Winning at Horse Racing with CET Analysis Vincent James, 2020-04-11 HORSE RACE WINNING with CET Analysis reveals actual horse racing experience with winning tickets as evidence to prove that correlation-based analysis has the capability to predict winning outcomes in competitive horse racing world-wide. Several horse racing events were subjected to correlation analysis from the United Kingdom, Singapore, Hong Kong, South Africa, Mauritius and the United States. Winning tickets are representative of nineteen different racecourses world-wide. The objective of this sample size was to avoid a chance occurrence of winning. Winning at Horse Racing with CET Analysis emphasises winning as a result of correlation analysis with respect to weight, time and distance. Winning tickets includes jackpots, trifectas, quartets. The most important aspect being highlighted is how to win. The other being the technicalities that leads to winning. The rate of good luck increases a hundredfold when analysis takes precedence
