Esther Wojcicki--Woj to her many friends and admirers--is famous for three things: teaching a high school class that has changed the lives of thousands of kids, inspiring Silicon Valley legends like Steve Jobs, and raising three daughters who have each become famously successful. What do these three accomplishments have in common? They're the result of TRICK, Woj's secret to raising successful people: Trust, Respect, Independence, Collaboration, and Kindness. Simple lessons, but the results are radical. Wojcicki's methods are the opposite of helicopter parenting. As we face an epidemic of parental anxiety, Woj is here to say: relax. Talk to infants as if they are adults. Allow teenagers to pick projects that relate to the real world and their own passions, and let them figure out how to complete them. Above all, let your child lead. How to Raise Successful People offers essential lessons for raising, educating, and managing people to their highest potential. Successful Management by Motivation Bruno S. Frey,Margit Osterloh,2001-10-02 Motivated employees play a crucial role in creating a company's sustainable competitive advantage. Successful Management by Motivation shows that in a knowledge-based society, this goal cannot be achieved by extrinsic motivation alone. Pay for performance often even hurts because it crowds out intrinsic motivation. To succeed, companies have to find ways of fostering and sustaining intrinsic motivation. With the help of in-depth case studies, representative surveys, and analysis based on a large number of firms and employees, this work identifies the various aspects of motivation in companies and shows how the right combination of intrinsic and extrinsic motivation can be achieved.

PRINCIPLES OF SUCCESSFUL LIFE MANAGEMENT Tomáš Ďuroška,2023-01-01 If you can't choose a book because you're tempted to a certain extent by everything, but nothing specific, then you've probably come to the right place. The author of this book is looking for the fabled philosopher's stone and perhaps even the Holy Grail of life management. He searches for inspiration many areas and looks for connections where you wouldn't expect to find any. The author states in his book: \We live in a decadent period of the modern Middle Ages. Blinded by millions of bright screens and phone displays, we live in a time of darkness. We have stopped noticing what is essential. We are hurtling at terrifying speed somewhere, with no idea of the destination. We need to escape this trap and experience a new Renaissance.\

Armed with survey results from more than 2,600 respondents from across the nation, Mr. Westwood and Mr. Johnson take an in-depth look at the five personality traits most commonly identified as essential to entrepreneurial success. Filled with real-life examples, insightful analysis, and action plans at the end of each chapter, The Five Characteristics of a Successful Entrepreneur is an unprecedented journey into the rich, nuanced fabric that has made American entrepreneurs the most savvy and innovative on earth. The Secret of Successful Life William W. McLane,2015-06-12 Excerpt from The Secret of Successful Life The science of life is the supreme science. The art of living is the finest of fine arts. One who knows what is essentially good, and gains it, and who knows also what is of permanent value, and acquires it, possesses that science, and practices the art of living. Men wish success in life. Men seek such things as gratify desire, save from suffering, and give a sense of security and the joy of possessing power. One who studies himself must know that his real life, his pleasure and his power alike, consists in feeling, affection, thought, desire, choice, and power of action. What adds to these, increases life; what lessens these, destroys life. Whatever will make a man normal in feeling, sweet in spirit, pure in affection, clean in imagination, vigorous in thought, wise in choice, calm in contentions, serene in storms, brave in danger, patient under provocation, resolute in disappointment, constant in purpose, and hopeful of the future, is of extreme value in the promotion of life. Know thyself is an old Greek proverb. One may well begin to learn the way of life by a study of himself. Man should heed his deepest hunger. He should give hospitality to his highest desire. He should accept and cultivate his most intimate and enduring relations. Man is a soul. He has a body. He exists in relationship.
