Radiology in Global Health Daniel J. Mollura,Matthew P. Lungren,2014-07-02 The World Health Organization stated that approximately two-thirds of the world's population lacks adequate access to medical imaging. The scarcity of imaging services in developing regions contributes to a widening disparity of health care and limits global public health programs that require imaging. Radiology is an important component of many global health programs, including those that address tuberculosis, AIDS-related disease, trauma, occupational and environmental exposures, breast cancer screening, and maternal-infant health care. There is a growing need for medical imaging in global health efforts and humanitarian outreach, particularly as an increasing number of academic, government, and non-governmental organizations expand delivery of health care to disadvantaged people worldwide. To systematically deploy clinical imaging services to low-resource settings requires contributions from a variety of disciplines such as clinical radiology, epidemiology, public health, finance, radiation physics, information technology, engineering, and others. This book will review critical concepts for those interested in managing, establishing, or participating in a medical imaging program for resource-limited environments and diverse cross-cultural contexts undergoing imaging technology adaptation.

Dieser Band bietet verschiedene Perspektiven auf diese Konstellationen: Produzenten aus der Kulturwirtschaft kommen mit ihren Bestandsaufnahmen zu Wort. Nutzer sehen und behandeln die Dinge wieder anders als die Macher. Reflektoren hingegen sortieren, debattieren und kartografieren das Geschehen. Besonders im Fokus: der Kosmos Berlin. Hart treffen hier die Kräfte aufeinander. Was passiert in der Kulturwirtschaft dieser Stadt? Ist das komplexe Spiel der Kräfte steuerbar? Ob Musik, Lifestyle oder Clubszene - den sozialen, politischen und kulturellen Gravitationsfeldern ist auch im Pop nicht zu entkommen.

New Computing Techniques In Physics Research Iii - Proceedings Of The 3rd International Workshop On Software Engineering, Ai And Expert Systems For High Energy And Nuclear Physics K H Becks,Denis Perret-gallix,1994-02-04 No basic or applied physics research can be done nowadays without the support of computing systems, ranging from cheap personal computers to large multi-user mainframes. Some research fields like high energy physics would not exist if computers had not been invented. Departing from the more conventional numerical applications, this series of workshops has been initiated to focus on Artificial Intelligence (AI) related developments, such as symbolic manipulation for lengthy and involved algebraic computations, software engineering to assist groups of developers in the design, coding and maintenance of large packages, expert systems to mimic human reasoning and strategy in the diagnosis of equipment or neural networks to implement a model of the brain to solve pattern recognition problems. These techniques, developed some time ago by AI researchers, are confronted by down-to-earth problems arising in high-energy and nuclear physics. All this and more are covered in these proceedings.
