Invisible Lines Maxim Samson,2024-02-13 An indispensable guide to seeing and understanding our planet through the divisions we make, find, or feel. Our world has innumerable boundaries. They range from the obvious—an ocean, or a mountain range—to subtle differences in language or climate. We cross boundaries all the time, sometimes without realizing it. They can be subjective: our perceptions of a boundary may not be shared by others. And yet they shape the way we engage with the world. Geographer Maxim Samson examines invisible lines, exploring the ways in which we divide this world—from meteorology and ecology to race and religion—and how they allow us to define “insiders” and “outsiders,” to identify places where particular attention and resources are especially urgent, to distinguish between two sides, two groups, two futures. From segregation along Detroit’s infamous 8 Mile to herds of red deer that still refuse to cross the former Iron Curtain, the existence—or perceived existence—of dividing lines has manifold implications for people, wildlife, and places. Vividly written and illustrated with maps, Invisible Lines is a compelling exploration of boundaries in all their consistency, and all their messiness too.

會訊 Newsletter: 地之緣・政與治 Consequences of Geopolitics Maverick Leung,2023-06-19 在現代世界中，兩國捲入衝突的原因可能有很多。可能是因為文化差異，也可能是經濟原因等等......但還有一種很特殊的原因，邊界糾紛。在我們翻開世界地圖的時候，我們總以為國界只是一些線條，建國之後就不會改變，但卻往往不是這樣的。事實上，它們比你想像的更靈活，有些可能會開一個星期會就產生變化；有些可能會一拖再拖，給當地人和兩國之間的國際關係帶來無數問題。在強調和平、理性討論和談判而非軍事衝突解決問題的當今世界，我們有必要認識這些爭端的起源、發展和可能的解決途徑，從而使 世界更美好。這也是幫助聯合國實現可持續發展目標：促進和平和包容的社會（目標16）的一種方式。我們香港大學歷史系系會希望透過這本會訊，可以讓我們的會員和您，對看似愚蠢但實則上具有深遠地緣政治意義的衝突有所認識，讓您可以進一步討論解決這些紛爭的其他方案，並培養你對地緣政治的興趣。 In the modern world, there can be many different reasons to why two countries get involved in a conflict. It can be because of cultural differences, or economical reasons etc... but there exists a kind of very special reason, border disputes. When looking at the world map, we always thought that the borders are just some big, thick and black lines that wouldn’t be changed since the foundation of a nation, but this is often not the case. In fact, they are more flexible than you think, some may be changed after a week’s conference; some may drag on for eternities, creating countless issues to both the locals and the international relationship between the two nations. In the modern world, where we stress on peace and settling problems by the means of discussion and negotiations instead of military conflicts, it is necessary for us to acknowledge the origins, the development and the possible ways to settle these disputes in order to make the world a better place. This is also a way to help the United Nations in achieving the Sustainable Development Goals, namely Goal 16 Promoting peaceful and inclusive societies for sustainable development. We, the History Society of the University of Hong Kong, hope that through this newsletter, awareness of conflicts that may look silly at first, but with deep geopolitical meanings can be raised to our members as well as you, allow you to further investigate on alternative ways to compromise both parties in the argument, and to develop your interest in geopolitics.

Due to heavy rain, there was a continuous interruption in the internet and cable connection.Being an active person, I decided to do something productive. I had collection of some good books in my cupboard. While searching, I happened to come across my old diaries. I am fond of writing poems, quotes, blogs, and stories in Marathi, Hindi, and English. I had received many compliments from my friends and relatives for my writing work. You can read my blogs on this link -https://ables.in/I again started scribbling my thoughts in a book. It was almost 12 pages and still to write more...I immediately took my laptop and started drafting whatever I wrote. After drafting for almost 7 hours, I realized that it was the first draft of my first book. My career has allowed me to interact with many individuals in my life. Being a good learner, I learned many things from them. That experience helped my thought process while drafting my book. It took many days to finalize my book; I am sure one will realize my efforts and good intentions while reading this book. My experience in the medical writing field helped me while drafting, editing, and finalizing my book.Once I completed my book, there were many thoughts regarding the name of the book. Finally, I decided to name it as -'Digging gold out of mine'
