Ciprian Honey Cathedral ,2020 Raymond Meeks is renowned for his use of photography and the book form to poetically distill the liminal junctures of vision, consciousness and comprehension. In 'ciprian honey cathedral', he brings this scrutiny close to home, delicately probing at the legibility of our material surroundings and the people closest to us. Meeks has long been fascinated by the way we construct the world around us; how we carry our possessions, these accumulated comforts, inheritances, markers of material success; how we adorn homes with trees and shrubs, a mantle clock to count the hours. Stumbling across an abandoned house or unkempt lawn becomes a search for common clues to tiny hidden transgressions. This question of knowledge and understanding is perhaps most drastic in our solipsistic reality. Meeks also photographed his partner, Adrianna Ault, in the early mornings before she awoke, on the threshold at which daily domestic life converges with the deepest state of sleep. This plight of supine trance is a place of reprieve beneath the surface of consciousness, free from the chaos and uncertainty of the sentient world above, and alludes to the veiled threat that, ultimately, we are utterly unknowable to one another.--Publisher's web page for the book.

Create Your Own Photo Book Petra Vogt, 2012-05-25 These days, photographs live on hard drives and DVDs in the company of several thousand other images, coming to light on a computer screen only for a short moment, if ever. In that respect our computer is a one-image-at-a-time exhibition of our photographic work. But as photographers, we like to print our best images, frame and show them at home or at an exhibition, or present a collection of prints in a portfolio. This book will guide you through the process of creating a printed and bound portfolio of your photographs, or even a bookstore-quality coffee table book. Learn about every step of the process, from selecting a book publishing service all the way through designing and proofing your photo book. You'll get practical advice on how to work with software provided by services such as Blurb or Viovio, and will learn about relevant concepts of book design, color management, and digital printing. Create your Own Photo Book is the perfect guide for the aspiring amateur photographer as well as the seasoned pro.

10×10 American Photobooks Olga Yatskevich,Russet Lederman,Matthew Carson,2013-09-01 10×10 American Photobooks, an inventive Japanese manga design-inspired bilingual (Japanese-English) publication, documents 200 contemporary American photobooks. As a comprehensive overview of the 10×10 American Photobooks touring reading room and online project, it presents 20 illustrated selection lists from photobook specialists, along with essays on American photobook culture by noted artists, writers, publishers, curators and bibliophiles.

Understanding Photobooks Jorg Colberg,2016-11-10 Understanding Photobooks is a user-friendly guide to engaging with the photographic book– or, as it is widely known, the photobook. Despite its importance as a central medium in which many photographers showcase their work today, there is surprisingly little information on the mechanics of the photobook: what exactly it does and how it does it. Written for makers and artists, this book will help you develop a better understanding of the images, concept, sequence, design, and production of the photobook. With an awareness of the connections between these elements, you'll be able to evaluate photobooks more clearly and easily, ultimately allowing for a deeper and more rewarding experience of the work.

Making Strange Kim Sichel, 2020-03-17 A richly illustrated look at some of the most important photobooks of the 20th century France experienced a golden age of photobook production from the late 1920s through the 1950s. Avant-garde experiments in photography, text, design, and printing, within the context of a growing modernist publishing scene, contributed to an outpouring of brilliantly designed books. Making Strange offers a detailed examination of photobook innovation in France, exploring seminal publications by Brassai, Henri Cartier-Bresson, Robert Frank, Pierre Jahan, William Klein, and Germaine Krull. Kim Sichel argues that these books both held a mirror to their time and created an unprecedented modernist visual language. Sichel provides an engaging analysis through the lens of materiality, emphasizing the photobook as an object with which the viewer interacts haptically as well as visually. Rich in historical context and beautifully illustrated, Making Strange reasserts the role of French photobooks in the history of modern art.

STREETSCENES PHOTOGRAPHY Soeprapto Soedjono, 2018-05-06 Kumpulan dari hasil-hasil melihat, mengamati, menunggu, dan meng'klik' tombol rana kamera di beberapa jalanan, sudut kota, dan di keriuhan suasana kota-kota yang pernah saya kunjungi akhirnya dapat terseleksi dan terhimpun menjadi kumpulan karya-karya fotografi berjudul Streetscenes Photography. Karya-karya ini merupakan hasil pengalaman perekaman melihat hal-hal yang mungkin belum pernah dialami oleh setiap orang, dan kali ini ingin saya bagikan agar bisa juga dilihat oleh lebih banyak lagi orang. Dengan harapan tentu agar dapat 'memperkaya' sekaligus mengapresiasi pengalaman visual yang sudah ada. Untuk memberikan nilai tambah sebagai sumbang-saran bagi kepentingan ranah visual akademis, maka kehadiran buku foto ini juga disertai beberapa tulisan yang cukup bernas dari para pengamat, penyuka, dan praktisi fotografi yang membahas dan menyoroti tema fotografi jalanan ini. Harapannya tiada lain adalah untuk melengkapi 'hidangan fotografi' yang tidak hanya bernuansa visual sahaja, tetapi juga disemarakkan dengan untaian materi wacana tekstual bagi pencapaian pemenuhan hasrat kenikmatan fotografis yang total. Kedua materi visual dan tekstual fotografis tersebut merupakan paduan coequal entities yang saling melengkapi dalam ranah kesetaraan disiplin kekayaan wacana akademis. – Soeprapto Soedjono A collection from the results of noticing, watching, waiting, and clicking the camera shutter button on some streets, city corners, and in the hustle and bustle of the cities I had visited finally got selected and assembled into a collection of street-themed works titled Streetscenes Photography. These works are the result of the recording experience of seeing things everyone had never experienced before, and this time I want to share them so that more people can see it too. I hope the course could 'enrich' as well as appreciate the existing visual experience. To provide added value as a contribution to the interests of the academic visual domain, the presence of this photo book is also accompanied by some pretty pithy writings from observers, enthusiasts, and photography practitioners who discuss and highlight the theme of street photography. The hope is none other than to complement the 'photographic dish' which is not only visually nuanced but also enlivened with textual material threads to achieve the fulfillment of total photographic pleasure desire. Both the visual and textual materials of the photographs are complementary coequal entities in the realm of the equality of the discipline of the richness of academic discourse. – Soeprapto Soedjono

The Photobook Patrizia Di Bello, Colette Wilson, Shamoan Zamir, 2020-08-07 The photograph found a home in the book before it won for itself a place on the gallery wall. Only a few years after the birth of photography, the publication of Henry Fox Talbot's The Pencil of Nature heralded a new genre in the history of the book, one in which the photograph was the primary vehicle of expression and communication, or stood in equal if sometimes conflicted partnership with the written word. In this book, practicing photographers and writers across several fields of scholarship share a range of fresh approaches to reading the photobook, developing new ways of understanding how meaning is shaped by an image's interaction with its text and context and engaging with the visual, tactile and interactive experience of the photobook in all its dimensions. Through close studies of individual works, the photobook from fetishised objet d'art to cheaply-printed booklet is explored and its unique creative and cultural contributions celebrated.

Photobook ,1986*

The Dutch Photobook Frits Gierstberg, Rik Suermondt, 2012 The Dutch photobook is internationally celebrated for its particularly close collaboration between photographer, printer and designer. The current photobook publishing boom in the Netherlands stems from a tradition of excellence that precedes World War II, but the postwar years inaugurated a period of particularly close collaboration between photographers and designers, producing such unique photography books as Ed van der Elsken's Love on the Left Bank (1956) and Koen Wessing's Chili, September 1973 (1973). Innovations such as the photo novel and the company photobook blossomed in the 1950s and 60s; later, other genres emerged to characterize the publishing landscape in Holland, including conceptual and documentary photobooks, books on youth culture, urbanism photobooks and landscape photobooks and travelogues. Examining each of these genres across six themed chapters, The Dutch Photobook features selections from more than 100 historical, contemporary and self-published photobook projects. It includes landmark publications such as Hollandse taferelen by Hans Aarsman (1989), The Table of Power by Jacqueline Hassink (1996), Why Mister Why by Geert van Kesteren (2006) and Empty Bottles by Wassink Lundgren (2007). Dutch photo historians Frits Gierstberg and Rik Suermondt contribute several essays on the history of the genre, the collaborative efforts between photographers and designers and their inspiration and influences, complementing the high-quality reproductions of photobooks throughout. Award-winning designer Joost Grootens contributes unique charts and diagrams that consolidate all of these elements, in a visually unique map of the Dutch photobook.

William Eggleston, 2 1/4, 1999 Born and raised in Mississippi and Tennessee, William Eggleston began taking pictures during the 1960s after seeing Henri Cartier-Bresson's The Decisive Moment. In 1966 he changed from black and white to color film, perhaps to make the medium more his own and less that of his esteemed predecessors. John Sarkowski, when he was curator of photography at the Museum of Modern Art, called Eggleston the first color photographer, and certainly the world in which we consider a color photograph as art has changed because of Eggleston. From 1966 to 1971, Eggleston would occasionally use a two and one quarter inch format for photographs. These are collected and published here for the first time, adding more classic Eggleston images to photography's color canon.

For Every Minute You are Angry You Lose Sixty Seconds of Happiness ,2005 I met Charles Albert Lucien Snelling on a Saturday in April, 1992. He lived in a typical two-up, two-down terraced house amongst many other two-up, two-down terraced houses... it was yellow and orange. In that respect it was totally different from every other house on the street. Charlie was a simple, gentle man. He loved flowers and the names of flowers. He loved color and surrounded himself with color. He loved his wife. Without ever trying or intending to, he showed me that the most important things in life cost nothing at all. He was my antidote to modern living. Over eight years, photographer Julian Germain documented Charlie, an elderly man living alone on England's Southern Coast, unfettered by the misplaced aspirations of the modern world; instead he spent the last years of his life absorbed in memories of his family, his love for flowers, music and the quotidian pleasures of the crossword. Germain's charming photographs are a beautiful, gentle portrait of a gentleman in his twilight years.
