Calm Reflections Pratheek Praveen Kumar, 2009-09 Born in Bangalore, Pratheek Praveen Kumar is now studying for his ISC examination at Bishop Cotton Boys School, Bangalore. Brilliant as he is in studies, he uniformly excelled in school performances and was recognized for his oratory skills. He is also a recipient of a prize in the Information Technology Competition in his school. An ardent player of cricket and football, he was honoured by the principal of the school with a special prize in open assembly for his poetry skills. Stemming from varied facets of his lively far-ranging interests that have impelled him to write on diverse subjects in poetry, these poems make interesting and refreshing reading by their simple themes and simple treatment. The topics on which he wrote were all topics on which he felt rather strongly about or topics which he felt important. They are his thoughts, impressions and feelings on various events or people or actions. He has written all of these poems with a great deal of care and feeling and hopes that they are enjoyed and appreciated by all those who read them.

Shobha Priya Praveen Kumar, 2017-01-27 The great poet Robert Frost while talking about poetry, said that poetry 'takes life by the throat'. Poetry is the art of capturing life in words. It is not just the ken of life, but a direct realisation of the life. It is an exercise of subconscious, conscious interpretations of the life that intensely surface through the conscious awareness. Ergo, readers must experience poems through subconscious exercises to capture the intensity of the life, hotting up in a poetry. No conscious analysis and analyses can lead one anywhere in fully realising the inner arcane treasure of beauty and meanings hidden in the poetry. Nor any other person can do the work for a reader of poetry. Appreciation of poetry involves the reader tuning his subconscious perceptions to receive the poet's subconscious signals through the juste-milieu of the poetry. A poet can transmit his experience of shock of pleasure or grief directly to his reader sans its conscious awareness in both. The incantation is cast through the selection and articulation of words, not only in their word meanings, but also in the synergy of word rhythms, word musics, word pictures, word forms and oblique word hues and shades in the poetry. No avizetfull efforts can do the magic either in writing poetry or in appreciating it to the level of a well-trained subconscious exercise of the mind. All avizetfull exercises of poetic criticism are for this reason, badly limited. Though poetry is about what affected the poet most intensely, it is possible that he may not always be consciously aware of all meanings and their oblique hues in his poem although his subconscious mind exercised on all aspects of the poetry in its parts and in its entirety. The poet, T.S. Eliot was once asked by a student to explain the meaning of one of his poems. The great poet responded to the student by reading the poem and said no more. The same student made the request encore to which T.S. Eliot read the poem encore and fell silent, ipso facto delivering the vital message of a true poetry that poetry cannot be restated in a form other than more suo without poetic distortions. The raison d'être of poetry is the pleasure of the shocks of discovery about the life. It is the fraicheur of thoughts in poetry that endears it to its readers; it is the intensity, the undivided attention with which the poet experiences the deja vu that warms up the poetry to its readers; it is the concentration of thought and feelings which brood to beauty and rich shades of meaning in poetry. The art of writing poetry is the process of gradual release of the shocks of coalesced thought and feelings in relaxed contemplative leisure of a reflective mood. Those who attempt the release through the carefully chosen language are poets and their expressions, poetry. The development of poetic impulses helps such releases to be streamlined to carefully chosen language as an assuetude to prevent wastes by dissipation. The true pleasure of reading poetry is in having an arcane keek to the subtle Unknown Horizons of the poet's mind, thought and personality. The two hundred and forty poems of this collection imprimis deal with the joie de vivre in its variegated hues- pleasures, sorrows, hopes, despairs, romances, ideologies and their concrete surroundings. These poems have concentrated thoughts and feelings as their roots. How far the intensity succeeded to release itself in relaxed contemplative leisure of the reflective mood and how far the intensity of the experience coalesced to the shocks of discovery about the quotidian life and things for the direct perception of the reader are the measures of success of my nusus, to be appraised by the public. I leave at it.

Unknown Horizons Praveen Kumar, 1991

Portraits of Passion Praveen Kumar, 2017-01-28 What the poet sings here is true of his life. He is open for the temptations of both the passion and the reason. When they act together, we find the person at his best in life with the strengths of purpose and will; we find the poet at his best in poetry with sweet ironies, spliced with the power of language when, The wind of passion and the barriers of reason, pull apart from sides,. Thus, the author gained from both his strength and weakness. Poetry to this poet is an integrated expression of personality. His conception of poetry is beautifully expressed in the following stanza in the poem Poetry .You, the gentle queen on inspiration's throne In splendours of words, rhythms, colours, Musics and passions in unending layers; Come, sit on heart, build bridges to the mind, Bring light to the eyes to choose a carriageTo carry your muse to gentle souls. It is significant of this poet that the utility of poetry for him lies in carrying her 'muse to gentle souls'. He is deeply subjective and inward-looking in nature. This subjective and inward-looking tendency makes him a proud and self-assured individual. Read following lines in the poem, 'The Path of Life '. Whatever may come, whatever may go, Whatever on the path is in store as fate, I must walk as always I am; Proud of self and diligent of walk, I tread the path that comes in front; Whatever at back, bears my print, Whatever in front, conforms to inner strength. The poet has tried to portray the widening gulf betwixt rich and poor in the poem, ' Humanity ' wherein an image of poverty is laid in following lines: A hapless mother Offers her to greed To save her child from the hunger's death ; No roof to hide, no cloth to cover, No fire in heart to save honour ; Dirt and filth, sickness everywhere, Dirt and filth, sickness everywhere, The sufferings of the people touch the poet while writing about Bangladesh cyclone in the poem, ' Bangladesh Cyclone; he describes how a famished man appears after the devastation. God-forsaken man sits in the middle And knows not whether he is dead or alive. 'Portraits of Passion' is primarily a portrait of passion- passion in its varied and verdant forms and hues; passion for life, passion of love and passion to know the world around. The collection has a few love portraits in both meeting and parting frames of mind. Read following lines of the poem, ' That Day ': She held the portrait close to her heart And drank his form to the brim of eyes; What a gentle shine, what contentment, Her eyes spread in expression of her heart! What depth it had, what immortal warmth That he felt at loss to pierce far enow; Parting is the more intense form of love. The foretaste of the impending separation how withers souls and brings them closer in the milieu of climacteric gloom and silence is portrayed in the poem, ' Gulf of Life and Death ': Face to face, they sat in silence, No word to speak, no shine in eyes, Both blankly stared beyond each other; No world to smile, no light or sunshine, They sought each other for hope and comfort In the eye of high tide of the time's drift. There are a few poems on the nature in this fascicle. Following three lines describe the full-moon in motion in her full glory through the demi-jour of the heaven in a mise en scene: The golden queen in the stride of royal grace

Ascended heaven with gold dusts splayed
On the fading silk-carpet of the thin
sunshine ;
The aureate beauty of the fullmoon day is painted in following lines :
The night is full with
beauty's sweet contrasts
Of peace and passions, stillness and motion With shades and twilights of sensuous quietude!
A conflict of life and death and desperate waiting for something eerie and lovefull are lurking in many of the poet's writings and give his poems an arcane touch.

Indian Police Praveen Kumar, 2009-09 Indian Police is his new venture on police and policing in India its administration, failures, reasons and solutions are analyzed and discussed with illustrations supported by more than 30 years of experience at senior levels. This volume is a first-hand account of the observations, impressions and experiences of the author as an insider of the Indian police.

My Time, My World Pratheek Praveen Kumar, 2017-01-27 Time and world in the current global village concern everybody and everyone, whether young or old must pay at least some attention to correctly gauge the 'prevailing winds' blowing in and around the world at that time. The complex nature of the time and the world is very difficult to untangle and hopelessly mired in depths we may not know or things of which we have got no comprehension. In this book, I have tried to summarize events, situations, personalities, and at occasions, a few stories that bring deeper comprehension of the world and its affairs in the larger canvas of the political and cultural dynamics of the time and their interplays as I see them in moving the world forward. The topics on which I wrote were all topics on which I felt rather strongly about or topics that I felt important. I hope they are enjoyed and appreciated by all those who read them. While writing the book, I was often tempted to add my own comments about what I felt about the issue at hand, but in the end I successfully resisted such temptations and restricted myself to the truth as I saw it. So this book is a publication on world affairs with just occasional comments of universal nature here and there. Another problem I encountered while writing this book was the abundance of materials to select from. Several events of recent origin raced through my mind for space, but I had to be choosy to limit myself to the planned format of my book. Further, recent developments are too recent and hot to gauge dispassionately and earn space for objective analyses. Therefore, I avoided such materials as much as possible in this volume. This holds true about India also. Though this book is India-centric in world affairs, I avoided all opinions and comments on India related matters for the fear of being partisan. This volume is not planned as a platform for such contents. Nec Dextrorsum, Nec Sinistrorsum is the theme here and I tried my best to maintain it. Often, I had been tempted to stray into topics quite unrelated to the theme of the book. Managing it and keeping my course on the track was the toughest part of my work. My Time, My World opened up limitless vista for entry. Again, I succeeded in confining myself to my Lakshmana Rekha.

Golden Wonder Praveen Kumar, 2017-01-27 GOLDEN WONDER inter alia is about love and its sweet misery. Love is like heaven, but sure can hurt like hell. Love as Victor Hugo said, The reduction of the universe to a single being, the expansion of single being even to God, where, in Bill Wilson's words, to the world you may be one person, but to one person you may be the God. Francis Bacon says that it is impossible to love and to be wise. Love is also variously defined as being stupid together. This volume of love poetry is about that stupidity. Love is called as crazy. It grows beyond human senses, perceptions and consciousness. It knows no human laws. Maslow's Needs Hierarchy has no use for it. Neither basic needs nor the highest need of self-actualization can ever stand up to the magical height of the love. The beauty of love lies in the entire sum of existence revolving around the magic of being needed by one person. Love is when hurting her will hurt you more. It is not that you can't live without her; it is just that you don't even want to try. Golden Wonder is about this madness. The treasure of love is unique and unparalleled. Felix Adler elegantly describes the nature of love when he says, that each include the other, each is enriched by the other. Hans Margolius gives expression to the same thought when he says that one man by himself is nothing, two people who belong together make a world. Love is composed of a single soul inhabiting two bodies. It is in this reference that great Kahlil Gibran says that love knows not its own depth until the hour of separation. Golden Wonder is simply a probe to the depth, and comes out with the conclusion in the words of Pearl Baileg that the sweetest joy, the wildest woe is love. Love reminds you that nothing else matter. Love is a light that shines from heart to heart and feels what the other is feeling even if they are far away. All these live and lovely layers of love are deeply probed in the Hundred and Thirty Eight poems of this anthology. Love in these love poems of is modeled after Priya Chaitra Tapasvini--the paragon of sublime conscience and conscious moral rectitude, most charming and most wonderful creation of pure beauty, devotion, love and sacrifice ever born in this world; most perfect and prettiest in all worlds. This volume of poetry is lovingly dedicated to that exquisite wonder God has ever created. I remember Shobha with profound love and regard for being the strength and inspiration of this and all my literary works and life, and coming again in pursuit of the goal. This volume is a small tribute to her resolve transcending all barriers in the Second Advent. Golden Wonder is an extension forming the second volume of the collection of love poems, Simply Yours, and covers all the love poems composed since the publication of the latter in 2009.

Celestial Glow Praveen Kumar, 2017-01-27 Life and poetry aemule each other: they are different forms of the same process with sensibilities functioning as the umbilical chord between them. The realities of life intenerate to incony imageries and pleasing expressions when pass through the creative being of a poet and spawn a new world of delightful experience. In this sense, poetry is life:

poetry is poetic experience of the life, and poetry is the spirit of life in its transcendent form. It reflects life not only in form, but also in spirit and soul. A good poetry soars with lurking nuances of suggestive meanings beneath the outer form, pendentously opens up new worlds of meaning every time it is read. Only a sensitive, imaginative and resourceful mind can fully comprehend all the finer aspects of a poetry. A great reader, in this sense, makes a poetry, great. A poetry sans a good reader is as dumb as a wild flower. This is why poetry needs good readership. The natural desire for wider and good readership prompted me to seek the publication of this work as my fourth volume of poems. Celestial Glow covers poems composed in 2012 and later. Poems penned before this period are covered in the previous volume, Shobha Priya. Poems of Celestial Glow are dedicated to Priya Chaitra Tapasvini—the paragon of sublime conscience and conscious moral rectitude, most charming and most wonderful creation of pure beauty, devotion, love and sacrifice ever born in this world; most perfect and prettiest in all worlds. This volume of poetry is lovingly dedicated to that exquisite wonder God has ever created.

Inside India Praveen Kumar, 2017-01-27 The story in Inside India is by an insider, insider in India as well as in Indian bureaucracy for more than thirty-one years at a senior position. This volume is a first hand account of the observations, impressions and experiences of the author as an insider. Naturally, most illustrations in this volume are from Karnataka police where the author served as a senior police officer for nearly three decades. However, this makes no difference to the over all picture of India as situation is not much different elsewhere. In spite of well-known notoriety of the like Nizamuddin, Chopra and of similar ilk in Karnataka police, situation is better there than some of the more notorious state police organizations of India. Their core weakness there lies in sweepingly conforming to the rotten system and bad culture against conscience to cover own tracks. It is mere cowardice of mediocrity and gross selfish interests of ignobility and nothing more. Yet, no way can Karnataka police be called as an efficient, healthy and responsible bureaucratic setup yet. Faithful assessment must precede reconstruction. This volume is an effort in this direction. Complacency leads to stagnation and is a dangerous indulgence in a rotting situation like India's. This volume is intended to breach the vicious indulgence involved and inspire India to its rich potentialities on the way to much dreamed of world leadership. India is a civilization of diversities and a culture of contradictions. India's is an inclusive way of life. Along its long history, it saw umpteen falls and rises without losing its innate vitality and always rose from worst quagmires unscathed. This resilience of India underscores its unique heritage spawned by its thoughts and philosophies that perhaps are nearest to the true nature of the universe that the scientific world of today is engaged in to probe, discover and formulate as the Grand Unification Theory (GUT). This is the secret of the eternal strength of India. This resilience of India gives hope. The present fall is not forever. Time of revival shall come. India shall see a better system replace the present corrupt and incompetent UPSC and a healthy administrative system replace the extant inefficient and rogue bureaucracy. This volume, Inside India is a small attempt towards this beginning.

Inclusive Growth Pratheek Praveen Kumar, 2017-01-27 If you think you can do a thing or think you can't do a thing, you're right- Henry Ford, who was a prominent American industrialist, the founder of the Ford Motor Company, who became one of the richest and best-known people in the world. He is credited with Fordism, that is, mass production of inexpensive goods coupled with high wages for workers. It is all a matter of the mind. The human mind is a delicate but powerful object. Capable of exceptional things, it has long been considered an objet d'art. The intricate network of umpteen nerve cells connect together in myriad ways to create what is considered evolution's magnum opus, till now any way. Outstanding physical deeds have often been ascribed to people under deep pressure. They phrase it adrenaline rush. A fight-or-flight response of our body that enables us to cross distinctive limits placed on our bodies and allows us to function, for some time at least, in a superhuman-like state. Our mind realizes that we are in a pressure-situation and somehow lifts us to extricate ourselves from the confronting situation. Now, all this is usually associated only with physical deeds, but we can extrapolate it to other situations too. If we just focus our mind on something and work hard to realize it, there is no reason that we will not. You can have anything in this world you want, if you want it badly enough and you're willing to pay the price, said Mary Kay Ash, an American businesswoman and founder of Mary Kay Cosmetics, Inc. Well she should know. Having faced quite a few difficulties in her life and having come up trumps, showing grit and fortitude to carve a niche for herself and her company, she would be the right person to expect this kind of a message from, as it comes from long and hard experience. Not something to be scoffed at. Very often the difference between failure and triumph is but a wafer-thin layer of uncertainty. If one puts in a bit more effort into one's work, it may make all the difference in the world. Even if disappointments hound one at first, in the end, with perseverance and poise, we can achieve our goals. We should keep our target in mind and believe that we can reach it. Belief is the main issue here. Very often it is not a question of aptitude. It is more about the cerebral make-up of the people involved. Whoever believes in himself or herself is able to get a psychological edge and in the end, sometimes this psychosomatic edge is all that is needed. INCLUSIVE GROWTH is all about such a need and much more. Inclusive Growth is the modern mantra of survival and the bedrock of democracy and humanism. It is the sine qua non of peace and universal brotherhood and raison d'etre of the modern concepts of the fundamental rights. Some layers of the inclusive growth are discussed in this volume.
