Prehistoric Fisherfolk of Oman: The Neolithic Village of Ras Al-Hamra RH-5 Lapo Gianni Marcucci,Emilie Badel,Francesco

Genchi,2021-08-26 Reports on excavations at the prehistoric site Ras Al-Hamra RH-5, located in the Qurum area of Muscat. The site dates from the late 5th to the end of the 4th millennia BC and comprises an accumulation of superimposed food discards deriving from continuous and repeated subsistence activities such as fishing, collecting shells, hunting and herding.

Time to Fly Eileen Robertson Hamra,2020-04-21 Reality, as Eileen Robertson Hamra perceived it, instantaneously altered the moment authorities confirmed that the plane her husband was piloting had crashed, and he had not survived. Three days before Christmas 2011 and just two miles from her parents’ home, Eileen Roberston Hamra’s husband, Brian, died alone, flying his own airplane. Overnight, Eileen lost the man she loved, and her three young children lost their father. Brian’s parents lost their son, his younger sister lost her big brother, and hundreds of people working across the globe in the tech and solar energy industries lost their mentor, their leader, their guide. Al Gore sent his condolences. After holding bicoastal celebrations of Brian’s life, for weeks, months, a year, Eileen and her children wrapped themselves in his clothing, and cocooned. Each night, under the balmy black-blue skies of Southern California, they cried, hugged, and pressed forward in ways they knew Brian would have wanted them to. Through the rollercoaster ride of loss and mourning, they were buoyed by friends, teachers, strangers, angels, and of course, family. Despite the dark sense of having been gutted, in fact because of the shadowy pangs of emptiness she experienced, Eileen learned new ways in which to shine a light and make her way toward feeling whole again. She transformed longing and loneliness into wisdom and wonder. She became more patient, compassionate, balanced, joyful, and loving than she had ever thought possible. Time to Fly is the story of how one woman chose to view the tragedy of her husband’s death as an opportunity to strengthen the bond with her children, and to wake up to her life’s purpose. It is one woman’s high-flying and turbulent journey to taking full possession of her potential by breaking beyond what she thought she would, should, and could do. Eileen Robertson Hamra moved through grief toward healing via a tough and magical spiritual awakening. Making a series of conscious choices and paying attention to a string of “coincidences” and otherworldly signs, she eventually met another wonderful man, Mike. They fell in love, got married, and set a well-respected IVF clinic record by giving birth to a miracle child when Eileen was forty-six years old. Time to Fly is a memoir not only for the bereaved and those who support them, but for anyone who believes in the power of finding the silver lining in the darkest of situations and holding on to that sliver of light, in order to turn things around. We do not have complete control over our limited time on this remarkable planet, and so in the time we do have, we must hold one another, build softness alongside resilience, and write our own flight plan

Hamra Meryem Arfaoui,2017-12-18 Je suis la crasse dans la pierre. La rouille dans la lumière. Le cri dans le goutte à goutte. Parasite du calcaire que j'ai essuyé, j'empêche le vide de grossir par mes traits. Je suis le vide dans le vide, le noir dans le noir. C'est moi qui dessine les ombres au tableau, les volutes dans le marbre, je suis l'ombre. Du plomb oxydé, du fer trempé. Je suis la pierre dans les murs de pierres, le bois des nouveaux foyers. Et je sais, parce que je me suis vu, que j'ai existé. Dans ces toilettes sales, j'ai existé.

Composite Rhytidectomy Sam T Hamra,1993-07-01 This clinical atlas and CD combination provides the ideal educational mix for learning the technique for rhytidectomy. Heavily illustrated throughout, the volume reflects Dr. Hamra’s vast experience in aesthetic facial surgery. The book documents photographically and artistically the operative steps for this extensive face lift as well as techniques for aesthetic improvements to the chin, neck, nose, and skin. Postoperative results for each of these procedures are demonstrated, with special insights into the tips and tricks that help Dr. Hamra achieve the most aesthetic appearance for his patients. The CD-ROM, winner of the 1991 ASAPS Award for Best Video, is sold with the book. Women and Community in Oman Christine Eickelman,1984-12 Before 1970 Oman was one of teh more isolated countries on the Arab peninsula. The growth of the oil economy during the seventies, however, has brought rapid change to the small towns and villages that make up the country. In Women and Community in Oman Chritine Eickelman captures the tone and feel of this desert culture on the verge of substantial, and probably irreversible, change. During 1979 and 1980 she lived in Hamra, an oasis of 2,500 persons and the capital of the Abriyin tribe. Situated on the western edge of the Jabal al-Akhdar region of inner Oman, this was formerly one of the most inaccessible areas of the peninsula. Eickelman lived there among the people of Hamra, visiting Omani, this was formerly one of the most inaccessible areas of the peninsula. Eickelman lived there among the people of Hamra, visiting Omani homes, and speaking daily with the men and women - especially the women. The result is a lively and very personal firsthand account of day-to-day life in the Omani interior. The book looks at the practical changes in the life of the Omanis, and at the roles, concerns, and aspirations of the women there. Eickelman explores key concepts in the Omani community and family life, from choosing a spouse and negotiating a marriage to giving birth and raising children; from work and status within the community to rituals, mores and sociability in the neighborhood. Eickelman's study stands as a discriminateing and sympathetic view of a sturdily independent culture. This perceptive and informative account will be of lasting importance and interest to Middle East specialists, anthroupoligists, those concerned with women's studies, and to al persons who want to learn more about the implications of political and social change in the Third World.

Dr. Hamra's timely book reflects his two decades of leadership and this beautifully illustrated book contains many case studies and photographic histories from grateful and youthful looking patients.
