KAUSHIK ROY, PETER LORGE

📖 PIGEON PAIR, CEO’S BURNING LOVE Qiao LuoBai,2020-04-22 Tang Guoguo was pregnant. Baby’s dad was a cool CEO who especially despised her. The first words they said were: Woman, give birth to your child and take the money to leave. She moved into a man’s house to get a baby, and every day she was trembling with fear. In the end, the CEO wasn’t in the right mood. The first day, come over, the husband hugs. The next day, come over. On the third day ... Later, Tang Guoguo lay paralyzed on the bed, powerless to retort: What happened to the money? The man chuckled in her ear. Who said he wanted me? Tang Guoguo: No, get lost! The man snapped his fingers, and a pair of dragon and phoenix fetuses cried out, Mommy will choose daddy! We have as much money as we want!

📖 WATER Brahma Chellaney,2011 Winner of the Asia Society’s Bernard Schwartz 2012 Book Award The battles of yesterday were fought over land. Those of today are over energy. But the battles of tomorrow may be over water. Nowhere is that danger greater than in water-distressed Asia. Water stress is set to become Asia’s defining crisis of the twenty-first century, creating obstacles to continued rapid economic growth, stoking interstate tensions over shared resources, exacerbating long-time territorial disputes, and imposing further hardships on the poor. Asia is home to many of the world’s great rivers and lakes, but its huge population and exploding economic and agricultural demand for water make it the most water-scarce continent on a per capita basis. Many of Asia’s water sources cross national boundaries, and as less and less water is available, international tensions will rise. The potential for conflict is further underscored by China’s unrivaled global status as the source of transboundary river flows to the largest number of countries, ranging from India and Vietnam to Russia and Kazakhstan; yet a fast-rising China has declined to enter into water-sharing or cooperative treaties with these states, even as it taps the resources of international rivers. Water: Asia’s New Battleground is a pioneering study of Asia’s murky water politics and the relationships between fresh water, peace, and security. In this unique and highly readable book, Brahma Chellaney expertly paints a larger picture of water across Asia, highlights the security implications of resource-linked territorial disputes, and proposes real strategies to avoid conflict and more equitably share Asia’s water resources.

📖 CHINESE AND INDIAN WARFARE - FROM THE CLASSICAL AGE TO 1870 Kaushik Roy,Peter Lorge,2014-12-17 This book examines the differences and similarities between warfare in China and India before 1870, both conceptually and on the battlefield. By focusing on Chinese and Indian warfare, the book breaks the intellectual paradigm requiring non-Western histories and cultures to be compared to the West, and allows scholarship on two of the oldest civilizations to be brought together. An international group of scholars compare and contrast the modes and conceptions of warfare in China and India, providing important original contributions to the growing study of Asian military history.
