The Natural Navigator Tristan Gooley, 2012-06-05 From the New York Times- bestselling author of The Secret World of Weather and The Lost Art of Reading Nature's Signs, learn to tap into nature and notice the hidden clues all around you Before GPS, before the compass, and even before cartography, humankind was navigating. Now this singular guide helps us rediscover what our ancestors long understood—that a windswept tree, the depth of a puddle, or a trill of birdsong can help us find our way, if we know what to look and listen for. Adventurer and navigation expert Tristan Gooley unlocks the directional clues hidden in the sun, moon, stars, clouds, weather patterns, lengthening shadows, changing tides, plant growth, and the habits of wildlife. Rich with navigational anecdotes collected across ages, continents, and cultures, The Natural Navigator will help keep you on course and open your eyes to the wonders, large and small, of the natural world.

Sun Set Moon Rise Maria Sayde Hraiki, 2021-04-13 Everyone—no matter our differences—share the same sun, moon, and stars. Life is working through divine order because the universe lives within each and every one of us. This is why everything along your journey has led you right here. This inspiring, ethereal, and triumphant collection of poems navigates loss, healing, and love. Maria Sayde Hraiki's poetry speaks to those of us who have been wronged but still forgave, those who are trying our hardest to be strong but still want to feel soft, and those of us not afraid to surrender to love. This collection is a reminder that nature is urging us to reconnect, and these poems will take us on a journey through the darkness and through ourselves, guiding us to find the light. Find the courage to surrender and in doing so, find peace.

Fish swim under a blue sky, squirrels dream as the sun sets, the moon rises as stars blink, and an owl hoots when night falls. With word repetition and a single tree that houses both the bird who sings as the sun rises and the owl who hoots after the moon rises, little ones can begin to understand that the day begins and ends in the same way.
