Qr Codes in Education David Hopkins,2013-05 These black and white squares have appeared everywhere from billboards at the side of the road, roof tops, cola cans, buses, magazines, etc. So why not in your library, textbook, assignment, project, or classroom display? The ability to use them to direct students or colleagues to online resources (presentation slides, websites, video, book location, etc.) is powerful and engaging and, when well implemented, can offer a level of interaction and engagement. It's not about what they are but about how we use them and what they can offer me in an educational setting. Whether you're a teacher, student, parent, school governor, or on the PTA, you ought to know about QR Codes – what they are, how they work, and how you can leverage them to increase student participation in and around the classroom. They offer the ability to share digital content from teacher to student, from student to student, and even from student to teacher. Go on, try it! This eBook will explain everything and put QR Codes in context. Using computers and technology in educational environments can be exciting and challenging. Implementing QR Codes within your student's learning is just that: exciting to see how students of all ages use and interact with them, and a challenge to make them usable, informative, applicable, and appropriate. This book draws on established examples from the commercial and corporate world as well as from established users of QR Codes at all levels of education; from primary schools up to Universities. Not only will you find examples of how QR Codes have been used but you will find out how you can design, create, and implement your own QR Code treasure hunt, library resource, student group work, orientation activity, conference or event feedback, etc. David Hopkins has developed a respected reputation among educational technology networks for his use and research into the uses of QR Codes. He has been active with QR Codes at Bournemouth University and more recently at the University of Leicester since 2008. The 'Planning, Creating, and Monitoring your QR Codes' chapter offers everything you need to get going with QR codes. Because of David's extensive experience, you won't have to learn the hard way. He's made it easy. The book is well-balanced, but keep in mind – David's examples and suggestions for using QR Codes in Education are very persuasive." - Brian Bishop (@bbishop262), CEO, Virtualwurks "David's book is a great place to begin for those educators who wish to start using QR codes in their classroom. The book begins by explaining what QR codes are and then delves into examples of use in education and Libraries. Computers Helping People with Special Needs Klaus Miesenberger, Joachim Klaus, Wolfgang Zagler, Arthur Karshmer, 2008-07-14 Welcome to the proceedings of ICCHP 2008. We were proud to welcome participants from more than 40 countries from all continents to ICCHP. The International Programme Committee, encompassing 102 experts from all over the world, selected 150 full and 40 short papers out of 360 abstracts submitted to ICCHP. Our acceptance rate of about half of the submissions, demonstrates the scientific quality of the programme and in particular the proceedings you have in your hands. An impressive group of experts agreed to organize "Special Thematic Sessions" (STS) for ICCHP 2008. The existence of these STS sessions helped to bring the meeting into sharper focus in several key areas of assistive technology. In turn, this deeper level of focus helped to bring together the state-of-the-art and mainstream technical, social, cultural and political developments. Our keynote speaker, Jim Fruchterman from BeneTech, USA highlighted the importance of giving access to ICT and AT at a global level. In another keynote by Harold Thimbleby, Swansea University, UK, the role of user-centred design and usability engineering in assistive technology and accessibility was addressed. And finally, a combination keynote and panel discussion was reserved for WAI/WCAG2.0, which we expect to be the new reference point for Web accessibility from the summer of 2008 and beyond.
