Saldo a favor en el impuesto sobre la renta en personas jurídicas. ¿Cómo hacer viable su devolución? Iván Darío Arango Münera, 2018-07-01 Todas las personas jurídicas tienen el derecho de solicitar el saldo a favor originado en la declaración del impuesto sobre la renta. Es capital de trabajo retenido y está perdiendo en el tiempo poder adquisitivo. Solicitarlo es posible, pero es recomendable realizar una auditoría tributaria previa con el fin de evitar que la solicitud sea rechazada o evitar una corrección a la declaración que pueda terminar en una sanción muy costosa para la empresa. SALDO A FAVOR EN EL IMPUESTO SOBRE LA RENTA EN PERSONAS JURÍDICAS: ¿CÓMO HACER VIABLE SU DEVOLUCIÓN?, es una guía sencilla y fácil de entender que en forma ilustrada y relacionando algunas normas del Estatuto Tributario busca crear confianza entre los empresarios para solicitarle al Estado los mayores impuestos pagados a través de la retención en la fuente. El libro contiene los requisitos básicos de auditoría y el procedimiento mínimo necesario para iniciar el proceso de la devolución del saldo a favor para las personas jurídicas. Debe tenerse presente que la solicitud de la devolución del saldo a favor tiene una vigencia de 2 años. Igualmente su firmeza es de 3 años. Se puede compensar también con otros impuestos y se puede imputar a las siguientes declaraciones del impuesto sobre la renta de manera indefinida. Es de resaltar que una contabilidad bien soportada con documentos fuente que cumplan con la ley tributaria, es garantía de la viabilidad de la devolución del saldo a favor. En materia tributaria, si el contribuyente tiene la prueba idónea podrá entonces ejercer el derecho de la devolución en los términos que establece la Ley. Un contribuyente bien informado de sus deberes formales tendrá la posibilidad de convertir el saldo a favor en un medio rápido de capital de trabajo.

A Phraseological Dictionary of Commercial Correspondence in the English, German, French & Spanish Languages, with an Appendix Containing Lists of Commercial Abbreviations, Geographical Names, the Principal Articles of Commerce, &c Charles Scholl, 1891

El saldo del espíritu Antonio Valdecantos Alcaide, 2014-06-30 ¿Cuál es el papel de las humanidades en la sociedad capitalista en crisis? ¿Qué consecuencias tiene el modelo universitario mercantilista en la ideología del futuro? Según el autor, es necesario repensar el concepto mismo de cultura. El libro entra de lleno en los debates contemporáneos sobre el papel de las humanidades y el pensamiento sin alinearse con ninguna de las posiciones habituales. El autor afirma que la noción misma de cultura, tal como ha cristalizado en nuestros días, entorpece la comprensión del presente y el pasado, y que la tarea de las artes, de las ciencias humanas y del pensamiento habría de repensarse. Antonio Valdecantos sostiene que las universidades europeas han proporcionado en los últimos años un magnífico laboratorio para la privatización integral de la vida en que parece desembocar la primera crisis del capitalismo del siglo XXI. Una enseñanza y una investigación fundadas en la movilidad, la flexibilidad, la innovación y el dinamismo han proporcionado el modelo para la parte amable de la ideología futura, mientras que el modelo de la universidad como una empresa competitiva e integrada en el mercado se ha convertido en la esencia de la educación superior.

Constructicography Benjamin Lyngfelt, Lars Borin, Kyoko Ohara, Tiago Timponi

Torrent, 2018-07-17 In constructionist theory, a constructicon is an inventory of constructions making up the full set of linguistic units in a language. In applied practice, it is a set of construction descriptions – a “dictionary of constructions”. The development of constructicons in the latter sense typically means combining principles of both construction grammar and lexicography, and is probably best characterized as a blend between the two traditions. We call this blend constructicography. The present volume is a comprehensive introduction to the emerging field of constructicography. After a general introduction follow six chapters presenting constructicon projects for English, German, Japanese, Brazilian Portuguese, Russian, and Swedish, respectively, often in relation to a framework of the language. In addition, there is a chapter addressing the interplay between linguistics and language technology in constructicon development, and a final chapter exploring the prospects for interlingual constructicography. This is the first major publication devoted to constructicon development and it should be particularly relevant for those interested in construction grammar, frame semantics, lexicography, the relation between grammar and lexicon, or linguistically informed language technology.

Language Technology for Cultural Heritage Caroline Sporleder, Antal van den Bosch, Kalliopi Zervanou, 2011-07-07 The digital age has had a profound effect on our cultural heritage and the academic research that studies it. Staggering amounts of objects, many of them of a textual nature, are being digitised to make them more readily accessible to both experts and laypersons. Besides a vast potential for more effective and efficient preservation, management, and presentation, digitisation offers opportunities to work with cultural heritage data in ways that were never feasible or even imagined. To explore and exploit these possibilities, an interdisciplinary approach is needed, bringing together experts from cultural heritage, the social sciences and humanities on the one hand, and information technology on the other. Due to a prevalence of textual data in these domains, language technology has a crucial role to play in this endeavour. Language technology can break through the Google barrier by offering the potential to analyse texts at advanced levels, extracting information and knowledge at the level of the humanities or social sciences researcher, who wants to know about the who, what, where, and when, but also the how and the why. At the same time cultural heritage data poses considerable challenges for existing language technology: technology aimed at generic language has to face such disparate problems as historical language variation, OCR digitisation errors, and near-extinct academic expertise. This book is primarily intended for researchers in information technology and language processing who would like to receive a state-of-the-art overview of the whole breadth of the new and vibrant field of language technology for cultural heritage and its associated academic research in the humanities and social sciences. Researchers working in the target domains of cultural heritage, the social sciences and humanities will also find this book useful, as it provides an overview of how language technology can help them with their information needs. The book covers applications ranging from pre-processing and data cleaning, to the adaptation and compilation of linguistic resources, to personalisation, narrative analysis, visualisation and retrieval.
