The Routledge Encyclopedia of Films Sabine Haenni, Sarah Barrow, John White, 2014-09-15 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Films comprises 200 essays by leading film scholars analysing the most important, influential, innovative and interesting films of all time. Arranged alphabetically, each entry explores why each film is significant for those who study film and explores the social, historical and political contexts in which the film was produced. Ranging from Hollywood classics to international bestsellers to lesser-known representations of national cinema, this collection is deliberately broad in scope crossing decades, boundaries and genres. The encyclopedia thus provides an introduction to the historical range and scope of cinema produced throughout the world.

If You See the Buddha Thomas Gaiton Marullo, 1998 This study establishes Bunin as a modern writer whose images were thoroughly rooted in the 20th century and shows that Bunin's interest in Buddhism was a major influence on his writing.

Greatest Russian Short Stories Leo Tolstoy, Anton Chekov et al.,2016-09-28

Transcending Boundaries Sandra L. Beckett,2013-10-11 Transcending Boundaries: Writing for a Dual Audience of Children and Adults is a collection of essays on twentieth-century authors who cross the borders between adult and children's literature and appeal to both audiences. This collection of fourteen essays by scholars from eight countries constitutes the first book devoted to the art of crosswriting the child and adult in twentieth-century international literature. Sandra Beckett explores the multifaceted nature of crossover literature and the diverse ways in which writers cross the borders to address a dual readership of children and adults. It considers classics such as Alice's Adventures in Wonderland and Pinocchio, with particular emphasis on post-World War II literature. The essays in Transcending Boundaries clearly suggest that crossover literature is a major, widespread trend that appears to be sharply on the rise.

Contemporary Russian Cinema Vlad Strukov,2016-04-12 Analysing films by established directors such as Sokurov and Zel'dovich, as well as lesser-known filmmakers like Balabanov and Kalatozishvili, this book explores the particular style of film presentation that has emerged in Russia since 2000, characterised by its use of highly abstract concepts and visual language.

Women in Soviet Film Marina Rojavin,Tim Harte,2017-09-22 This book illuminates and explores the representation of women in Soviet cinema from the late 1950s, through the 1960s, and into the 1970s, a period when Soviet culture shifted away, to varying degrees, from the well-established conventions of socialist realism. Covering films about working class women, rural and urban women, and women from the intelligentsia, it probes various cinematic genres and approaches to film aesthetics, while it also highlights how Soviet cinema depicted the ambiguity of emerging gender roles, pressing social issues, and evolving relationships between men and women. It thereby casts a penetrating light on society and culture in this crucial period of the Soviet Union's development.

Russia's Capitalist Realism Vadim Shneyder, 2020-10-15 Russia's Capitalist Realism examines how the literary tradition that produced the great works of Leo Tolstoy, Fyodor Dostoevsky, and Anton Chekhov responded to the dangers and possibilities posed by Russia's industrial revolution. During Russia's first tumultuous transition to capitalism, social problems became issues of literary form for writers trying to make sense of economic change. The new environments created by industry, such as giant factories and mills, demanded some kind of response from writers but defied all existing forms of language. This book recovers the rich and lively public discourse of this volatile historical period, which Tolstoy, Dostoevsky, and Chekhov transformed into some of the world's greatest works of literature. Russia's Capitalist Realism will appeal to readers interested in nineteenth-century Russian literature and history, the relationship between capitalism and literary form, and theories of the novel.

Dum Spiro Spero Sashko M. Voroniev, 2022-11-03 He is the author of Dum Spiro Spero: Part 1 and 2, his first nonfiction historical memoir novel. Part 1 was inspired by his mother's story, which tells a real-life account of his family's life strife and success. It is very unique, a story that has not been documented. Part 2 is his story, which he feels would complement part 1. In conversations about events in his family's life and his own, many people said he should write a book to tell these stories. When he was laid off from work, he found it a perfect opportunity to write, for the task is very involved and time-consuming. If he had worked on his former job, he would never have completed his manuscript. He worked on his manuscript all day every day, seven days a week, for a period of almost eight months. At the end of the day, his eyes would hurt from the concentration. Now that he has completed his first manuscript, he feels empty and has a desire to write more. He has a deep hatred and resentment for all the crime and corruption that exists and is embedded everywhere. He loves the innocence of children, who must be taught kindness and compassion at an early age. This book is not intended for the young.

The Forged Coupon graf Leo Tolstoy, 1912 IN an age of materialism like our own the phenomenon of spiritual power is as significant and inspiring as it is rare. No longer associated with the divine right of kings, it has survived the downfall of feudal and theocratic systems as a mystic personal emanation in place of a coercive weapon of statecraft. Freed from its ancient shackles of dogma and despotism it eludes analysis. We know not how to gauge its effect on others, nor even upon ourselves. Like the wind, it permeates the atmosphere we breathe, and baffles while it stimulates the mind with its intangible but compelling force. This psychic power, which the dead weight of materialism is impotent to suppress, is revealed in the lives and writings of men of the most diverse creeds and nationalities.

International Journal of American Linguistics ,1920 Bibliography of American linguistics, 1926-1928 in v. 6, p. 69-75.

Pop Culture Russia! Birgit Beumers, 2005-06-21 A revealing look at contemporary Russian popular culture, exploring the historical and social influences that make it unique. Pop music is only one aspect of contemporary Russian culture that has taken some unexpected turns in the chaotic aftermath of the Soviet Union's collapse. Television and advertising, theater and cinema, athletics and religion, even fashion and food now reflect more exposure to the West, yet remain in essence distinctively Russian. Pop Culture Russia! introduces readers to the fascinating, often surprising, post-Soviet cultural landscape. With chapters on media, the arts, recreation, religion, and consumerism, the book offers an insightful survey of Russian mass culture from the death of Stalin in 1953 to the present, exploring the historical significance of important events and trends, as well as the social and political contexts from which they emerged.

The Politics of Deforestation in Africa Nadia Rabesahala Horning, 2018-04-24 This book explores how environmental policies are made and enforced in Africa. Specifically, this project explains the gap between intent and impact of forest policies, focusing on three African societies facing persistent deforestation today: Madagascar, Tanzania, and Uganda. The central claim of the study is that deforestation persists because conservation policies and projects, which are largely underwritten by foreign donors, consistently ignore the fact that conservation is possible only under limited and specific conditions. To make the case, the author examines how decision-making power is negotiated and exercised where communities make environmental decisions daily (local level) and where environmental policies are negotiated and enacted (national level) across three distinct African political systems.
