Alvehus, Johan

Restructuring the Professional Organization David Brock,C. R. Hinings,Michael Powell,2012-09-10 In recent years the professions have undergone radical transformation. With the advent of rapidly changing markets, more sophisticated and demanding clients, deregulation and increased competition, the generalist professional partnerships have given way to larger, more corporate forms of organization, comprising increasingly autonomous specialist business units. This volume critically examines these changes through an examination of the archetypes which characterize accounting, health care and law practitioners. With examples drawn from Australia, Canada, the UK and the USA, Restructuring the Professional Organization will be of interest to all students of organization studies seeking to understand the issues and problems confronting the professions as they move to the new millennium. Topics covered include: * a review of the models of professional organization *drivers of change in professional organizations * internal dynamics of changes in these organizations * new organizational forms and archetypes.

Energizing and Focusing the Movement Lee John Betts, 1992 This analysis of national leadership and service organizations (NL/SO's) lists and describes 26 NL/SO's that provide professional development, networking, and advancement opportunities for the nation's community colleges. Part 1 provides introductory comments on the external forces affecting community colleges, and the internal and external resources supporting NL/SO's. This section also presents information on a survey of 139 community colleges regarding the NL/SO's with which they were affiliated. The survey revealed that nine different organizations were affiliated with at least 27 colleges (40% of those responding), and that the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges (AACJC), the Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT), the League for Innovation in the Community College, and the National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development (NISOD) were mentioned by 54% of the respondents. Part 2 contains a guide to mission, programs, and activities of the 26 NL/SO's serving associate-degree colleges. AACJC, ACCT, the League for Innovation in the Community College, NISOD, and the Phi Theta Kappa Society are described first, followed by descriptions of six organizations that serve both two- and four-year institutions. This section concludes with brief descriptions of other NL/SO's with defined constituencies, an international focus, a focus on staff and institutional development, or that are based at universities. Part 3 describes the benefits of NL/SO's, provides guidelines for their use in human resource development, and offers conclusions and recommendations. Appendixes include descriptions of AACJC-affiliated councils and university-based higher education programs, survey instruments, and a list of respondents. (JMC)

The Healthcare Professional Workforce Timothy J. Hoff, Kathleen M. Sutcliffe, Gary J. Young, 2016-08-15 As the U.S. healthcare industry undergoes sweeping changes to increase efficiency and reduce costs, the healthcare workforce is changing as well. In this new system of care, physicians work alongside health care teams, where nurses, pharmacists, and other professionals must collaborate to provide better, more affordable care to many more patients than ever before. THE HEALTHCARE PROFESSIONAL WORKFORCE is the first book to codify the transformations underway across health professions in the U.S. and to situate these changes within a larger context for both healthcare and non-healthcare audiences. This volume provides an important guide to understanding how health professionals fit within the emerging model of healthcare, and serves as a vital resource for readers in health policy management, medicine, public health, and organizational studies. Comprising seven unique chapters alongside commentaries from heads of healthcare organizations and influential physicians, THE HEALTHCARE PROFESSIONAL WORKFORCE provides a theoretical and practical benchmark for understanding the next generation of human capital in one of society's most important labor sectors.

Professional Occupations and Organizations Daniel Muzio, Sundeep Aulakh, Ian Kirkpatrick, 2020-01-16 This Element engages with fundamental questions concerning the future trajectory of professions as a distinct occupational category and of the formal organizations, which represent, employ or host professionals. It begins with a literature review that identifies a functionalist, power and institutionalist lens for the study of professional occupations and organizations. It then reviews a series of challenges which face the contemporary professions. Finally, the Element explores contemporary developments in the worlds of professions applying three units of analysis: macro (professional occupations and their associations), meso (professional organizations) and micro (professional workers).

New Leadership for Today's Health Care Professionals Louis G. Rubino, Salvador J. Esparza, Yolanda Chassiakos, 2018-12-05 New Leadership for Today's Health Care Professionals: Cases and Concepts, Second Edition explores various components of the health care system and how leaders should respond in these arenas. The Second Edition is a thorough revision that offers a comprehensive view of the leadership competencies necessary to be successful in today's healthcare industry. Each chapter is written by a leader in the healthcare industry under the guidance of the editors who have many years' experience in academia.
