The Complete Guide to Church Management M. L. Donnellan, M. DIV Rev Alan P. Naumann, 2011-07-01 Proponents of the we've-always-done-it-this-way theory of church management will not need this book. But, pastors and lay leaders open to changes in the management of their churches will find in this handbook proven strategies to help them achieve their missions. When I graduated from seminary, I had a pretty good handle on how to speak and lead, but not a clue as to how to manage our church. This book should fill that need quite well. I recommend it. Dr. Ben Bond, First Baptist Church, Clermont, FL This is a complete and helpful guide for church administration for pastors and lay persons. I wish it were available when I began my ministry in 1964. Pastor J. Kenneth Laber, International Interim Pastor, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America Marilyn L. How to Lead a Church to Reach People and Grow Robert A. Young, 2009-05 This book presents a unique approach to church growth. It is written mainly to help churches that are declining, but will help all churches. The underlying premise is that churches do not grow and reach new people because they do not know how, or because they are so poorly structured and organized that they spend most of their time and efforts in conflict. This disrupts the fellowship and leaves very little time and energy for reaching new people. The subtitle could be, Fifteen Essential Steps To Growth- Basic growth and administrative principles. The combining of these areas makes this a unique book. Young has brought together these basic elements, from over 40 years of experience. . The book is a practical guide for a local church to follow to function efficiently and effectively, and reach people for Christ. When the steps are followed, and in the proper order, the church can pretty well be assured of growth and effective ministry. Dr. Robert A. Young is currently President of Samuelite Corp., Church Outreach and Consulting. He served as Associate Pastor/Administration of Walnut Street Baptist Church, Louisville, KY, and Park Cities Baptist Church, Dallas, TX, and President of the National Association of Church Business Administration. He has conducted Total Church Consultations and Capital Fund Campaigns for churches of all sizes and denominations. He is now available to serve churches as a consultant in these areas. He is also the author of The Development of A Church Manual of Administrative Policies.

Honor to the Great Head of the Church Margarett W. Williams
Ed.D., 2021-08-11 Honor to the Great Head of the Church A Transformational Model for Church Leadership, Administration, and Management This Volume One of the Transformational Church Administration Series is support for the organized church to stay on Christ's message of redemption He has set for the church. Its purpose is to share passion for a committed focus on God's ordained purpose and mission for His church. Church leaders are encouraged throughout the volume to adhere to theological principles for continued devotion to God's one true mission. That message is that Christ is God's mission. Christ is God's only mission for the church, the people of God. The church exists only as it participates in the act of Christ. Chapter by chapter, the book communicates the necessity to intentionally combine God's divine mission as presented from biblical theology with practical applications of organizational leadership and management. The critical shift with this book apart for other resources highlighting the works of church administration is the acknowledgements that for the church to remain under the Lordship of Christ; the church must be in a continued pursuit to seek Jesus the Christ in all engagements of worship, administration, management and service. The Lord's purpose of redemption from sin and death has to remain front and central in every ministry, in all programmatic formats, and every service project represented by the church. God's call to redeem lost man unto salvation and discipleship is highlighted as functions to be grounded through participation in service models and organization. Learners come to view leadership and administration from a scriptural context. As a result, leadership theories and principles of management accurately operate with results that brings edification to the glory of God in all matters of church leadership for administration.

Minding His Business Don Corder, 2015-08-07 The church is not a business—but it often has to conduct aspects of business. When a church needs a lawyer, it hires a lawyer. When it needs a plumber, it hires a plumber. But when it comes to making business decisions, it typically doesn't consult someone with business expertise. Instead, it convenes well-meaning but often inexperienced volunteers to form a committee that takes a month to make a decision about which color to paint the nursery. Conducting business this way is a vision killer that drains the passion out of creative, relational pastors and ministry leaders. Bottom line: The modern church is being poorly managed but does not know it. The level of inefficiency and waste in today's churches is staggering. Minding His Business was written specifically for churches to convey basic business wisdom, management principles, and the best business practices. Unlike intimidating business textbooks, it includes forty short vignettes designed to be read like a daily devotional. Each chapter deals with everyday challenges and offers real-life examples—derived from the author's more than thirty years of experience—that show how to (and sometimes how not to) handle each situation of conducting business for the church. Are you minding His business?

Mastering Church Management Don Cousins, Leith Anderson, Arthur H. DeKruyter, 1990 The mastering ministry series brings together some of the best minds on specific areas of pastoral ministry and presents their insights in a readable, personal way. Each book is co-authored by three church leaders recognized for their experience and expertise. The mastering ministry series is co-published by Leadership, Christianity Today, Inc., and Multnomah.

Leading and Managing Your Church Carl F. George, Robert E. Logan, 1987 As Carl George and Bob Logan well know, this mentality is changing. Studies of growing churches show that the leadership role of the pastor is a key to church vitality. The ideal role of the church-growth pastor is now being described as an equipper, rather than an enabler. This implies pastoral initiative in setting goals, obtaining goal ownership from the people, and mobilizing the laity for effective ministry aimed at accomplishing the goals.

Church Quality Patricia Lotich, 2014-03-09 Quality management - a discipline that started in the manufacturing industry has migrated to service industries such as hospitality, hotels and health care. As these industries have embraced quality management practices, we as consumers have developed higher expectations for positive, error-free service experiences. Because of this phenomenon, there is increased pressure on non-profit and church organizations to make excellence a guiding principle of managing operations - and who more than then the church should be doing things with excellence! This book is perfect for anyone who manages the day-to-day operations of a non-profit, ministry or church. With easy to understand illustrations, this book provides practical steps to improve how the process of work gets done. Whether the process is improving the process to recruit, train and schedule volunteers, or streamlines the children's ministry check-in process, this book offers practical tips and tools with real life examples and much more!

Church Administration God's Way: Providing Ministry to the Ministry Donna G. Warren, 2019-05 You are invited to examine Church Administration God's Way because it is a church administration and leadership book that provides a direct correlation between what is needed administratively, what the Bible says we should be doing, and why we should be doing it. Until we have achieved the unity and maturity described in Ephesians 4:12-13, we need to continue to do His work and build up the Church, the Body of Christ. This book is designed to assist you in meeting that mandate. I hope it is a blessing to you, your ministry, and your ministry team. Bishop Donna G. Warren is especially gifted in the areas of Administration and Leadership Development. For the past 30 years she has worked with churches of varying sizes including one with over 10,000 members to assist them in meeting their administrative and planning needs. After working for the Federal Government for over 40 years, she retired to Richmond, VA. She is now president of DGW Consulting Group that not only works with churches and non-profits on their administrative needs, but she also consults with aviation-related organizations in meeting their environmental requirements in compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA).

Inside the Large Congregation Susan Beaumont, 2011-10-25 For five years, Alban Institute senior consultant Susan Beaumont has been giving voice to the organizational and leadership demands of large congregations. Through her work, she has identified five basic leadership systems that need to stay in alignment for the large church to function well for its size: clergy leadership roles, staff team design and function, governance and board function, acculturation and the role of laity, and forming and executing strategy. She has also learned that these five systems operate with some important but subtle distinctions in what Beaumont calls the professional church (400-800 in worship attendance), the strategic church (800-1,200), and the matrix church (1,200-2,000). Often, she has discovered, problems in a large congregation are related to the fact that one or more of the five systems is inappropriately structured for the size of the congregation. In other words, the church isn't acting its size. Beaumont is invested in helping large congregations 'rightsize' their leadership systems to better serve their ministry context. This book articulates why size matters and how it matters in the world of large congregations. It is written for anyone who wants to better understand the leadership and organizational dynamics of the large church anyone seeking to understand the challenges of leading from inside the large congregation.
