If We Make It Home Christina Suzann Nelson,2017-09-26 When four college friends graduated from the University of Northwest Oregon, their lives stretched before them, full of promise and vows to stay connected. But life has a way of derailing well-laid plans. Now they haven't spoken in twenty-five years. But against all odds, three of them have found themselves back in the same place--at their alma mater, wondering how they got there. When they discover their fourth friend, Hope, has died, Jenna, Ireland, and Vicky decide to embark on a wilderness adventure to honor her memory--and for secret reasons of their own. Jenna wants to show her husband that she's more than a helpless, overweight, middle-aged empty nester. Ireland wants to get back to the nature she loves and hide from the charges being pressed against her. And Vicky wants to show she cares for something besides her ministry--and put off the disaster waiting at home for as long as possible. They never bargained for the dangers they face in an unforgiving wilderness. Now they'll have to work together if they hope to make it home alive. While the three women fight to survive the elements, their toughest battles may be with themselves.

Seasons of Moon and Flame Danielle Dulsky,2020-03-10 Prepare to Be Mentored by the Sacred Hags! The yearning to slow down and simplify, return to the earth, and maybe evenrewild what has been tamed in ourselves persists even though that dream may seem ever more remote in contemporary life. Danielle Dulsky shows that even in our high-tech and high-pressure lives, it is possible to manifest your own year of the wild and to tap into often-forgotten holy wisdom. Seasons of Moon and Flame guides you to live cyclically while working with the archetype of the Sacred Hag, or wild grandmother, who appears in various guises. Wonderfully inclusive, with adaptations for families, spiritual groups, and other traditions, this book is a potentially life-changing guide to living mystically, magically, and in empowering harmony with the worlds of spirit and nature.

Claiming Your Place at the Fire Richard J. Leider,David Shapiro,2004-09-09 Presents a different paradigm of successful aging for men and women entering into and moving through the second half of their lives. Through an exploration of key concepts like purpose and renewal, and by drawing upon the timeless metaphor of fire, this book enables readers to become what the authors call new elders. & quot.

BAPTISM WHAT ABOUT THE FIRE? Unknown Hebrew,2019-08-05 Matthew 3:11 tells us, "11...and He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire!" Here there are two additional baptisms that the Scriptures describe; although there are two more baptisms, if you receive one, it is inevitable; you will receive the other. In this book, we will prove that if you are baptized with the (Ruach Ha'Kodesh) Holy Ghost, you will be baptized with fire somewhere along the line. We all have heard people pray, YAHUAH send the Ruach Ha'kodesh; give me the Ruach Ha'kodesh." However, have you ever heard of anyone praying for the Baptism of Fire? Have you prayed for the Baptism of Fire? The "Baptism of Fire" is not what we think it is; few understand it is not a pleasant experience; it is a place the Ruach Ha'kodesh takes and puts you to the test; it purges you. It is a furnace. We want the Ruach Ha'kodesh; we want the gifts that He gives; the healing; the prophesying; the miracles; We want all that but do not want the Baptism of Fire. Especially if we understand what it is, we are ignorant of this Baptism. You cannot shut down this fire; being Baptized with fire is entirely different. YAHUSHUA was baptized in water, and immediately he went into the wilderness for his Baptism of Fire led by the Ruach Ha'kodesh. YAHUAH does not create the fire; He led Him into the desert, into the wilderness, to be tempted by the devil. Look at this, the Greek meaning of "baptism;" means "whelmed." This is where we get the word overwhelmed, but it also means to submerge. Baptism of Fire is a submerging, where we are taken into a testing; we are taken into a trial; we are taken deep into it. It is above us; and all around us; when we are baptized, we are taken down; we are in the test of our lives. If we do not understand it, we will think something strange has happened when it comes. It is not strange at all; it is a biblical pattern. You see it with Paul, the Apostle; when he was Saul, he was miraculously saved; he confesses the name of YAHUSHUA and goes into his trial of fire with the Ruach Ha'Kodesh. While in our "Baptism of Fire," Ha'Shatan will try to flood our minds with questions. "How can a Spirit-filled believer, given to YAHUAH; how can YAHUAH let me go through this pain?" When the enemy comes, and he makes you start to question why, remember that YAHUSHUA is the Baptizer; He is the one who has baptized you with the Ruach Ha'kodesh, and He has baptized you with the fire. Knowing that it is coming from His hand: rest. YAHUAH baptizes His most precious with fire: He takes them through and down into fiery trials to make them strong: these are the best of the best. We are tried through the fire; understand YAHUAH's loving hand. Does it not read in Philippians 1:29, "1 For unto you it is given in the behalf of the Messiah, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake. We suffer with him that we may be also glorified together. Know and trust what He told you; He will never leave you nor forsake you. Consider scrolling up and clicking the "buy now" button.

I Will Take the Answer Ander Monson,2020-02-04 A moving and wide-ranging collection of essays by the author of Letter to a Future Lover The idea of connection permeates I Will Take the Answer, Ander Monson's fourth book of utterly original and intelligent essays. How is our present connected to our past and future? How do neural connections form memories, and why do we recall them when we do? And how do we connect with one another in meaningful ways across time and space? In the opening essay, which extends across the book in brief subsequent pieces, a trip through a storm sewer in Tucson inspires Monson to trace the city's relationship to Jared Lee Loughner, the gunman who shot Gabrielle Giffords and killed six bystanders, along with how violence is produced and how we grieve and honor the dead. With the formally inventive "I in River," he ruminates on water in a waterless city and the structures we use to attempt to contain and control it. Monson also visits the exuberantly nerdy kingdom of a Renaissance Faire, and elaborates on the enduring appeal of sad songs through the lens of March Sadness, an online competition that he cofounded, an engaging riff on the NCAA basketball tournament brackets in which sad songs replace teams. As personal and idiosyncratic as the best mixtape, I Will Take the Answer showcases Monson's deep thinking and broad-ranging interests, his sly wit, his soft spot for heavy metal, and his ability to tunnel deeply into the odd and revealing, sometimes subterranean, worlds of American life.

Fire-Making, Storytelling, and Ceremony Mark Warren,2020-04-01 In the second volume of the Secrets of the Forest series, Mark Warren addresses a wide range of what an outdoorsperson needs to know about fire such as: how to create it from scratch using three different methods (hand drill, bow drill, and fire-saw). which species of trees and dried winter weeds make good candidates for a fire kit. where to find tinder that can combust. how to construct a fail-proof pyre by mixing fast-burning fuel with dense hardwood. how to sustain a fire for the long term, including how to safely store a smoldering fire that can survive for several days. The second half of the book is dedicated to storytelling and ceremony. Its main purpose is how to design stories that augment whatever lessons a teacher has in mind. Such stories can familiarize students with the fine points of archery, canoeing, tracking, stalking, and other crafts or skills. Borrowing from Native American traditions, Warren introduces dozens of ways for young outdoorspeople to build self-esteem and a deep connection with the forest. This volume contains more than 100 original activities.
