Mac OS X Panther for Unix Geeks Brian Jepson, Ernest Eric Rothman, 2004 With its rep for being the sort of machine that won't intimidate even the most inexperienced users, what's the appeal of the Mac® for hard-core geeks? The Mac has always been an efficient tool, pleasant to use and customize, and eminently hackable. But now with Mac OS® X's BSD core, many a Unix® developer has found it irresistible. The latest version of Mac OS X, called Panther, makes it even easier for users to delve into the underlying Unix operating system. In fact, you can port Linux® and Unix applications and run them side-by-side with your native Aqua® apps right on the Mac desktop. Still, even experienced Unix users may find themselves in surprisingly unfamiliar territory as they set out to explore Mac OS X. Even if you know Macs through and through, Mac OS X Panther is unlike earlier Macs, and it's radically different from the Unix you've used before. Enter Mac OS X Panther for Unix Geeks by Brian Jepson and Ernest E. Rothman, two Unix geeks who found themselves in the same place you are. The new edition of this book is your guide to figuring out the BSD Unix system and Panther-specific components that you may find challenging. This concise book will ease you into the Unix innards of Mac OS X Panther, covering such topics as: A quick overview of the Terminal application, including Terminal alternatives like iTerm and GLterm Understanding Open Directory (LDAP) and NetInfo Issues related to using the GNU C Compiler (GCC) Library linking and porting Unix software An overview of Mac OS X Panther's filesystem and startup processes Creating and installing packages using Fink and Darwin Ports Building the Darwin kernel Using the Apple® X11 distribution for running X Windows® applications on top of Mac OS X The book wraps up with a quick manpage-style reference to the Missing Manual Pages --commands that come with Mac OS X Panther, although there are no manpages. If you find yourself disoriented by the new Mac environment, Mac OS X Panther for Unix Geeks will get you acclimated quickly to the foreign new areas of a familiar Unix landscape.

Implementing ETSI standardised RTCP-based Interdestination Media Synchronization Torsten Löbner, 2011-09-14 Inhaltsangabe: Introduction: This thesis represents the results of my research in synchronization of television during my graduation project. I will describe a solution, which is actually standardized and give a solution on how to implement it in this document. It is a pleasure to thank the people who made this thesis possible. First of all these are my supervisors Oskar van Deventer and Michael Maruschke, who supported me by reviewing my work and discussion on content. I also would like to thank Ray van Brandenburg and Hans Stokking, who were always open for discussion. This work was done at TNO Information and communication technology. The part of TNO this thesis is placed has its main research topic in media technologies and content delivery systems. Research is done in cooperation with Dutch and international companies as well, as with international research groups. TNO is also a member in the NGNLab project, which main purpose is Next Generation Networks and topics related to that. The purpose of this thesis is to create a proof of concept of the synchronization system for IPTV described by ETSI TS 182 027 [2] and ETSI TS 183 063 [1] by using the protocol extension to RTCP from ETSI TS 183 063 Annex W. During planing, implementation and evaluation specifications have to be proofed and requirements, for a sufficient work have to be generated, if the standardized environment is not clear defined on some part of the implementation or not sufficient. This document should give the reader an overview of the necessary requirements and the way of development of the proof of concept. This thesis is divided into seven chapters. The first chapters are the theoretical base, followed by the planing and evaluation of the prototyped IDMS system. In chapter two an overview of the thesis background and necessary protocols needed for communication is given. This is completed by a description of the network framework, which will be the platform for the synchronization approach. The extension for television usage of the network described in chapter two is explained in chapter three. The Software analyzed for the usage in the prototyped implementation is described in chapter four. The necessary modifications and extensions to this software and structure of the applications used to build the environment for the described implementation completes the theoretical part of the thesis. Chapter five shows these software planing. Chapter six gives and overview of [...]

How to synchronize the next generation of IPTV: Explantion of the ETSI standardized version Torsten Löbner, 2013-07-01 In the last years, research of television systems has increasingly changed from focusing on isolated networks to focusing on a combined network of internet, telecommunication, television and other services. One of the main aspects in that research topic is to guarantee that the user experience will be the same or better than the user expects from a common television system. The purpose of this book is to show a possible protocol implementation for a television system with a packet oriented underlying network. The thesis will show that ETSI TS 183 063 [1] Annex W specified protocol extension to the Realtime Control Protocol will extend a commonly known network system to reach the goals for the users' quality needs. This book describes the steps from planning to implementation and to evaluation. It will give the reader an overview of the necessary requirements and of the development of the proof of concept to show that the standardized environment will work. Open points in the description of the environment are pointed out and possible solutions are given. This book is divided into seven chapters. The first chapters are the theoretical base, followed by the planning and evaluation of the prototyped IDMS system. In chapter two, an overview of the book's background and necessary protocols needed for communication is given. This is completed by a description of the network framework, which will be the platform for the synchronization approach. The extension for television usage of the network which is described in chapter two is explained in chapter three. The Software analyzed for the usage in the prototyped implementation is described in chapter four. The necessary modifications and extensions to this software and structure of the applications used to build the environment for the described implementation completes the theoretical part of the thesis. Chapter five shows this software planning. Chapter six gives an overview of the measurements to prove that the created implementation works sufficiently. This is completed by the summary in chapter eight.

Computational Science — ICCS 2004 Marian Bubak, Geert Dick van Albada, Peter M.A. Sloot, Jack Dongarra, 2004-05-12 The International Conference on Computational Science (ICCS 2004) held in Kraków, Poland, June 6–9, 2004, was a follow-up to the highly successful ICCS 2003 held at two locations, in Melbourne, Australia and St. Petersburg, Russia; ICCS 2002 in Amsterdam, The Netherlands; and ICCS 2001 in San Francisco, USA. As computational science is still evolving in its quest for subjects of investigation and efficient methods, ICCS 2004 was devised as a forum for scientists from mathematics and computer science, as the basic computing disciplines and application areas, interested in advanced computational methods for physics, chemistry, life sciences, engineering, arts and humanities, as well as computer system vendors and software developers. The main objective of this conference was to discuss problems and solutions in all areas, to identify new issues, to shape future directions of research, and to help users apply various advanced computational techniques. The event harvested recent developments in computational grids and next generation computing systems, tools, advanced numerical methods, data-driven systems, and novel application fields, such as complex systems, finance, econophysics and population evolution.
