The AGP System William Guy, Thomas A.

Ban, 2012-12-06 Among the more frequently quoted epidemiological facts in current public health discussions are: (a) the elderly today represent about 10% of the population of the industrialized world; (b) the third world nations are moving in the same direction; (c) the trend toward a growing proportion of the aged in the world population will continue over the next few decades; (d) people over 80 now represent the fastest growing sector in North America; (e) in the elderly, general morbidity - and particularly morbidity of the central nervous system - is many times that in the younger population; (f) 5% of those over 65 years of age and 20% of those over 80 suffer from some degree of dementia. A global tidal wave of patients suffering from Alzheimer's disease (or senile dementia) is threatening to engulf us by the year 2000. This disease, which is, at our present state of knowledge, irreversible, and other age-related dementias are perhaps the most sinister forms of any disability. They deprive their victims not only of their physical capacities but also of their autonomy and their ability to think and to make decisions for themselves. The future cost of psychogeriatric diseases in terms of suffering for individuals, stress for families, demand for manpower, and budgetary requirements for governments could become astronomical.

A Report Upon the Missouri, Kansas & Texas

Railway System John William Kendrick, 1917

The Founder of Opus Dei: The Life of Josemaría Escrivá, Volume II Andres Vazquez de Prada, 2017-03-31 This second volume of the three-volume biography of St. Josemaría covers one of the most remarkable periods of his life: from the outbreak of the civil war in 1936 to his departure for Rome in 1946. In Republican Spain fierce anti-Catholic persecution led St. Josemaría to do his priestly work in secret, fully aware that if caught, he would be executed - as were 6000 other priests. This book recounts the saint's dangerous journey across the Pyrenees to the Nationalist zone, where he could exercise his priestly ministry more freely, his tireless labors to counter (with both heroic charity and determination) the slanders that threatened to overwhelm Opus Dei, and more. Here is an unforgettable picture of the saint's activity during the years of crisis that threatened to obliterate his great gift to the church: Opus Dei.
