Razer Phone 2: Learning the Essentials Mark Dascano, 2018-12-12 The Razer phone is an Android based phone that has been developed with Razer Inc. This phone is primarily made for gamers and reviews have shown it to be very good for everyday use as well. The phone was birthed when Razer acquired Nextbit in January 2017 and they started work on their own smartphone. The design of the phone is quite similar to the Nextbit Robin. Their fingerprint scanner is the same, both phones have large bezels. The design of the Razer Phone is made of aluminum and unlike the Robin which is made of plastic. This book will review the features of the Razer Phone to alert the reader to the functionality it provides.
