VPNs Illustrated Jon C. Snader,2015-01-09 Virtual private networks (VPNs) based on the Internet instead of the traditional leased lines offer organizations of all sizes the promise of a low-cost, secure electronic network. However, using the Internet to carry sensitive information can present serious privacy and security problems. By explaining how VPNs actually work, networking expert Jon Snader shows software engineers and network administrators how to use tunneling, authentication, and encryption to create safe, effective VPNs for any environment. Using an example-driven approach, VPNs Illustrated explores how tunnels and VPNs function by observing their behavior on the wire. By learning to read and interpret various network traces, such as those produced by tcpdump, readers will be able to better understand and troubleshoot VPN and network behavior. Specific topics covered include: Block and stream symmetric ciphers, such as AES and RC4; and asymmetric ciphers, such as RSA and EIGamal Message authentication codes, including HMACs Tunneling technologies based on gtunnel SSL protocol for building network-to-network VPNs SSH protocols as drop-in replacements for telnet, ftp, and the BSD r-commands Lightweight VPNs, including VTun, CIPE, tinc, and OpenVPN IPsec, including its Authentication Header (AH) protocol, Encapsulating Security Payload (ESP), and IKE (the key management protocol) Packed with details, the text can be used as a handbook describing the functions of the protocols and the message formats that they use. Source code is available for download, and an appendix covers publicly available software that can be used to build tunnels and analyze traffic flow. VPNs Illustrated gives you the knowledge of tunneling and VPN technology you need to understand existing VPN implementations and successfully create your own.

Advances in Cryptology--EUROCRYPT '88 Christoph G. Günther,1988 This book contains the proceedings of the EUROCRYPT '88 conference, a workshop on theory and applications of cryptographic techniques held at Davos, Switzerland, May 25-27, 1988. The International Association for Cryptologic Research (IACR) organizes two international conferences every year, one in Europe and one in the United States. EUROCRYPT '88 was the sixth European conference. The number of contributions and of participants at the meeting has increased substantially, which shows the high interest in cryptography and in system security in general. The interest has also further moved towards authentication, signatures and other protocols. This is to understand in view of the urgent needs for such protocols, in particular in connection with open information systems, and in view of the exciting problems in this area. The equally fascinating classical field of secrecy, i.e. the theory, design and analysis of stream or block ciphers and of public key cryptosystems, was however also well represented and several significant results were communicated. These proceedings contain all contributions accepted for presentation.
