Sam Fadala

In the Year 3030 Shirley Scott,2021-04-03 2020 was a rough year worldwide however, it was about to get worse. Tensions were high when a worldwide pandemic caused financial ruin, leaders restricted freedoms and made laws to control the masses. Jobs were scarce and people were going hungry and losing their homes. Chaos reigned in every country. People were tired of being locked down in their homes for over a year. There were riots, killings and many other uprisings around the world. As more and more laws were passed to take away the power of law enforcement, the gangs began to take over and blood ran in the streets. Countries were on fire from internal wars but when the USA went into a civil war, other powerful countries saw this as an opportunity to take over smaller, weaker countries that the USA could no longer defend. There had been two massive secret projects that most of the people around the world knew nothing about, only the rich and powerful leaders knew about these projects. This elite group of people had seen the downfall coming and were preparing to save themselves and their families. Underground building had been going on for decades around the world and the space station had evolved into a massive place where thousands of people could live. Leaders of every country began to go underground or into space for safety. They no longer cared about what happened to the common man, they were going to save their own skins. This was the beginning of great suffering and death and almost the destruction of Earth. It would take another thousand years for someone to take charge and try to save what was left of the human race and the Earth. J.C. knew it was his destiny to help the Earth people and the Earth. The only way to do this was to get both the Earth people and the space Guardians together to start over on a planet that was still healing from wars. He was hoping he could do this while changing the course of a giant meteor, that was headed for the space station and Earth, before it collided with either causing massive destruction and loss of life. He would need help from not only his best friend Noah, but from all the leaders that were left on Earth.
