Mesopotamia in the Ancient World Robert Rollinger,Erik van Dongen,2015-04-07 The Melammu Project, founded in 1998, organized five successive conferences and a sixth in 2008. Melammu Symposia 7 now represents a new dawn for the project publishing the contributions of the meeting in Obergurgl in November 2013. This time it will not be an isolated event: Further conferences have already taken place and been planned (Kiel 2014, Helsinki and Tartu 2015, Kassel 2016, and Beirut 2017), the project board has been renewed, reinvigorated and rejuvenated, and plans are underway for a thorough reworking and updating of the project database. Its focus (now slightly reworded to be somewhat wider) is to investigate the continuity, transformation and diffusion of Mesopotamian and Ancient Near Eastern culture from the third millennium BCE through the ancient world until Islamic times (quoted from the Melammu Project website). Of course, Mesopotamia was not the source of all culture; but it was an important area in ancient history, that without doubt deserves such a project, dedicated to the study of its cultural impact and heritage. This volume assembles 42 contributions devoted to the topics Prayers and Incantations, Foreign Reception of Mesopotamian Objects, The Use of Literary Figures of Speech, Mesopotamia and the World, The World of Politics, Iran and Early Islam, and Representations of Power.

Jewish Liturgy as a Spiritual System Arnold Rosenberg, 2000-06-30 Readers of this book will emerge with a new awareness of what we as Jews are doing when we pray, why we are doing it, how we are supposed to be affected by prayer, how the prayers came to be as they are today, and how they differ among the major movements of American Judaism.

The traditional Jewish liturgy, if properly understood, is a deep and powerful technique for spiritual transformation. However, spiritual depth of prayer has been progressively reduced over the past 2000 years as the underlying currents of the Siddur, the Jewish prayerbook, have been lost to the majority of worshippers. This book explains the Jewish liturgy prayer by prayer, according to what, in the context of ancient and medieval Judaism, was its raison d'être: a structure for transforming one's mind and way of life. The author writes: The crisis Judaism now faces, while genuine, is due not to a lack of depth in the traditional Jewish prayer service, but to a profound and almost universal lack of understanding of that prayer service that pervades all segments of the Jewish community. Jewish prayer services in many contemporary synagogues lack spiritual fervor because the linkage between word and ritual, on the one hand, and mental transformation on the other, that would generate such fervor is not generally known to Jewish adults and is not taught to Jewish children. Unfortunately, the prayer service regularly degenerates into a race through words and gestures divorced from the sequence of mental states and visualizations through which these words and gestures were intended to lead us. This book was written to reunite the activity and language of prayer with its original transformative goal, by educating worshippers about what is at the heart of the siddur. Several chapters provide an overview of the Jewish prayer service and its spiritual flow. These chapters explain the visualizations, allusions, and meditative techniques that form the heart of the service and the altered states of consciousness through which the service ca

A Time to Share Norbert Weinberg, 2017-06-30 A Time to Share is a collection of blogs written over the course of several decades, divided according to the following categories: childhood memories, the cycle of life, the Jewish calendar, rabbinic musings, Jewish concepts, Torah and Talmudic insights, Jewish history and the land of Israel, and observations. The book is a veritable symphony of memorable anecdotes, captivating essays, and profound thoughts, reflecting a lifetime of experiences of a modern Orthodox American rabbi who is a staunch Zionist with deep-seated faith and eternal optimism. The book includes an analysis of many minhagim (Jewish customs), such as the parental Sabbath blessing of children, a glimpse into responsa literature, a critique of select Jewish events and themes, a fresh look at some familiar biblical stories and characters, and much more. Readers will enjoy the engaging style infused with poignancy, warmth, and a sprinkling of humor and will be inspired by the wisdom and life lessons contained within. This is a book to display on your coffee table, to browse through from time to time, and to share with family and friends.

The Sky Bora Time Bahram Mojarrabi, 2024-04-19 This book explores the rich spiritual and cultural traditions of the First Nations, particularly the Gubbi-Gubbi and Jinibara peoples, through narratives gathered from respected Elders and integrated with modern research. By focusing on the First Passage Time, which is a critical measure of community growth and spiritual advancement, we can shed light on the contributions made by Indigenous Australia to the progress of the world civilization. The work emphasizes the significance of collective learning and the interdependence of spiritual systems that contribute to the well-being and growth of the First Nations community. The spiritual importance placed on the Rainbow Serpents and the Sky Bora Time canopies is deeply ingrained in these systems. The text focuses on documenting the resilience and developmental milestones of these tribes residing in the Sunshine Coast, Noosa, Caboolture, and Moreton Bay areas. By doing so, it seeks to offer valuable insights that can help foster a culture of shared learning and deepen our understanding of the principles that underlie the continuous progress of civilization.

Aesthetics of Presence Willmar Sauter, 2020-12-01 In the field of aesthetic experiences, presence must be seen as mental activities such as attention, curiosity, and participation. The mere physical 'being-there' guarantees no aesthetic responses to artistic or natural appearances. When aesthetics became part of the discourse in eighteenth-century Enlightenments philosophy, the beholder was the centre of interest: how observations turned into aesthetic experiences. In this book, the spectator, reader, listener and viewer have again become the focus of scholarly attention, replacing the century-long dominance of the artwork as exclusive object of aesthetics. In the light of such historical observations, the book develops central aspects of an aesthetics of presence, and introduces, interfoliated with cases of aesthetic experiences in arts and theatre, cities and nature, new parameters of presence. Perceiving, playing, placing and performing are explored and systematised here as theoretical cornerstones of a renewed 'Aesthetics of Presence'.
