Intercultural Learning How Changes Acti Guenter Wiedemann,2006-12-01 This investigation of the intercultural contacts of Dutchmen with Germans describes, what uniformities arise in such cases. The low distance between the nationalities means a hard test for the method: For this work a new construct for the investigation of intercultural contacts was created. That bases on the theories of Esser (general migration theory), Bandura (learning theory), Allport (categorization theory) and Tajfel (intergroup theory). While the general action-based migration theory forms the core of the investigation, the socialpsychological theories are used flanking. The result of that concept founded a question list, with 300 variables. The interview row were analysed primary quantitative, secondary qualitative. The here written results are in a style to understand the regularities without statistical knowledge, too. The detailed work was written as diploma thesis at the University of Duisburg (Germany) using own resources and was marked with very good (97%).

Semantics Igor? Aleksandrovi? Mel??uk,Igor A. Mel'cuk,2012 This book presents an innovative and novel approach to linguistic semantics, beginning with the idea that language can be described as a system for the expression of linguistic Meanings as particular surface forms or Texts. Semantics is specifically that system of rules that ensures a correct transition from a Semantic Representation of the Meaning of a family of synonymous sentences to the Deep Syntactic Representation of a particular sentence. Framed in the terms of Meaning-Text linguistics, this volume discusses in detail the problems of Semantic Representation –including the semantic structure of utterances, the semantics of Causation in English, and communicative, or information, structure. Based on the author's life-long dedication to the study of the semantics and syntax of natural language, this book is a paradigm-shifting contribution to the language sciences whose originality and daring will make it essential reading for linguists, anthropologists, semioticians, and computational linguists.
