Everything on (the) Line Sophia Reuss,Christina Turner,2021-04-18 On a chilly April day in 2001, some 75,000 protesters flooded the streets of Quebec City to denounce corporate globalization and a neoliberal trade deal. From that wellspring of activist anger, energy, and hope came the founding of rabble.ca: an alternative news source and community space that reported on Canadian politics from the ground, catching the attention of journalists and activists across the country. Since then, Canada has seen the rise of Harper Conservatism and its replacement by a Liberal government; a decline in union power; the stalled beginnings of reconciliation with Indigenous nations; the birth of Black Lives Matter; an invigorated climate justice movement; and more. These stories of activist struggle lie at the heart of Everything on (the) Line, a collection of rabble's most incisive articles from the past twenty years. Editors S. Reuss and Christina Turner guide readers deftly through rabble's deep and storied archives, combining critical analysis with new essays from celebrated activists and writers such as Russell Diabo, Nora Loreto, Phillip Dwight Morgan, and Monia Mazigh. Each vital selection marks a flashpoint in Canadian politics—and an opportunity to reflect on the social movements that have challenged capitalism, racism, settler colonialism, and patriarchy over the past two decades.

Erp Information at the Speed of Reality Wayne L. Staley,2013-03-11 Information realityEvery type of business must execute effectively and move from a physical and information reality of weeks and days to minutes and seconds. The smart enterprise builds intelligence gathering in near real time, taking full advantage of faster operations. The games people play Consultants, executives, project leaders, software suppliers all play games that introduce unnecessary variables into a complex process. We share our experience of forty-five years because it will help businesses to succeed. Some stories are enlightening, but not funny because companies, their employees, and ownership paid the price. Due diligencelgnorance is not bliss, excusable or acceptable. Discover the truth – think beyond the obvious and overcome ignorance with education and training. Major project pitfalls are assumptions, bias, and fixation. “The leaders who win with ERP perform extraordinary due diligence before selecting the software, the leader who loses does incomplete due diligence. Therefore, superior due diligence leads to victory and poor homework leads to defeat: how much worse with no due diligence. It is by attention to this activity that one can foresee who is likely to win or lose”. Paraphrase Sun Tzu, The Art of War, speaking about planning and calculation. Assemble the puzzleERP projects are complex, involving strategies, internal assessments, evaluation of multiple alternatives, and making critical business decisions. They require assigning high performers to project teams, taking them away from important daily activities. ERP systems are so expensive that failure is not an option. Evidence based decisions and a structured process lead to successful results.
