Nana Akua Goes to School Tricia Elam Walker, 2020-06-16 Winner of the 2021 Ezra Jack Keats New Writer Award! In this moving story that celebrates cultural diversity, a shy girl brings her West African grandmother--whose face bears traditional tribal markings--to meet her classmates. This is a perfect read for back to school! It is Grandparents Day at Zura's elementary school, and the students are excited to introduce their grandparents and share what makes them special. Aleja's grandfather is a fisherman. Bisou's grandmother is a dentist. But Zura's Nana, who is her favorite person in the world, looks a little different from other grandmas. Nana Akua was raised in Ghana, and, following an old West African tradition, has tribal markings on her face. Worried that her classmates will be scared of Nana--or worse, make fun of her--Zura is hesitant to bring her to school. Nana Akua knows what to do, though. With a quilt of traditional African symbols and a bit of face paint, Nana Akua is able to explain what makes her special, and to make all of Zura's classmates feel special, too.

The Tales of Nana Nini . . . Susan Edie Ashe, 2019-06-19 "The Tales of Nana Nini...Nana Knows" is a delightful collection of short stories, perfect as an adventure book for kids who are early readers. This engaging children's chapter book introduces young readers to the lively characters of Nana Nini, an energetic boomer grandma; Eden, a self-proclaimed princess; Murphy and Roxy, two endearing rescue dogs who bring warmth and humor to every situation. Set in contemporary times, each story bursts with humor, silliness, and physical adventure, providing a playful contrast to Nana Nini's timeless life lessons. It is a children's chapter book incorporating current social media references to weave a rich tapestry of old and new, echoing the age-old tension between tradition and progress, while providing readers a life lesson in each story. As the character's adventures in Arizona play out, readers will learn about popular destinations. In "You're Sparkle-worthy," Nana Nini and her quirky troop embark on a memorable road trip to Sedona, AZ. This adventure-filled escapade sees our characters working together to overcome obstacles while soaking in the breathtaking vistas of this beloved Arizona destination. The tale continues with You're Gold-worthy, a camping trip in the Superstition mountains that challenges the young ones to solve problems independently, while still relying on Nana Nini's guidance and wisdom. You're Ski-worthy brings a frosty change of scene as the family goes skiing in Colorado. Each problem they encounter on the slopes is an opportunity to apply Nana's Life Lessons, leading to heartwarming revelations and plenty of laughter. It's one of those adventures in Colorado you won't be able to get out of your mind. In You're River-worthy, the group visits the Lower Salt River in Arizona, encountering wild horses. This unique adventure evolves into a captivating mystery that our heroes must solve. The collection ends with You're Sleep-worthy, a soothing lullaby filled with positive affirmations designed to help children drift into a peaceful slumber. This children's book with dogs offers young readers a taste of adventure and the pleasure of timeless life lessons. It is an ideal short story for kids, providing not just entertainment but valuable lessons about friendship, courage, and the power of family bonds. Each story is a testament to Nana Nini's wisdom and the magic of grand adventures in Arizona and Colorado.

Nana's Wish Maureen Baggett,2015-03-28 Eight-year-old Odessa never expected to come face-to-face with her grandmother in an eight-year-old body! What happens when Odessa is wished back to 1955 by her Nana? It seems that Nana was tired of telling Odessa about the old times and wanted to show her instead. Odessa wakes up in a southern Maryland farmhouse without air conditioning, television, Internet, or telephone. She develops an understanding for both the fun and the work of living on a farm as she chats with the family about the things that surprise her. A day at school with Nana is very different from her own school in 2014. Instead of bright colors, group participation, computers, and modern conveniences, Odessa confronts racism, bullying, and a very different kind of classroom. She also learns that some things never change. People are people no matter when they live.

Nana and Me Cathy E. Brooks,2016-08-29 This is a timeless story of the special love and bond between a grandma (Nana) and her grandson the games they play, the fun and love they share, and the simple heartwarming joy of being part of a family. My Nana and Me Irene Smalls,2012-09-15 A joyful story celebrating the love between a granddaughter and her grandmother. This delightful picture books follows a young girl and her grandmother through a day of tea parties, dancing, hide and seek, pat-a-cake, bath time, story time, and bedtime. At the end of the story the little girl discovers why she is so extra special. Irene Smalls' rhythmic, upbeat text and Cathy Ann Johnson's lush artwork make My Nana and Me the perfect book to share. My Nana and Me is a great opportunity for fabulous hat dress up tea parties, etiquette lessons and a bedtime read aloud. My Nana and Me is also the perfect book for a child's birthday, Christmas, Kwanzaa, a Grandmother's birthday, family reunions, family celebrations, Mother's Day, Grandparents day and bedtime any day of the year. My Nana and Me is ideal for classrooms and parents too!

Fun with Nana Donna Shrode,2011-05 Nana - the name once used to describe an older woman with gray hair. That is no longer the case. Today, a Nana can be anywhere in age from her 30's to her 90's. She can be a blonde, brunette or redhead as well as having gray hair. The modern Nana not only feels and looks younger, but is physically able to enjoy more fun times and special occasions with her grandchildren. This book is the first in a series of Fun with Nana books designed for today's younger, more active and involved grandmothers; those lovingly called 'Nana'. Fun with Nana Let's Play, illustrates the very unique bond that exists between a grandchild and their Nana. Come along and share the special moments and fun times as you experience the unconditional love that binds a little boy and girl with their Nana!

Spot the similarities and differences between their homes in this cozy and beautifully illustrated picture book! Nina lives in San Francisco with her parents, and she loves visiting her two grandmas across the world. Follow Nina as her two trips unfold side by side: Young readers will love poring over the details of what is the same and what is different at Nana's home in England and at Nenek's home in Malaysia. In each place, Nina wears different clothes, plays different games, and eats different food. But so much about visiting Nana and Nenek is the same, from warm hugs at the airport to beach days and bedtime snuggles. Nina is equally at home across the world in Malaysia or England, and both of her grandmas love her to California and back.
