel is to move for Him, act with Him, love in Him, and delight in His joy as the privilege, meaning and purpose of all life.” Filled with vivid illustrations, this book is designed to show you how to reach the lost as Jesus did: with the passion and compassion of the heavenly Father.

Even Greater Faith Reinhard Bonnke,2022-07-26 God's Love Is Greater Than Our Broken Dreams Reinhard Bonnke was motivated by a single, compelling goal: to reach as many people as possible with the love and saving grace of God. Through his ministry, millions of people connected or reconnected with their heavenly Father. In this book, you will meet some of the individuals Reinhard ministered to with remarkable results. Reinhard was always quick to give credit where credit was due, acknowledging God's grace poured into his life and ministry. Even Greater Faith presents dramatic and heartwarming true stories about ordinary people from around the world, Reinhard included, through whom God did extraordinary works of redemption and healing—despite their broken dreams, failures, and weaknesses. While they watched their dreams fall apart, God was still working in their lives. He had even greater plans prepared for them, as He has even greater plans for you. You will find it hard to put this book down, and you may even read it in one sitting! You will be moved, you will be inspired, and you will be challenged to do even greater works for God through His remarkable grace as you see healings and other miracles unfold in your life and in the lives of others.

Fulfilling Our Mission Reinhard Bonnke,2022-11-29 Fulfilling Our Mission, by noted international evangelist Reinhard Bonnke, explores truths, stories, and principles from the Bible that show how to effectively reach out to others with the love of God and the salvation of Jesus Christ. Tens of millions of people came to know Christ through Bonnke's ministry. He explains that there is no “right” approach in evangelism, only right principles. Bonnke illustrates these principles from the New Testament in a way that gives direction for action and inspiration to act: • God deeply loves all people. • He wants each of us to participate in reaching the world. • God equips the least likely individuals for His providential purposes. • Where the Holy Spirit provides the tiniest spark, a start can be made. • Evangelism is not an intellectual pursuit. It is a hands-on activity, a demand, a challenge, a commission, and a consuming passion! From biblical times to today, believers have claimed God's promises and moved forward in faith. God's Word is our authority for action and the secret to success in outreach that reveals Jesus to men, women, and children, and brings them into God's eternal kingdom. Today, Jesus calls us to go into all the world and make disciples, demonstrating God's great compassion. God not only accompanies those who are go-getters, but He also makes and equips them. With the Word as our guide, let us fulfill the commission Jesus gave us to reach everyone in the world with the message of His salvation!

Applications of Evolutionary Computing Mario Giacobini,Anthony Brabazon,Stefano Cagnoni,Aniko Ekart,Anna I. Esparcia-Alcázar,Muddassar Farooq,Andreas Fink,Penousal Machado,Jon McCormack,Michael O'Neill,Ferrante Neri,Mike Preuss,Franz Rothlauf,Ernesto Tarantino,Shengxiang Yang,2009-04-11 The year 2009 celebrates the bicentenary of Darwin's birth and the 150th anniversary of the publication of his seminal work, On the Origin of Species. If this makes 2009 a special year for the research community working in biology and evolution, the field of evolutionary computation (EC) also shares the same excitement. EC techniques are efficient, nature-inspired planning and optimization methods based on the principles of natural evolution and genetics. Due to their efficiency and simple underlying principles, these methods can be used in the context of problem solving, optimization, and machine learning. A large and ever-increasing number of researchers and professionals make use of EC techniques in various application domains. This volume presents a careful selection of relevant EC applications combined with a thorough examination of the techniques used in EC. The papers in the volume illustrate the current state of the art in the application of EC and can help and inspire researchers and professionals to develop efficient EC methods for design and problem solving.

Raised From the Dead Reinhard Bonnke,2014-01-01 In 2001, as Reinhard Bonnke debated whether or not to move his ministry to America, he did something he had never done before: he prayed for a sign to confirm that God truly was calling him to go to America. God was about to answer that prayer. A few days later, a woman brought her husband to the Nigerian church where Bonnke was preaching, in hopes that his partially embalmed body would be raised from the dead after three days in a coffin. Although Bonnke was unaware of this and never even prayed for the man, the woman's husband, lying in the church basement, began to breathe again during the sermon. In front of thousands of witnesses, this man, who still couldn't move because of rigor mortis, was raised back to life. After his message, Bonnke was besieged by a crowd yelling, "He's breathing! He's breathing!" This incredible miracle, now detailed for the first time, is part of a movement of God, birthed in a small African church and stretching around the world to America. It is the beginning of a work of God that will confirm His word to Bonnke: "America shall be saved."

Copeptin, Natriuretic Peptides, and Cardiovascular Outcomes in Patients with CKD: the German Chronic Kidney Disease (GCKD) Study Markus Peter Schneider,Ulla Teresa Schultheiß,Kai-Uwe Eckardt,Gerd Walz,Anna Köttgen,Fruzsina Kotsis,Simone Meder,Erna Mitsch,Ursula Reinhard,2023 Abstract: Rationale & Objective Copeptin and Midrange pro-atrial natriuretic peptide (MR-pro-ANP) are associated with outcomes independently of N-terminal pro-brain natriuretic peptide (NT-pro-BNP) in patients with heart failure (HF). The value of these markers in patients with chronic kidney disease (CKD) has not been studied. Study Design Prospective cohort study. Setting & Participants A total of 4,417 patients enrolled in the German Chronic Kidney Disease (GCKD) study with an estimated glomerular filtration rate of 30-60 mL/min/1.73m<sup>2</sup> or overt proteinuria (urinary albumin-creatinine ratio >300mg/g or equivalent). Exposures Copeptin, MR-pro-ANP, and NT-pro-BNP levels were measured in baseline samples. Outcomes Noncardiovascular death, cardiovascular (CV) death, major adverse CV event (MACE), and hospitalization for HF. Analytical Approach HRs for associations of Copeptin, MR-pro-ANP, and NT-pro-BNP with outcomes were estimated using Cox regression analyses adjusted for established risk factors. Results During a maximum follow-up of 6.5 years, 413 non-CV deaths, 179 CV deaths, 519 MACE, and 388 hospitalizations for HF were observed. In Cox regression analyses adjusted for established risk factors, each one of the 3 markers were associated with all the 4 outcomes, albeit the highest HRs were found for NT-pro-BNP. When models were extended to include all the 3 markers, NT-pro-BNP remained associated with all 4 outcomes. Conversely, from the 2 novel markers, associations remained only for Copeptin with non-CV death (HR, 1.62; 95% CI, 1.04-2.54 for highest vs lowest quintile) and with hospitalizations for HF (HR, 1.73; 95% CI, 1.08-2.75). Limitations Single-point measurements of Copeptin, MR-pro-ANP, and NT-pro-BNP. Conclusions In patients with moderately severe CKD, we confirm NT-pro-BNP to be strongly associated with all outcomes examined. As the main finding, the novel marker Copeptin demonstrated independent associations with non-CV death and hospitalizations for HF, and should therefore be evaluated further for risk assessment in CKD. Plain-Language Summary A blood sample-based biomarker that indicates high cardiovascular risk in a patient with kidney disease would help to guide interventions and has the potential to improve outcomes. In 4,417 patients of the German Chronic Kidney Disease study, we assessed the relationship of Copeptin, pro-atrial natriuretic peptide, and N-terminal pro-brain natriuretic peptide (NT-pro-BNP) with important outcomes over a follow-up period of 6.5 years. NT-pro-BNP was strongly associated with all of the 4 outcomes, including death unrelated to cardiovascular disease, death because of cardiovascular disease, a major cardiovascular event, and hospitalization for heart failure. Copeptin was associated with death unrelated to cardiovascular disease and hospitalization for heart failure. NT-pro-BNP and Copeptin are, therefore, promising candidates for a blood sample-based strategy to identify patients with kidney disease at high cardiovascular risk

Results from the German Chronic Kidney Disease (GCKD) Study Support Association of Relative Telomere Length with Mortality in a Large Cohort of Patients with Moderate Chronic Kidney Disease Federica Fazzini,Claudia Lamina,Julia Raschenberger,Ulla Teresa Schultheiß,Fruzsina Kotsis,Sebastian Schönherr,Hansi Weissensteiner,Lukas Forer,Inga Steinbrenner,Heike Meiselbach,Barbara Bärthlein,Christoph Wanner,Kai-Uwe Eckardt,Anna Köttgen,Florian Kronenberg,Gerd Walz,Simone Meder,Erna Mitsch,Ursula Reinhard,2020 Abstract: Telomere length is known to be inversely associated with aging and has been proposed as a marker for aging-related diseases. Telomere attrition can be accelerated by oxidative stress and inflammation, both commonly present in patients with chronic kidney disease. Here, we investigated whether relative telomere length is associated with mortality in a large cohort of patients with chronic kidney disease stage G3 and A1-3 or G1-2 with overt proteinuria (A3) at enrollment. Relative telomere length was quantified in peripheral blood by a quantitative PCR method in 4,955 patients from the GCKD study, an ongoing prospective observational cohort. Complete four-year follow-up was available from 4,926 patients in whom we recorded 354 deaths. Relative telomere length was a strong and independent predictor of all-cause mortality. Each decrease of 0.1 relative telomere length unit was highly associated with a 14% increased risk of death (hazard ratio 1.14 [95% confidence interval 1.06-1.22]) in a model adjusted for age, sex, baseline eGFR, urine albumin/creatinine ratio, diabetes mellitus, prevalent cardiovascular disease, LDL-cholesterol, HDL-cholesterol, smoking, body mass index, systolic and diastolic blood pressure, C-reactive protein and serum albumin. This translated to a 75% higher risk for those in the lowest compared to the highest quartile of relative telomere length. The association was mainly driven by 117 cardiovascular deaths (1.20 [1.05-1.35]) as well as 67 deaths due to infections (1.27 [1.07-1.50]). Thus, our findings support an association of shorter telomere length with all-cause mortality, cardiovascular mortality and death due to infections in patients with moderate chronic kidney disease
