Reproductive Barriers and Gene Introgression in Rice Species, Volume II

Cultural Heritage Hani Hayajneh , 2023-04 Human heritage is an endless mine of knowledge, skills, ethos and accomplishments, which visualize and examine the power of human creativity and innovation throughout the history. The contributions cast an insight into the human psyche to perceive its Weltanschauung, and its way of thinking and making artefacts associated with knowledge, existence and identity in the context of other existing systems in the world. They demonstrate the diversity of topics as well as the state-of-the-art of interdisciplinary approaches that participants of the Humboldt-Kolleg use in their research on cultural heritage, and confirm, once again, that the strengths of the Alexander von Humboldt Network should be celebrated and honoured. The present volume invites us to seek more novel research approaches that aim towards an understanding of the complex nature of human inheritance.

Pornography Max Waltman, 2021-08-18 Pornography has long proven a polarizing and vexing subject in legal and feminist debates. Women's social movements have fought ferociously against pornography since the 1970s, emphasizing its contribution to violence against women. At least two to four of ten young men consume it three times or more per week. The pornography industry exploits poor populations, who are multiply and intersectionally disadvantaged based on gender, race, or other vulnerabilities. A thorough analytical review of empirical studies using complementing methods demonstrates that using pornography substantially contributes to consumers becoming more sexually aggressive, on average desensitizing them and contributing to a demand for more subordinating, aggressive, and degrading materials. Consumers are also often found wishing to imitate pornography with unwilling partners; many demand sex from prostituted people, who have few or no alternatives. While the supporting scientific evidence of harm is growing exponentially, the politics of legal challenges to pornography still constitutes an amalgam of some of the most intractable, thorny, and adversarial obstacles to change. This book assesses American, Canadian, and Swedish legal challenges to the explosive spread of pornography within their significantly different democratic systems, and constructs a political and legal theory for effectively challenging the sex industry under law. The obstacles to this challenge are exposed as more ideological and political than strictly legal, although they often play out in the legal arena. Legal challenges to the harms are shown to be more effective under legal systems that promote equality and when the laws empower those most harmed, in contrast to state-enforced regulations (e.g., criminal obscenity laws). Drawing on feminist and intersectional theory, among others, this book argues that pornography is among the linchpins of sex inequality, contending that civil rights legislation and a civil society forum can empower those harmed with representatives who have more substantial incentives to address them. This book explains why democracies fail to address the harms of pornography, and offers a political and legal theory for changing the status quo. These insights can be applied to other intractable problems associated with hierarchies, and will appeal profoundly to political theorists and those invested in civil and human rights.

Kompetenzentwicklung im Schulpraktikum Andreas Bach,2013 Schulpraktika sind ein zentrales Element hochschulischer Lehrerbildung. Über die Eignungsüberprüfung für den Beruf hinaus gelten Praxisphasen im Studium als eine Übungs- und Lerngelegenheit, um berufsspezifische Kompetenzen in einem Anwendungskontext auszubilden. Ob diese Lernwirkungen tatsächlich erreicht werden, ist bislang nicht hinreichend empirisch belegt. Mittels linearer Strukturgleichungsmodelle untersucht die Studie den Lernfortschritt von Studierenden in jenem Kompetenzbereich, der insbesondere in allgemeinen Schulpraktika fokussiert wird: die allgemeindidaktische Kompetenz zur Planung von Unterricht. Einbezogen werden dabei bisher kaum durchgeführte kausale und mediatorbezogene Analysen zu den Bedingungen der Kompetenzentwicklung sowie zur Stabilität der Lerneffekte. Darüber hinaus wird die Veränderung der Selbstwirksamkeit der Studierenden untersucht. Die Studie liegt somit an der Schnittstelle zwischen Allgemeindidaktischer Forschung, Lehrerbildungsforschung und Lehr-Lernforschung. Andreas Bach, Studium an der Universität Hildesheim, Diplom in Kulturwissenschaften, Erstes und Zweites Staatsexamen für das Lehramt, anschließend Promotionsstipendium am dortigen Centrum für Bildungs- und Unterrichtsforschung (CeBU). Seit 2013 Akademischer Rat am Zentrum für Lehrerinnen- und Lehrerbildung der Universität Flensburg.
