The Gentle Art of Swedish Death Cleaning

Margareta Magnusson, 2018-01-02 The basis for the wonderfully funny and moving TV series developed by Amy Poehler and Scout Productions A charming, practical, and unsentimental approach to putting a home in order while reflecting on the tiny joys that make up a long life. In Sweden there is a kind of decluttering called döstädning, dö meaning "death" and städning meaning "cleaning." This surprising and invigorating process of clearing out unnecessary belongings can be undertaken at any age or life stage but should be done sooner than later, before others have to do it for you. In The Gentle Art of Swedish Death Cleaning, artist Margareta Magnusson, with Scandinavian humor and wisdom, instructs readers to embrace minimalism. Her radical and joyous method for putting things in order helps families broach sensitive conversations, and makes the process uplifting rather than overwhelming. Margareta suggests which possessions you can easily get rid of (unworn clothes, unwanted presents, more plates than you'd ever use) and which you might want to keep (photographs, love letters, a few of your children's art projects). Digging into her late husband's tool shed, and her own secret drawer of vices, Margareta introduces an element of fun to a potentially daunting task. Along the way readers get a glimpse into her life in Sweden, and also become more comfortable with the idea of letting go.

Angela Brown, 2016-03-09 Start a house cleaning business with this step-by-step guide and be up and running in one week. Back in the olden days before the internet was really popular and you could Google search anything, there was trial and error. If you wanted to start a house cleaning business from scratch you could, but it was rarely an overnight success for anybody. Big success was tossed to the cleaning service franchisees who could afford the fancy training, and well-built brands, while the mom and pop cleaning services were left to figure it out on their own. Good news - times have changed. As an independent house cleaner, you no longer have to wade through endless Pinterest boards for tips and ideas on how to start a house cleaning business. Angela Brown built from scratch one of the most successful independently owned and operated house cleaning companies in the Southeastern United States. If you are serious about success in the cleaning service industry, you should sign up for her free tips, tricks and time saving hacks by joining the Savvy Cleaner email list at: savvycleaner.com/tips and you follow her blog at: AskaHouseCleaner.com She has trained a multitude of independent house cleaners how to take their business from day one through expansion and enormous growth. In this step-by-step guide she'll show you: How to set up your home office What office supplies you are going to need Ideas for your company logo How to choose your company name How to choose a uniform Tips on creating your company image and brand How to set your rules and policies How to choose a territory Everything you need to know about creating flyers, worksheets and why you need them. (There is a reason they call Angela Brown The House Cleaning Guru.) If you're here because you have an interest in house cleaning or in upgrading your life and you want to start a house cleaning business, welcome. House cleaning business is a 49 billion dollar a year industry that is nearly recession proof - when times get hard, people work more hours to pay the bills, they have less time at home to clean, so they outsource their cleaning - which means more business for you and me. Another awesome reason to start a house cleaning business is this: unlike a regular 9 to 5 job if you get fired, you're not out of work. You simply add another customer into your new available time slot and keep going. And you will learn here how to do such an amazing job, that you will never get fired, and your clients will never want you to leave. Franchise or Start a house cleaning business? start with the motivation. Decluttering the house requires time and work and it won't be good if you aren't well motivated towards it. The tiredness may cause you to give it up and to avoid this, you need motivation to stay put on your tasks. The best motivation for me is that I know that when I clean the house, I'll find many things that I don't like or need anymore. I'll either give off these items off to charity or I'll sell them or I'll just throw them out. This will make up so much more space and I will be able to then buy things that I actually need!
