Lexie's Gift John R. Stoeffler,2022-02-14 Lexie's Gift By: John R. Stoeffler This is the story of a little girl, Lexie, whose best friend's father is in the Army and is called to active duty. Susan, the friend, is so sad that her dad will miss her birthday and Christmas and won't be there to hug, kiss, and tuck her in at night. Lexie wishes she could do something to comfort Susan while her father is away. With a little help, Lexie makes the perfect present for Susan: a pillow with her father's picture on it. Susan is thrilled, and the girls decide to make more picture pillows for others like her. This story is based on a project started in 2008 by the author and his wife. In all, they and their volunteers made and shipped "Sweet Dreams Pillows" to over 13,000 children of deployed members of the U.S. Armed Forces.

Continental Pietism and Early American Christianity F. Ernest Stoeffler,2007-02-01 American has been shaped from a variety of rich traditions, many of which continue to influence her life and institutions. With this pluralistic emphasis in mind, F. Ernest Stoeffler has brought together these essays on Pietism, each written by a scholar with professional interest in the area treated. Without denying the importance of the Puritan heritage on early America, Stoeffler hopes to show that Pietism too made a crucial contribution to American religious life. Contrary to some twentieth-century misconceptions, Pietism was activist, political, social, and educational in orientation. It penetrated mainline denominations like the Lutheran, Reformed, and Mennonite churches. It played an important role in the Brethren and Methodist traditions and in the formation of the Moravian Church. And radical Pietism flourished in a variety of Christian communist communities, like the one at Ephrata. Pietism contributed to religious practice by promoting evangelism, social action on behalf of the poor, and experiential base for religion, a biblical foundation for theology and ethics, the development of Protestant hymnody, ecumenical understanding, and democracy. This study is an important first step toward filling a serious gap in understanding America's religious history.

Soft the Wind of Memory R. Ross Stoeffler,2005-04-06 The poems in this book are simple to read and understand. These poems are written to play on the reader's emotions. They will cause you to reflect on the past, childhood and family. Your emotions will parade before your eyes as you read. You will become nostalgic with longing for things your memory recalls. You will see life through another's eyes with the rhythm of song. There are poems you will want to commit to memory, others you will hide in your heart. Poems to make you laugh and to make you cry and joy in your heart to abound.

Green Eyes Kenneth Stoeffler,2022-11-03 Green Eyes is my adaptation of The Girl With The Green Eyes, by Clyde Fitch. Jinny Tillman is Green Eyes and this refers to her intense jealous nature. The play begins right after her wedding to John Austin when it is revealed that her brother, Geoffrey, had married the maid Maggie when he was in college. However, now that he has entered society, he wants respectability. He's chosen Ruth, Jinny's friend, and bridesmaid, to be his wife. Being stupid, he marries Ruth as well, secretly in a Brooklyn church. This is bigamy of course and Maggie gets word of it and blackmails Geoffrey. Before John and Jinny go off on the Grand Tour for their honeymoon, Geoffrey asks John to help him with his problem. But before they leave Jinny becomes slightly jealous when she sees John speaking with Ruth. The second act is set at the Vatican and opens with tourists admiring the Apollo Belvedere. Jinny and John are having a jolly time, until Ruth arrives. John had sent for her so Geoffrey could go to South Dakota to get a no-fault divorce from Maggie in secret. Ruth's arrival stokes Jinny's suspicions. John warns Jinny that her jealousy is unwarranted and may ruin their relationship if it isn't put in check. They leave Europe early to set up house in New York. In act three, Jinny is bored and lonely, because her friends are still vacationing in the country and in Europe. Maggie is now working for John and Jinny, so John can keep an eye on her. Being alone allows Jinny to stew in her Jealousy. She begins rifling through John's papers. She finds various letters from Ruth which she mistakes for love letters. This leads to a domestic quarrel. Jinny tries to make up to him by buying him tickets to the theater for his birthday. That falls through when John arrives home late from work. Jinny decides to entertain him by reciting a monologue, dancing, and singing to him. Ruth shows up and Jinny is at the height of her jealousy. John can't take it and tells her he's leaving her, which he does.

Magnetic Ultra Thin Films, Multilayers and Surfaces F. Petroff,M.A.M. Gijs,1997-12-18 The Symposium on Magnetic Ultrathin Films, Multilayers and Surfaces, hosted by the European Materials Research Society, was held at the Palais de la Musique et des Congr  in Strasbourg, France on June 4-7, 1996. Its central theme was the relationship of magnetic properties and device performance to structure at the nano and micrometer length scale. Research on the magnetism of surfaces, ultrathin films and multilayers has increased dramatically during recent years. This development was triggered by the discovery of coupling between ferromagnetic layers across nonmagnetic spacer layers and of the giant magnetoresistance effect in systems of reduced dimension using various micro and nanofabrication techniques has become a subject of special interest. It is certainly the promising application potential of these effects in new magnetic recording device geometries which causes this intensive research, which is done both by companies and at universities and research institutes. A selection of invited and contributed papers presented at the Symposium and accepted for publication is contained in this volume. The contents of these proceedings are organized into seven sections. A. Nanowires, Nanoparticles, Nanostructuring B. Ultrathin Films and Surfaces, Characterization C. Giant Magnetoresistance D. Coupling, Tunneling E. Growth, Structure, Magnetism F. Growth, Structure, Magnetoresistance G. Coupling, Magnetic processes, Magneto-optics. The first four sections contain invited and oral contributed papers in the listed research domains, while the last three sections contain the contributions presented during three large poster sessions.
