Professional Windows 7 Development Guide John Paul Mueller,2011-01-25 Demystify the move from Windows XP to Windows 7! Professional Windows 7 discusses all of the major new features in Windows 7, describes why the developer would want to use them, investigates the user implications of these new features, and then shows how to develop applications using them. This book focuses on the practical—which features does the developer need to know about immediately to gain the most value from Windows 7. The goal is to create a book that doesn't waste a lot of pages on fluff or features that the developer will never use. The developer will be able to go to a particular chapter, determine what a new technology requires to use, and then use the sample application as a basis for moving applications to Windows 7 or to create new applications that use Windows 7 features. Describes all the new user interface features and shows how to use them. Demystifies the security features that Windows 7 provides. Shows how to develop efficient applications that rely on 64-bit techniques and parallel processing. Demonstrates the strength of Windows PowerShell and how to create applications for it.

Future Network Systems and Security Robin Doss,Selwyn Piramuthu,Wei Zhou,2016-10-13 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the Second International Conference on Future Network Systems and Security, FNSS 2016, held in Paris, France, in November 2016. The 12 full papers and one short paper presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 34 submissions. The papers focus on the technology, communications, systems and security aspects of relevance to the network of the future.

Coordination, Organizations, Institutions, and Norms in Agent Systems IX Tina Balke, Frank Dignum,M. Birna van Riemsdijk,Amit K. Chopra,2014-06-03 This book constitutes the thoroughly refereed proceedings of the 9th International Workshops on Coordination, Organizations, Institutions and Norms in Agent Systems, COIN 2013. The workshops were co-located with AAMAS 2013, held in St. Paul, MN, USA in May 2013, and with PRIMA 2013, held in Dunedin, New Zealand, in December 2013. The 18 full papers were carefully reviewed and selected from 28 submissions and are presented together with two invited papers. The papers are organized in topical sections such as coordination, organizations, institutions, norms, norm conflict, and norm-aware agents.

The Southern Wall of the Temple Mount and Its Corners Yuval Baruch,2023

Distributed Cooperative Laboratories: Networking, Instrumentation, and Measurements Franco Davoli,Sergio Palazzo,Sandro Zappatore,2006-07-02 This book is devoted to the investigation of the main issues related to the sustainable realization of tele-laboratories, where real and virtual instrumentation can be shared and used in a collaborative environment. The book contains peer reviewed chapters and each presents a self-contained treatment within a framework providing an up-to-date picture of the state-of-the-art and of the most recent developments of this multi-faceted topic.

DSS for Precision Agriculture Using Geo-ICT & WSN Technologies Sudharsan Dhanachandran,2013 Recent technological developments allowed to envision the low-power (solar power) and low-cost (open hardware) sensor devices (AgriSen/FieldServer/Flux Tower/FieldTwitter) with multi-mode (zigbee/Wifi/3G/WebGIS) information & communication technologies (ICTs), a model on which is christened as GeoSense. Integrating these multi-mode and multi-level communication systems with distributed ambient sensory network location based service (LBS) is a challenging task, which could be a potential technology for monitoring various natural phenomena. This integrated model is introduced to provide and assist the rural stakeholders with real-time decision support system (DSS) with dynamic information and modeling services for precision agriculture through GeoSense cloud service. This GeoSense research has been experimented in semi-arid tropics in India.

Smart Agriculture for Developing Nations Kandiah Pakeerathan, 2023-03-08 This book in its eighteen chapters provides sustainable and smart technology-based solutions to developing nations. Smart farming is growing in importance due to the increasing demand for higher crop yield, the need for using natural resources efficiently, the rising use and sophistication of information and communication technology and the increasing need for climate-smart agriculture. Some of these chapters deal with the applications of smart agriculture to address the special challenges of the Small Island Developing States for sustainable agriculture. The book brings together scientific communities from India, Indonesia, Iraq, Malaysia, Mauritius, Myanmar, Palestine, Sri Lanka and South Africa to share their expertise to make the farming system more connected and intelligent. The smart farming techniques shared in different chapters not only help to reduce the overall cost and improve the quality and quantity of products but altogether help improve the sustainability of agriculture in the developing world. 'Smart Farming' is a management concept focused on providing the agricultural industry with the infrastructure to leverage advanced technologies—including artificial intelligence (AI), big data, robotics, drones and Internet of Things (IoT)—for tracking, monitoring, automating and analyzing operations. Sometimes known as precision agriculture, smart farming is software managed and sensor monitored.

Digital Social Studies William B. Russell, 2013-12-01 The world is ever changing and the way students experience social studies should reflect the environment in which they live and learn. Digital Social Studies explores research, effective teaching strategies, and technologies for social studies practice in the digital age. The digital age of education is more prominent than ever and it is an appropriate time to examine the blending of the digital age and the field of social studies. What is digital social studies? Why do we need it and what is its purpose? What will social studies look like in the future? The contributing authors of this volume seek to explain, through an array of ideas and visions, what digital social studies can/should look like, while providing research and rationales for why digital social studies is needed and important. This volume includes twenty-two scholarly chapters discussing relevant topics of importance to digital social studies. The twenty-two chapters are divided into two sections. This stellar collection of writings includes contributions from leading scholars like Cheryl Mason Bolick, Michael Berson, Elizabeth Washington, Linda Bennett, and many more.

The Joy of Geocaching Paul Gillin, Dana Gillin, 2010-04-01 Describing the exciting and adventurous world surrounding geocaching--a worldwide hunt in which treasures are located using global positioning system (GPS) devices--this book offers an understanding and application of the principles and best practices of the game. What's different is that the authors wrap this knowledge in a tapestry of human stories that range from hilarious to touching. Paul and Dana Gillin interviewed 40 of the world's 50 most prolific geocachers as well as experts in container design, extreme geocaching and other dimensions of the game. They tell how this global activity inspires passion that has helped people heal frayed marriages, establish new friendships--and even save lives.

The Making and Remaking of Australasia Tony Ballantyne, 2022-11-03 This book explores the emergence of 'Australasia' as a way of thinking about the culture and geography of this region. Although it is frequently understood to apply only to Australia and New Zealand, the concept has a longer and more complicated history. 'Australasia' emerged in the mid-18th century in both French and British writing as European empires extended their reach into Asia and the Pacific, and initially held strong links to the Asian continent. The book shows that interpretations and understandings of 'Australasia' shifted away from Asia in light of British imperial interests in the 19th century, and the concept was adapted by varying political agendas and cultural visions in order to reach into the Pacific or towards Antarctica. The Making and Remaking of Australasia offers a number of rich case studies which highlight how the idea itself was adapted and moulded by people and texts both in the southern hemisphere and the imperial metropole where a range of competing actors articulated divergent visions of this part of the British Empire. An important contribution to the cultural history of the British Empire, Australia, New Zealand and Pacific Studies, this collection shows how 'Australasia' has had multiple, often contrasting, meanings.

Embracing the Song of Appearance: An Emotional Symphony within Geosense

In a global used by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of quick connection, the melodic splendor and mental symphony produced by the prepared term frequently disappear in to the background, eclipsed by the relentless sound and disruptions that permeate our lives. However, set within the pages of Geosense a charming literary value brimming with natural emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a masterful musician of language, that fascinating masterpiece conducts viewers on a psychological journey, skillfully unraveling the concealed tunes and profound affect resonating within each cautiously crafted phrase. Within the depths with this moving analysis, we can discover the book is key harmonies, analyze its enthralling writing type, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
