Stacki,Supriya Baily,2015-04-10 While many initial education benchmarks are being met, new and continuing challenges exist for adolescent girls in the developing world. Discrimination, violence, marginalization, and health-related issues prevail, making proper education at the middle school level crucial during this unique development time. As we continue to see the expectations for girls grow, education for girls must also find a new place within the evolving norms of political, economic, cultural and social life. This volume takes a global look at the obstacles and enablers in girls' education that can have lasting institutional, psychological and social consequences. It looks at many complex issues affecting education for adolescent girls around the world, including the underlying global demands for women in the formal workforce and the universal impact of gender-based violence, and provides a critical framework through which researchers may explore and critique these Globalisasi pertanian menuju kemandirian pangan berkearifan lokal di Indonesia Prof. Dr. Ir. Zulkifli Sjamsir, MM Dr. Suhartina R, S.Pd, M.Hum, 2023-03-15 Globalisasi atau pengejawantahan adalah istilah yang memiliki hubungan dengan peningkatan keterkaitan dan ketergantungan antar bangsa dan antar manusia di seluruh dunia melalui perdagangan, investasi, perjalanan, budaya populer, dan bentuk-bentuk interaksi yang lain sehingga batas-batas suatu Negara menjadi semakin sempit. Globalisasi adalah suatu proses di mana antar individu, antarkelompok, dan antar Negara saling berinteraksi, bergantung, terkait, dan mempengaruhi satu sama lain yang melintasi batas Negara. Dalam banyak hal, globalisasi mempunyai banyak karakteristik yang sama dengan internasionalisasi sehingga kedua istilah ini sering dipertukarkan. Sebagian pihak sering menggunakan istilah globalisasi yang dikaitkan dengan berkurangnya peran Negara atau batas-batas Negara.

Transforming Research Excellence L. Wallace, Robert Tijssen, 2020-01-07 Modern-day science is under great pressure. A potent mix of increasing expectations, limited resources, tensions between competition and cooperation, and the need for evidence-based funding is creating major change in how science is conducted and perceived. Amidst this perfect storm is the allure of research excellence, a concept that drives decisions made by universities and funders, and defines scientists research strategies and career trajectories. But what is excellent science? And how to recognise it? After decades of inquiry and debate there is still no satisfactory answer. Are we asking the wrong question? Is reality more complex, and excellence in science more elusive, than many are willing to admit? And how should excellence be defined in different parts of the world, particularly in lower-income countries of the Global South where science is expected to contribute to pressing development issues, despite often scarce resources? Many wonder whether the Global South is importing, with or without consenting, the flawed tools for research evaluation from North America and Europe that are not fit for purpose. This book takes a critical view of these issues, touching on conceptual issues and practical problems that inevitably emerge when excellence is at the center of science systems. Emerging from the capacity-building work of the Science Granting Councils Initiative in sub-Saharan Africa, it speaks to scholars, as well as to managers and funders of research around the world. Confronting sticky problems and uncomfortable truths, the chapters contain insights and recommendations that point towards new solutions both for the Global South and the Global North.
