L'écume des temps Toufik Zitouni, 2018-10-28

Ecrire, c'est se trahir, ou se livrer à l'inquisition des mots. Une quête dans un intérieur mystérieux que les phrases remuent pour que surgissent des êtres jusque-là insoupçonnés. Le propre de l'art poétique est d'inventer, avec cet intérieur, des enchevêtrements de parcours pour contourner le réel ou en créer des impressions. Le lecteur, au-delà de l'oeuvre, se projette dans les méandres du poète, pour tenter de s'identifier dans tel comportement ou attitude. Moins des principes que des complicités devant la vie, devant la mort. Hypocrite lecteur, mon semblable, mon frère ! Cette tendre accusation de Baudelaire, le lecteur la revoie chez l'auteur. En revenant sur mon passé, je planais dans mes souvenirs, comme un oiseau qui se laisse emporter par les vents, cherchant quelques raisons de vivre, ou des passerelles vers des horizons meilleurs. Comme une thérapie, le passé réinventé féconde ou, à défaut, apaise l'avenir. Le passé lointain nourrit l'actualité récente, ce que le poète ressent vivement. Les tensions irrésolues de l'histoire sont matière à des incompréhensions qui, à leur tour, attisent les contradictions. Le poète, au sein de cette tourmente, la reflète de bout en bout. Sa poésie, sensément, est une douleur de l'histoire.

This book is intended for researchers, engineers and advanced postgraduate students in the fields of control and electrical engineering, computer science and signal processing, as well as mechanical and chemical engineering.

Brothers In Arms Camille Tawil, 2011-10-10

'Meticulously researched debut' - Publishers Weekly
'An excellent source for anyone interested in the region.' - New York Journal of Books
'Brothers in Arms sheds a clear and indispensable, if troubling, light on a religious war that is far from over.' Michael F. Scheuer, former head of the CIA's Bin Laden unit and professor of security studies, Georgetown University
'Camille Tawil delivers a carefully reported assessment of al Qaeda and its affiliated Arab jihadist groups.'
Peter Bergen, author of Holy War, Inc. Since 2001 America's War on Terror has achieved what Osama bin Laden could not: the unification of the jihad under al-Qa'ida's banner. Although today al-Qa'ida is seen as the epitome of jihad, when it first emerged other militant Islamists rejected its vision of a holy war against the West.
Investigative journalist Camille Tawil charts the history of conflict and complicity between al-Qa'ida and its brothers in arms from the late 1980s to the present day. Drawing on a network of contacts in Egyptian Islamic Jihad, Algeria's Armed Islamic Group, and the Libyan Islamic Fighting Group, he shows how the failure of their separate national struggles brought them increasingly under the influence of Osama bin Laden and his global agenda. From prison cells in Morocco to the caves of Tora Bora, Tawil gives us unique access to the key players behind the jihadist movement and the evolution of its violent ideology. Born in 1965, Camille Tawil is a Lebanese writer and investigative journalist. He has covered Islamic militant groups for al-Hayat Arabic daily in London since the early 1990s.

The De-Radicalization of Jihadists Omar Ashour, 2009-04-07 This book is the first detailed study of the causes of de-radicalization in armed Islamist movements. It is based on frontline research that includes interviews with Jihadist leaders, mid-ranking commanders, and young sympathizers, as well as former security and intelligence officers and state officials. Additionally, it is also the first book to analyze the particular conditions under which successful de-radicalization can take place. The current literature on Islamist movements attempts to explain two principal issues: their support of violence (radicalization) and their changing attitudes towards democracy and democratization (moderation). However, the reasons behind renouncing (behavioural de-radicalization) and delegitimizing (ideological de-radicalization) violence have not been evaluated to date. The author provides an in-depth analysis of the de-radicalization processes of the Egyptian Muslim Brothers (1951-73), former allies of al-Qa'ida, such as al-Gama'a al-Islammiyya (Islamic Group of Egypt, 1997-2002) and al-Jihad Organization (2007-present), as well as of Algerian Islamist groups (1997-2000). The book also analyzes cases of de-radicalization failure. The two questions that the book highlights and attempts to answer are Why? and How? For example, why do radical Islamist militants revise their ideologies, strategies and objectives and initiate a de-radicalization process; and what are the necessary conditions behind successful de-radicalization? De-radicalization of Jihadists shows how a combination of charismatic leadership, state repression, social interactions and selective inducements can ultimately lead jihadists to abandon 'jihad' and de-legitimize violence. This book will be of great interest to students of radical Islamist movements and Islamic Studies, terrorism and political violence, security studies, and Middle Eastern politics. Omar Ashour is a Lecturer in Politics in the Institute of Arab and Islamic Studies, University of Exeter. He has a PhD in International Relations from McGill University in Canada.

Proceedings of the 4th International Symposium on Materials and Sustainable Development Brahim Safi, Abdelhakim Daoui, Hamza Mechakra, Youcef Ghernouti, 2020-10-15 This book presents the proceedings of the 4th International Symposium on Materials and Sustainable Development ISMSD2019

(CIMDD2019), will include a 3-day Conference (12 - 14 November). Organized by the Research Unit: Materials, Processes and Environment and M'hamed Bougara University of Boumerdes (Algeria) in partnership with University of Reims - Champagne-Ardenne (France), this symposium follows the success of CIMDD 2013-2015-2017 and continues the traditions of the highly successful series of International Conferences on the materials, processes and Environment. The Symposium will provide a unique topical forum to share the latest results of the materials and sustainable development research in Algeria and worldwide.

Terrorist Rehabilitation and Counter-Radicalisation Lawrence Rubin, Rohan Gunaratna, Jolene Anne R. Jerard, 2011-02-04 This book seeks to explore the new frontiers in counter-terrorism research, analyses and practice, focusing on the imperative to rehabilitate terrorists. The post-9/11 world is in a very early stage of global rehabilitation both of terrorists and criminals. Nonetheless, some correctional rehabilitation programs have led convicted and suspected terrorists to express remorse, repent, and recant their violent ideologies and re-enter mainstream politics, religion and society. Although operational counter-terrorism initiatives have received both investment and attention, strategic counter-terrorism initiatives that ultimately end violence including terrorism but require patience and sustained efforts have been neglected by governments and received inadequate public coverage. This book is an early attempt to examine a few case studies both by practitioners and scholars. This book provides a better understanding of the process of deradicalization, and will be the first step towards exploring the development of tools necessary to examine and address challenges faced by practitioners. This book will be of much interest to students of terrorism and political violence, radical Islam, conflict resolution, war and conflict studies and IR/Security Studies.

The Changing Middle East Bahgat Korany, 2011 In the era of globalization, change is the order of the day, but the conventional view of the Arab Middle East is that of a rigid and even stagnant region. This book counters the static perception and focuses instead on regional dynamics. The international team of contributors evaluate the development of Arab civil society; examine the opportunities and challenges facing the Arab media; link the debates concerning Arab political thought to the evolving regional and international context; look at the transformation of armed Islamist movements into deradicalized factions; assess how and to what extent women's empowerment is breaking down patriarchy; and analyze the rise of non-state actors such as Hizbollah and Hamas that rival central political authority.

Advanced Technologies for Humanity Rajaa Saidi, Brahim El Bhiri, Yassine Maleh, Ayman Mosallam, Mohammed Essaaidi, 2022-01-29 This book gathers the proceedings of the International Conference on Advanced Technologies for Humanity (ICATH'2021), held on November 26-27, 2021, in INSEA, Rabat, Morocco. ICATH'2021 was jointly co-organized by the National Institute of Statistics and Applied Economics (INSEA) in collaboration with the Moroccan School of Engineering Sciences (EMSI), the Hassan II Institute of Agronomy and Veterinary Medicine (IAV-Hassan II), the National Institute of Posts and Telecommunications (INPT), the National School of Mineral Industry (ENSMR), the Faculty of Sciences of Rabat (UM5-FSR), the National School of Applied Sciences of Kenitra (ENSAK) and the Future University in Egypt (FUE). ICATH'2021 was devoted to practical models and industrial applications related to advanced technologies for Humanity. It was considered as a meeting point for researchers and practitioners to enable the implementation of advanced information technologies into various industries. This book is helpful for PhD students as well as researchers. The 48 full papers were carefully reviewed and selected from 105 submissions. The papers presented in the volume are organized in topical sections on synergies between (i) smart and sustainable cities, (ii) communication systems, signal and image processing for humanity, (iii) cybersecurity, database and language processing for human applications, (iv) renewable and sustainable energies, (V) civil engineering and structures for sustainable constructions, (Vi) materials and smart buildings and (Vii) Industry 4.0 for smart factories. All contributions were subject to a double-blind review. The review process was highly competitive. We had to review 105 submissions from 12 countries. A team of over 100 program committee members and reviewers did this terrific job. Our special thanks go to all of them.

Routledge Handbook on the Modern Maghrib George Joffé, 2023-11-20 This comprehensive Routledge Handbook on the Modern Maghrib introduces and analyses the region in its full complexity, focusing on the countries of Morocco, Tunisia, Algeria, and Libya, as well as the northern and western Sahara. In addition to country studies that provide historical and geopolitical background, a series of thematic explorations engage with a range of social, linguistic, cultural and economic aspects, providing a rich mosaic of current scholarship on the region. Addressing important debates such as the volatile international relations among constituent states, the role of women in society, and the environmental impact of climate change, the book considers natural resources, music, media and language, and revisits the history of borders and social tribal structures. What emerges is not only a variegated picture of the Maghrib as a complex and rapidly changing region, but one marked by stark contrasts and divergences among its constituent states based on their Ottoman and colonial experiences, their relationships with their Saharan and Mediterranean neighbours, and their own political trajectories. This Handbook fills an important gap in knowledge on a region increasingly significant in European and American affairs, and will appeal to anyone interested in the history, economies and societies of North Africa.

Recent Research on Geomorphology, Sedimentology, Marine Geosciences and Geochemistry Attila

Çiner, Stefan Grab, Etienne Jaillard, Domenico Doronzo, André Michard, Marina Rabineau, Helder I. Chaminé, 2022-01-12 This edited book is based on the papers accepted for presentation during the 2nd Springer Conference of the Arabian Journal of Geosciences (CAJG-2), Tunisia, in 2019. Major subjects treated in the book include geomorphology, sedimentology, and geochemistry. The book presents an updated unique view in conjugating field studies and modeling to better quantify the process-product binomial unusual in geosciences. In the geomorphology section, 24 papers deal with topics related to fault slip and incision rates, soil science, landslides and debris flows, coastal processes, and geoarcheology, and geoheritage. Under the sedimentology section, 34 papers including stratigraphy, and environmental, tectonic, and diagenetic processes, together with evolutionary, biostratigraphic, and paleo-environmental significance of paleontology are presented. Additionally, this section also contains papers on marine geosciences, from molecular proxies related to climate to geophysical surveys. Last but not least, the third section on geochemistry is composed of 26 papers that are focused on sedimentary geochemistry and mineralogical characterization, magmatic and metamorphic processes and products, and the origin and exploration of mineral deposits. This book resumes the current situation related to the abovementioned topics mainly in the Mediterranean realm. The volume book is of interest to all researchers, practitioners, and students in the fields of geomorphology, sedimentology, and geochemistry, as well as those engaged in environmental geosciences, soil science, stratigraphy and paleontology, geoarcheology and geoheritage, marine geosciences, petrology, metallogenesis, and mineral deposits.

Tu n'es jamais revenu Guy Deloeuvre, Libération de prisonniers, fourniture d'armes, impunité pour certains chefs d'État ou criminels... Un enlèvement peut aussi être réalisé sans perspective de libérer la victime, notamment lorsque le but est de pouvoir abuser de celle-ci sexuellement. Dans ce livre, vous allez découvrir différentes histoires d'affaires judiciaires résolues ou non, mais surtout plonger dans le macabre et les détails sordides de celles-ci.

La guerre contre la vérité Nafeez Mosaddeq Ahmed, 2006 Ce chapitre introductif s'efforce de décrire les circonstances politiques et historiques dans lesquelles sont intervenus les attentats du 11 septembre. Nous nous proposons d'aider à comprendre toute la gamme des politiques étrangères mises en place par les États-Unis envers des États amis ou hostiles, vis-à-vis du terrorisme international, tant à notre époque que par le passé, politiques qui sont essentiellement le fruit de préoccupations de sécurité nationale. Les plus importants parmi ces États font l'objet de politiques américaines ambiguës en matière de sécurité. L'étude portera également sur les réseaux terroristes internationaux (en particulier al-Qaida) et sur les États qui protègent et/ou répriment ces réseaux, ainsi que les rapports réels et/ou potentiels de ces conséquences avec le 11 septembre.

Terrorism in the Maghreb Anneli Botha, 2008
Terrorism on the African continent is a complex and emotional topic. One of the primary reasons for this is that a historical introspection for any country, or its people, that has been confronted with a conflicting past can only be described as 'sensitive'. In addition to international developments and challenges, domestic circumstances predominately fuel domestic terrorism. It will therefore be a mistake to assess the threat of terrorism in any country in historic isolation. This is particularly true when one tries to assess and understand the 'renewed' threat of terrorism in Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia. This monograph will attempt to place the threat and implication of the name change announcement of the Salafist Group for Combat and Preaching (GSPC) to al-Qa'eda in the Land of the Islamic Maghreb (AQLIM) in context, with the primary focus on events in 2007. The name change in itself implied that the original domestic group had transnational ambitions, but what influenced this development and what would the consequences be? Although this development led to immediate and extensive international interest in the Maghreb, it became clear that most assessments focused on the now, without appreciating the historical complexities that ultimately led to this development.

A History of Algeria James McDougall, 2017-04-24
Covering a period of five hundred years, from the arrival of the Ottomans to the aftermath of the Arab uprisings, James McDougall presents an expansive new account of the modern history of Africa's largest country. Drawing on substantial new scholarship and over a decade of research, McDougall places Algerian society at the centre of the story, tracing the continuities and the resilience of Algeria's people and their cultures through the dramatic changes and crises that have marked the country. Whether examining the emergence of the Ottoman viceroyalty in the early modern Mediterranean, the 130 years of French colonial rule and the revolutionary war of independence, the Third World nation-building of the 1960s and 1970s, or the terrible violence of the 1990s, this book will appeal to a wide variety of readers in African and Middle Eastern history and politics, as well as those concerned with the wider affairs of the Mediterranean.

Le XXIème siècle ou la Nef des fous Claude Juvin, 2020-02-21
Au travers de cet essai, je veux exprimer la vérité sur ce qui se passe

actuellement en France et en Europe. Je voudrais par là, ajouter que rien ni personne ne m'empêchera de dire la vérité, y compris à travers les menaces ou autres intimidations éventuelles qui pourraient se juxtaposer après la publication de cet essai. Je pense par là exprimer ce que ressent depuis longtemps la majorité silencieuse de ce pays qui n'ose rien dire au regard des évènements plutôt négatifs qu'ils doivent subir jour après jour dans l'indifférence totale des dirigeants politiques. Je sais très bien que cela ne changera rien à la déchéance de l'humanité française et européenne, mais cela aura au moins le mérite d'avoir été prononcé dans le désespoir de cause. Pourquoi ce titre ? Dans la légende des tarots, le 21ème siècle représente le précipice dans lequel l'humanité s'est forgé son destin.

Nouzille, 2015-01-21 C'est l'un des secrets les mieux gardés de la République : en son nom et sur ordre des plus hautes autorités, des tueurs sont disponibles à tout moment pour éliminer des personnes jugées dangereuses pour la sécurité nationale ou conduire des guerres secrètes contre des ennemis présumés. Oui, la France tue parfois pour régler des comptes. Oui, la France mène clandestinement depuis des décennies, au nom de la protection de ses intérêts, du Moyen-Orient à la Françafrique, des actions meurtrières inavouables : vengeances d'État, assassinats en série, attentats commandités par l'Élysée, guérillas sanglantes, éradication de chefs terroristes, emploi de mercenaires sulfureux ou de services secrets alliés peu regardants... Pour ce faire, la DGSE dispose de son Service Action et, en marge de celui-ci, d'une cellule clandestine dont ce livre retrace l'histoire. Ses agents et des commandos des forces spéciales sont entraînés pour mener à bien ces exécutions ciblées, appelées opération Homo (pour homicide), ainsi que des opérations plus vastes de neutralisation, souvent en marge des conflits déclarés. Les présidents successifs de la Ve République, de De Gaulle à Hollande, ont, chacun à leur manière, recouru à ce type d'actions, même s'ils s'en sont défendus. Au cours d'une enquête de plusieurs années, Vincent Nouzille a recueilli des témoignages exclusifs et des documents inédits. Des acteurs clés qui ont donné ou obtenu ce permis de tuer éclairent ici cette face sombre du pouvoir.

The War on Truth Nafeez Mosaddeq Ahmed, 2005
Author of the acclaimed The War on Freedom widens the discussion of the inconsistencies and contradictions in the government's official version of 9/11 and US policy toward terrorism.

Near East/North Africa Report, 1980

L'Algérie des généraux Lyes Laribi, 2007-05-10
«... cet ouvrage poignant, c'est l'histoire du grand silence algérien.» Florence Aubenas, in Libération, à propos de Dans les geôles de Nezzar, de Lyes Laribi. Depuis son indépendance, l'Algérie est dirigée par des Généraux qui maintiennent le pays dans la guerre civile et la misère. Mais comment fonctionne et perdure ce pouvoir ? Arrêté et torturé en Algérie pour avoir créé un syndicat étudiant libre dans les années 1980, accusé d'islamisme et souvent inquiété depuis, Lyes Laribi a été confronté de près à la Sécurité

Militaire, la police politique de l'État. L'auteur dresse l'historique des querelles internes entre le clan du général Zeroual et celui du général Nezzar : coups d'Etat, combines économiques, crimes politiques qui s'étendent de 1962 à 1999... Aujourd'hui, Lyes Laribi décèle derrière le gouvernement de l'actuel président, Abdelaziz Bouteflika, la main-mise d'un troisième clan de Généraux, prolongement de ces nomenklaturas corrompues. Cette courageuse enquête de l'auteur de Dans les geôles de Nezzar est une critique inédite et passionnée de l'histoire récente de l'Algérie. Une invitation à rendre au peuple algérien la confiance et la parole qui leur ont été confisquées.
