Backchannel: rabt Dan Robinson, 2023-12-08 Imagine a world where not just teenagers, but governments use secret social media channels to communicate – and to target. Meet Doug McKenzie, a charismatic Black Irish investigative reporter for the New York Daily, a man whose fearless journalism has attracted international enemies with the resources to neutralize him. In response to his incendiary reports, a clandestine 'Backchannel' is activated, manipulating the U.S. government itself to take him down. But Doug isn't alone. His fiery daughter Rachel, an emerging journalist in her own right, stands by his side, as do allies from the global stage. Journey with Doug from the power corridors of Washington, DC to the bustling streets of Osaka, Japan; from the political heart of Ankara, Turkey to the fraught border crossing of Bazargan, Iran. Caught in a web of international intrigue is Doug's tumultuous personal life – his marriage to Turkish-born Nukhet hangs by a thread, complicated by their one-year-old daughter Sirin, and the reemergence of his enigmatic lover, Dr. Laurie Reynolds. Get ready to dive into a world of political suspense, international espionage, and intricate relationships. Welcome to Backchannel. Trust us, you won't want to put it down.

#: Backchannel: Rabt Daniel Robinson, 2016-11-09 November 20, 2016#: Backchannel: rabt (c), A Readers Guide To World War III, A Forward Looking Historical Novel, Beginning, 2017 What's it all about. Carmine? Street wise Lieutenant Carmine Venezia, Jersey City Police Department, As sophisticated as we think our screening processes might be, (for those entering the country), there are people out there working just as hard to outwit them. So that we are left responding after the fact, maybe ok to some if they are not personally caught up in the maelstrom. There you have it, that's the underlying issue in this novel set in the year 2017. It's today's news, and tomorrow's and perhaps well into the future. 'Backchannel' is a continuation of 'Suffer The Children' and 'Nuevo Laredo: A Prelude To War' by Dan Robinson. The same characters: Investigative Reporter Doug McKenzie, his precocious teenage daughter Rachel McKenzie, his blond and beautiful ex fiancé Dr. Laurie Reynolds, his Turkish-Iranian born wife Nukhet Akad McKenzie, his Newspaper Editor, Richard Gruber and Ms. ElSaid, an Ava Gardner look-a-like terrorist risen from the dead. Facing new threats from a 34 Nation Alliance that communicates through a social media Backchannel, an Alliance that wants to Control the world. The leaders of the new Alliance are impatient, resorting to violent means rather than through, rational guided statesmanship. Showing how misinformed they are in statecraft, an anomaly that will lead to their comeuppance. A foreign government targets Doug McKenzie, enlisting U.S. State Department and Homeland Security officials to detain him without a warrant based on an Op-Ed piece in his newspaper, the Gotham Times. Hoping to break into #: Backchannel: rabt, Doug McKenzie travels to Osaka, Japan only to have his contact, Lovie Hope O Go-Chu, thrown from the top of the Umeda Sky Building. Subsequently, roughed up by Japanese policemen wanting to know what Ms. Go-Chu might have conveyed to him. Back in the United States Doug McKenzie becomes a pawn in an attempt to draw him to Iran, to be exchanged for Nikhet's daughter from a previous marriage. The exchange to take place at Bazargan, on the Turkish-Iranian border. Resulting in a U.S. incursion into Turkish airspace and a further signal to Iran of a dramatic shift of U.S. Middle East foreign policy to include the embargoing of oil coming from its neighbors. Who in their plans to Control the world' attempt to disable a nuclear power plant, creating a U.S. Chernobyl, in Surry, Virginia. Thwarted by Lieutenant Carmine Venezia who meets out his own method of justice by feeding the terrorists to hungry reptiles in a U.S. National preserve. Lovie Hope O Go-Chu's reconstructed cell phone with access to #: Backchannel: rabt has been broken revealing a North Korean Order of Battle, a planned invasion of the break-a-way province of Taiwan acting as a proxy for the People's Liberation Army of mainland China. Then there is the Korean Water Toad demise of Kim if one is into sexual deviations; and a gun toting Mayor of New York City shooting some wannabe terrorists who are attempting to break into Gracie Mansion. And of course a love story reaching conclusion. What more could one ask for.

Buildings and Structures under Extreme Loads Chiara Bedon,Flavio Stochino,Daniel Honfi,2020-11-25 Exceptional loads on buildings and structures may have different causes, including high-strain dynamic effects due to natural hazards, man-made attacks, and accidents, as well as extreme operational conditions (severe temperature variations, humidity, etc.). All of these aspects can be critical for specific structural typologies and/or materials that are particularly sensitive to external conditions. In this regard, dedicated and refined methods are required for their design, analysis, and maintenance under the expected lifetime. There are major challenges related to the structural typology and material properties with respect to the key features of the imposed design load. Further issues can be derived from the need for risk mitigation or retrofit of existing structures as well as from the optimal and safe design of innovative materials/systems. Finally, in some cases, no appropriate design recommendations are available and, thus, experimental investigations can have a key role within the overall process. In this Special Issue, original research studies, review papers, and experimental and/or numerical investigations are presented for the structural performance assessment of buildings and structures under various extreme conditions that are of interest for design.
