In chapter ten I will teach you how to listen to and transcribe any recorded Suspect Paranormal or Paranormal messages into a Microsoft(r) Excel worksheet. Chapter twelve is where I will share and discuss a variety of session types I have recorded to give you an idea how you should expect cases of this type may proceed if you decide to engage a recording session of this type. Lastly in chapter thirteen, I will share with each of you some ideas I have what Radio Sweep (Ghost Box) EVP devices can be used for going forward. Please note that within this book are the names of people that build and sell home made radio sweep - ghost boxes. I am sad to report that two of these box builders have passed away since this book was published. They are Joseph Angelo Cioppi Senior and Frank Sumption Sr. I would like to introduce a radio sweep ghost box builder not mentioned in this book. His name is Andrew Openlander of Chicago Spirit Wave Google him. Andrew like the others builds amazing radio sweep - ghost boxes and he ships worldwide.

The Electronic Ghosts Nathan Toms,2008-05 It is the height of the swinging sixties and Andrew Stein has more important things on his mind than whether there is life after death - that is until he meets Stan, an eccentric old man who is so vehement in his belief in the afterlife that it sparks a flame of curiosity in Stein. Twenty years on, Stein constructs a device to contact an earthbound spirit who calls herself Natasha, without realising the catastrophic chain of events he is about to unleash. Stein finds himself catapulted into the world of EVP (electronic voice phenomenon) which ultimately brings him face to face with supernatural entities. But are these forces benevolent spirits with messages for loved ones or are they malevolent forces, hell-bent on destroying him and all that he holds dear? The novel takes the reader on a roller coaster ride of uncertainty until a crescendo of blood chilling events hurtles towards the terrifying climax.

Electronic Voice Phenomenon J. Andrew Taylor,2013-01-01 Tim Sharp, a sound editor for a mid-west college, had always lived his life as a paradox. Half of his life was spent in tireless pursuit of the next scientific or technological advancement; the other half was usually filled by 'role-playing' and video games, or fantasy novels. He held only a passing interest in the paranormal, but he was at least intrigued by the possibility. When he met Carley Newquist, his two worlds collided with a mind and heart-numbing crash. Both Tim and Carley would remember the day that old Professor Freeman came into the sound editing lab with a mysterious recording and a strange request as the day that changed everything. Old Professor Freeman tells Tim and Carley of a strange incident in a recent class, involving half of his students turning in an assignment late; and they all offer their recordings as proof of what the Professor requested. After interviewing most of the students in class that day, Tim and Carley's investigations are halted by a secretive student who refuses to talk. Is this student the author of an elaborate college hoax? Or does he know more about the mysterious voice than he is admitting? After finally getting the kid to talk, Tim and Carley learn the reason for his silence and evasiveness. He had recognized 'the voice' in class as the same one from one of his 'Ghost Hunting' trips. Armed with this new clue, Tim and Carley begin an investigation both with the group and, more treacherously, individually. The results are a perplexing, terrifying and enlightening roller coaster ride through both this world and the world just on the other side of perception leading to a shocking and edifying conclusion.

Parapsychology Etzel Cardeña,John Palmer,David Marcusson-Clavertz,2015-07-31 Many people have experienced such unusual phenomena as dreams that later seem to correspond with unforeseeable events, thinking of a long-lost friend just before he or she unexpectedly calls, or the ability to feel the presence of deceased loved ones. What many do not realize is that these types of experiences have been researched for more than a century by eminent scientists, including Nobel laureates. Most of these researchers have concluded that some of these phenomena do occur, although we are far from explaining them to everyone's satisfaction. This book is the first in almost 40 years to provide a comprehensive scientific overview of research in the field of parapsychology, explaining what we know and don't know about so-called psi phenomena, such as telepathy, precognition or psychokinesis. Contributors evaluate the evidence for these phenomena, accounting for factors such as selective memory, wish fulfillment and incorrect methods or analyses, in some cases offering psychological, physical and biological theories. Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here.

Electronic Voices: Contact with Another Dimension? Anabela Cardoso,2010 This is the story of a normal woman who experienced the impossible objective contacts with another dimension through loud and clear voices received by electronic means during Instrumental Transcommunication (ITC) experiments. Dr Cardoso, a senior diplomat, describes the astounding experiences that transformed her life since she started ITC research in 1997. She presents extracts of conversations with her deceased loved ones and other personalities who insisted that they live in another world. The level of agreement between communications received by the author and concepts, even words, recorded by other experimenters from Jrgenson and Raudive to contemporary operators, constitutes compelling evidence of the reality of the next world that awaits us all. As communicators from Timestream told Dr Cardoso: The dead pass through here, you pass through here!. Electronic Voices breaks new ground in the literature

Breakthrough: An Amazing Experiment in Electronic Communication with the Dead Konstantin Raudive,2021-09-21 In 2021, the 50th anniversary of the first publication of Breakthrough, What happens after physical death? is still the big question concerning the nature of existence. In his groundbreaking work, psychologist Konstantin Raudive experimented using a communication method known as Electronic Voice Phenomena (EVP), whereby deceased communicators appear to send messages and images via computers, radios, televisions and other electronic devices. In 1959 Swedish artist and filmmaker Friedrich Jurgenson was making a tape recording and during playback he discovered what sounded like a human voice on the tape. He put it down to faulty equipment but when he searched other tapes, he found more voices, which seemed to be messages from his dead mother. Jurgenson recounted the experience in a book titled Voices from Space. The book impressed Raudive and subsequently he and Jurgenson collaborated for a time and encountered more voices. Later, Raudive undertook his own research amassing a collection of thousands of voice recordings and in 1968 his work was published in German under the title, Unhörbares Wird Hörbar (The Inaudible Becomes Audible). In 1969 after being approached at the Frankfurt Book Fair, British publisher Colin Smythe asked his colleague Peter Bander to assess Raudive's book with a view to publishing it in English, and, unbeknown to Bander, did his own experiments with positive results. Since that time Jurgenson and Raudive's experiments have been replicated thousands of times by researchers and enthusiasts all over the world and Breakthrough remains a classic in the genre. The communicators overriding message? We are not dead!

Electronic Projects from the Next Dimension Newton C. Braga,2001 For years paranormal scientists have explored the detection and documentation of spirits, auras, ESP, hypnosis, and many more phenomena through electronics. Electronic Projects from the Next Dimension provides useful information on building practical circuits and projects, and applying the knowledge to unique experiments in the paranormal field. The author writes about dozens of inexpensive projects to help electronics hobbyists search for and document their own answers about instrumental transcommunication (ITC), the electronic voice phenomenon (EVP), and paranormal experiments involving ESP, auras, and Kirlian photography. Although paranormal studies are considered esoteric, Electronic Projects from the Next Dimension teaches the technical skills needed to make devices that can be used in many different kinds of experiments. Each section indicates how the circuit can be used in paranormal experiments with suggestions about procedures and how to analyze the results. Provides unique projects for believers and skeptics Perfect for any level of electronics experience Learn from these basics projects and design your own applications
