Las personas con diabetes se benefician de esta diversidad que permite el uso de tratamientos cada vez más personalizados. El título se centra en los aspectos prácticos del cuidado y en los nuevos métodos de exploración, monitoreo y tratamiento. Se han desarrollado nuevas estrategias diagnósticas y terapéuticas teniendo en cuenta los avances científicos más recientes. Incluye capítulos sobre los efectos de los tratamientos antihiper glucémicos sobre las complicaciones cardiovasculares y renales en pacientes con diabetes tipo 2, registros continuos de glucosa en sangre en diabetes tipo 1 y 2, enfermedades metabólicas, complicaciones hepáticas e incluso sobre situaciones tan especiales como el tratamiento del pacientes durante el Ramadán. Educativo y práctico, este título está dirigido a todos los profesionales de la salud que participan en el tratamiento de pacientes diabéticos,

Dynamic Issues in Commercial Policy Analysis Richard E. Baldwin,Joseph F. Francois,1999-05-06 First published in 1999, Dynamic Issues in Commercial Policy Analysis focuses on the explicit specification of dynamic mechanisms in the formal analytics of trade models. A wide range of modelling approaches is employed to investigate an even wider range of policy issues, with an overall objective of further extension of the basic conceptual framework of applied commercial policy analysis in the direction of dynamic issues and applications. Professors Baldwin and Francois and their contributors emphasise methods for the analysis of interactions between commercial policy and leading policy issues, including investment performance, economic growth and innovation, the location of industry, migration, and the environment.

Partial Differential Equations of Elliptic Type C. Miranda,2012-12-06 In the theory of partial differential equations, the study of elliptic equations occupies a preeminent position, both because of the importance which it assumes for various questions in mathematical physics, and because of the completeness of the results obtained up to the present time. In spite of this, even in the more classical treatises on analysis the theory of elliptic equations has been considered and illustrated only from particular points of view, while the only expositions of the whole theory, the extremely valuable ones by LICHTENSTEIN and ASCOLI, have the character of encyclopedia articles and date back to many years ago. Consequently it seemed to me that it would be of some interest to try to give an up-to-date picture of the present state of research in this area in a monograph which, without attaining the dimensions of a treatise, would nevertheless be sufficiently extensive to allow the exposition, in some cases in summary form, of the various techniques used in the study of these equations.

Dermatologie esthétique Serge Dahan,Olivier Cogrel,Bertrand Pusel,Jean-Michel Mazer,Catherine Raimbault-Gérard,2020-06-30 Au cours des dernières décennies, l'esthétique est devenue l'une des spécialités phares de la dermatologie. La demande croissante des patients et l'évolution très rapide des techniques disponibles appellent aujourd'hui les professionnels à enrichir leur pratique et à se former efficacement sur un spectre très vaste de procédures. En s'appuyant sur près de 350 illustrations et les meilleurs spécialistes de chaque technique, ce livre aborde de manière détaillée, pratique et exhaustive les méthodes de références. Les premiers chapitres proposent de revoir les bases du vieillissement cutané du visage et du corps, ainsi que les méthodes d'évaluation et les concepts actuels de la prise en charge esthétique en fonction des zones anatomiques. Sont ensuite abordées les techniques et leurs applications au niveau du visage (peelings, lasers et technologies apparentées, toxines botuliques, produits de comblement et traitements combinés) et du corps (lasers, radiofréquences, ultrasons, cryolipolyse, LED, etc.), ainsi que les éventuels effets indésirables et leur gestion. Enfin, l'organisation de la consultation et les spécificités de chaque type de peau sont détaillées pour répondre au mieux à la demande des patients. Cet ouvrage se veut pratique et facilement consultable, c'est pourquoi tous les chapitres respectent autant que possible le même plan : - Techniques ; - Indications et contre-indications ; - Précautions ; - Résultats. Ce livre de référence est incontournable pour la formation initiale à la dermatologie, mais aussi pour le perfectionnement et la mise à niveau des techniques des dermatologues et de tous les praticiens concernés.

History and Myth in Romanian Consciousness Lucian Boia,2001-01-01 Based on the idea that there is a considerable difference between reality and discourse, the author points out that history is constantly reconstructed, adapted and sometimes mythicized from the perspectives of the present day, present states of mind and ideologies. He closely examines historical culture and conscience in nineteenth and twentieth century Romania, particularly concentrating on the impact of the national ideology on history. Boia's innovative analysis identifies several key mythical configurations and shows how Romanians have reconstituted their own highly ideologized history over the last two centuries. The strength of History and Myth in Romanian Consciousness lies in the author's ability to fully deconstruct the entire Romanian historiographic system and demonstrate the increasing acuteness of national problems in general, and in particular the exploitation of history to support national ideology.

Cellular Spaces, Null Spaces and Homotopy Localization Emmanuel Farjoun,1996 In this monograph we give an exposition of some recent development in homotopy theory. It relates to advances in periodicity in homotopy localization and in cellular spaces. The notion of homotopy localization is treated quite generally and encompasses all the known idempotent homotopy functors. It is applied to K-theory localizations, to Morava-theories, to Hopkins-Smith theory of types. The method of homotopy colimits is used heavily. It is written with an advanced graduate student in topology and research homotopy theorist in mind.

Postcolonial Germany Britta Schilling,2014-03-06 At the end of the First World War, Germany appeared to have lost everything: the lives of millions of soldiers and civilians, control over borderland territories, and, above all, a sense of national self-worth in the international political arena. But it also lost almost three million square kilometres of land overseas in the form of colonies and concessions in Africa, China, and the Pacific. Allied powers declared Germany unfit to rule over overseas populations, and it was forcibly decolonized. It thus became the first 'postcolonial' European nation that had participated in the 'new imperialism' of the modern era. The end of colonialism was the beginning of a memory culture that has been remarkably long-lived and dynamic. Postcolonial Germany traces the evolution of the collective memory of German colonialism, stretching from the loss of the colonies across the eras of National Socialism, national division, and the Cold War to the present day. It shows to what extent this memory was intimately bound to objects of material culture in the former colonial metropole, such as tropical fruit sold at colonial balls, state gifts handed to the former colonies at independence, and ethnological items kept as family heirlooms. The study draws on a wide range of sources, including popular literature, oral history, and previously unexplored archival holdings. It marks an important shift in historical methodology, considering the significance of both material culture and private memories in constructing accounts of the past. Above all, it raises important questions about the public responsibilities of postcolonial nations and governments in Europe and their relationship to the private legacies of colonialism.
