Small Business Information Security Richard Kissel,2010-08 For some small businesses, the security of their information, systems, and networks might not be a high priority, but for their customers, employees, and trading partners it is very important. The size of a small business varies by type of business, but typically is a business or organization with up to 500 employees. In the U.S., the number of small businesses totals to over 95% of all businesses. The small business community produces around 50% of our nation's GNP and creates around 50% of all new jobs in our country. Small businesses, therefore, are a very important part of our nation's economy. This report will assist small business management to understand how to provide basic security for their information, systems, and networks. Illustrations.

It Security Products for Corporate Users Peter Stelzhammer,Andreas Clementi,Thomas Arlt,Philippe Rödlach,2010-11 Most organizations are aware of the risks threatening their IT environment. Viruses, trojans, worms, exploits and many other threats represent a serious danger for the IT department. A collapse of the IT system could mean grave financial losses right up to insolvency for a company. The IT departments of companies are conscious of this problem. Getting the best protection against these threats is the only issue. A simple file antivirus solution alone is totally inadequate, as there are too many threats from contaminated e-mails, exploits etc. What is required is a comprehensive suite that provides protection against all of these. Functional Diversity Because of the immense functional diversity of various antivirus suites and corporate products, it is becoming increasingly difficult for decision-makers in the IT sector to get a proper overview. Which product should one opt for and for which areas of protection? During these tests our main focus has not been on malware detection rates, but on the products' handling and user-friendliness, and the scope of functionality. We have compiled the functional scope of various products in a detailed table. For malware detection rates of individual products please refer to the tests of our website: <http://www.av-comparatives.org>
