Sistema de indicadores para la mejora y el control integrado de la calidad de los procesos José Antonio Heredia Álvaro, 2001 The present work presents and justifies a method to design a system of indicators that will help with the strategic management of the organisation. Sistema de los indicadores para la mejora y el control integrado de la calidad de los procesos links the indicators at the strategic level (those which form the Balanced Scorecard) with more tactical indicators, used to control and improve organisational processes. Following this perspective, it also develops a rigorous procedure to evaluate the impact of decisions made about the quality of those processes on the financial results. José Antonio Heredia is doctor of Industrial Engineering, and professor in the Universitat Jaume I. His investigation focuses on those methods and new technologies that improve either processes or changes in organisations. The present book has won the II Premi d'Investigació of the Social Council in the Universitat Jaume I, 2001.

Integrated Coastal Zone Management of Coral Reefs Kent Gustavson, Richard M. Huber, H. Jack Ruitenbeek, 2000 The applied research indicates that, to improve awareness, park education programs should be targeted specifically to the user groups primarily through outreach programs. Further, the Park's management programs should be highlighted, particularly the beneficial, tangible products and services (benefits) the Park provides to each user group... The closer the tie between reef conditions and business earnings, the greater the users' support for reef conservation. Coral reefs are sometimes referred to as canaries of the sea because of their early warning ability to show near-shore oceanic stress. Because of their biological diversity, they are also called rainforests of the sea. Coral reefs are vital to the well being of millions of people. Coral reef managers and government officials trying to save their valuable national resources have turned to research on coral reefs for help. The research presented in this publication merits a great deal of notice because the output is useful for decision support and training tools in integrated coastal zone management (ICZM). The work on cost-effectiveness analysis has developed integrated economic and ecological models, relying extensively on fuzzy logic procedures to model impacts and effects of interventions within the reef environment. By contrast, the marine system valuation work provides economic valuations of coral reefs, demonstrating the use of different modeling methods and treating key policy issues within this context. This publication will interest coastal zone experts and managers worldwide

Nursing Outcomes Classification (NOC) Marion Johnson, 2004 Nursing Outcomes Classification (NOC) presents standardized terminology and measures for nursing-sensitive patient outcomes that result from nursing interventions. Developed by a research team at the University of Iowa, the classification can be used by clinicians, students, educators, researchers, and administrators in a variety of clinical, educational, and research venues. The comprehensiveness of the outcomes, and the inclusion of specific indicators that can be used to evaluate and rate the patient in relation to outcome achievement, make this book an invaluable resource for both practicing nurses and students. Includes 330 research-based outcome labels to provide standardization of expected patient outcomes. Presents for each outcome: a definition, list of indicators, and measures to facilitate clinical implementation. Provides links between NOC outcomes and NANDA nursing diagnoses to promote clinical decision making. Organizes NOC outcomes into a conceptual framework using a coded taxonomy to facilitate locating an outcome. Includes examples of implementation in practice and educational settings. Provides linkages with Gordon's Functional Health Patterns. 76 newly approved outcomes: 70 for individual patients and family caregivers, 3 family-level outcomes, and 3 community-level outcomes. Research results from 10 clinical sites testing the reliability and validity of the outcomes. Expanded content covering community settings, reflecting the shift in health care delivery. Core Outcomes for Nursing Specialty Areas featuring core interventions for 41 nursing specialties. An additional column in the Outcomes section measurement scale with N/A to help nurses document the specific outcome indicators that do not apply to their patient.

Dictionary of the Printing and Allied Industries F.J.M. Wijnokus, E.F.P.H. Wijnokus, 2013-10-22 The first edition of this dictionary, compiled by F.J.M. Wijnokus and published in 1967, was the result of years of systematic collection and preparation of thousands of terms and expressions which were until then not to be found in any other dictionary. The material was correlated for use in his daily work and, as the reputation of his private collection spread, there was an increasing demand for access to these findings. Until 1967 there was no comprehensive multilingual dictionary on the subject; former publications were incomplete and out of date and lacked clear definition - often leading to disastrous misunderstandings. Furthermore, the subject of printing, paper and ink technology had never been dealt with, in dictionary form, in relation to other aspects of the graphic industry. This new work, prepared by F.J.M. Wijnokus and his son, has been considerably up-dated. Much time has been devoted to checking the material against the most reliable and authoritative sources. The usefulness of the work has been further enhanced by the addition of Spanish and Italian to the original languages of English, French and German. The first edition was received with much enthusiastic praise and this new dictionary will undoubtedly continue to be an invaluable tool for all those working with the printed word in the widest sense. It is a reference work which should be in the hands of all those in any way connected with the printing industry, paper manufacturers, ink manufacturers, printers, bookbinders, publishers, lithographers, lay-out men and graphical research institutes.

La Agenda 2030 para el Desarrollo Sostenible en el nuevo contexto mundial y regional Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean,2020-06-19 En este documento se revisan, con una visión de conjunto, las principales tendencias económicas, sociales y ambientales en los contextos mundial y regional que inciden en la implementación de los ODS en América Latina y el Caribe y se evalúa prospectivamente el avance hacia sus metas mediante 72 series estadísticas de los indicadores de los ODS en la región. Para tres temas cruciales (desempleo, pobreza extrema y emisiones de gases de efecto invernadero) se simulan escenarios a 2030. Sobre esas bases, se concluye con una evaluación de los riesgos para la consecución de la Agenda 2030 en la región. En todos los análisis, se incorporan elementos referentes a los efectos de la COVID-19 (coronavirus) en la medida permitida por la información disponible en la última semana de marzo de 2020, siempre reconociendo que la incertidumbre sobre el comportamiento de las variables económicas y sociales obliga a ser cautos en la interpretación de las previsiones de corto y mediano plazo.
