Future Multimedia Networking Andreas Mauthe, Sherali Zeadally, Eduardo Cerqueira, Marília Curado, 2009-06-23 It is our great pleasure to welcome you to the Second International Workshop on Future Multimedia Networking (FMN). Following the first successful workshop (held in Cardiff, Wales) in 2008, this year's workshop continues the tradition of being a premier forum that gives researchers and practitioners a unique opportunity to share their experiences and discuss state-of-the-art research results and major recent accomplishments in the area of multimedia networking. In recent years, real-time multimedia services have contributed extensively to our life experience and are expected to be among the most important applications in the future Internet. The management of content distribution services and the efficient delivery of real-time multimedia services over diverse and heterogeneous wired and wireless systems remain a significant challenge for future multimedia networking systems. This year's workshop focused on various aspects of multimedia systems, content networking, and autonomous communication. A specific emphasis was placed on upcoming autonomic content networks and technologies that contribute to their development. The call for papers attracted 64 submissions from 32 countries for the main workshop. The Program Committee accepted 16 papers (an acceptance rate of 25%) that cover a range of topics, including wireless and ad-hoc networks in autonomic content networking, streaming and voice services, group and multi-party services, and quality in video and Internet services. This year we also had a Demonstration Session on Future Multimedia Networking for which 12 papers were accepted out of submissions received from over 15 countries. It is our sincere hope that the proceedings of this workshop will serve as a valuable reference for multimedia researchers and developers.

Mobile TV: Customizing Content and Experience Aaron Marcus, Anxo Cereijo Roibás, Riccardo Sala, 2009-12-01 Developing usable, useful, and appealing solutions for the customer or user experience requires customization according to specific users' needs amidst frequently changing physical and social environments. Complex design problems like these require interdisciplinary perspectives that cover software functionality, human interaction and communication experiences, and perceived value. After defining and summarizing current research and development, this book focuses on Mobile TV experience in everyday life, innovative conceptual and participatory design methods, contextual analysis methods, social context for interactive multimedia systems, advanced interaction with mobile digital content, and future trends for the wide range of products and services that will be offered in the decade to come. The Editors have carefully balanced the theoretical and empirical approaches providing a valuable insight into principles and methods, as well as actionable guidelines and recommendations for all those interested in exploring how to achieve the core objectives of usability, usefulness, and social appeal of this new mobile-video technology. The book answers many questions, and raises some new ones that only future technology development and deployment in mobile human-computer interaction and communication can answer.
