Women and Disability Mary Jo Deegan,1985 The special needs of women with disabilities have been disregarded in a wide variety of vital areas. Issues pertain to women as wives and mothers. Studies of the effects on female sexuality of such conditions as renal disease and diabetes are lacking, though the sexual functioning of men with these diseases has been researched. On the economic front, the Federal-State Vocational Rehabilitation system and the regulations concerning disability benefits under Social Security provide less adequately for women than for men. Hopefully, this volume will raise the consciousness of its readers to the special status of women with disabilities as a minority group experiences multiple sources of discriminations.

Being Blind's No Handicap Bill Peterson,Shirley Bahlmann,2021-08 A freak accident that stole one of Bill Peterson's eyes when he was 5 years old didn't slow him down a bit. When another accident 30 years later resulted in the loss of his other eye, he had to decide how to live his life in complete darkness. Who would have blamed him if he sat in a rocking chair while tapping his white cane on the porch? Refusing to leave that kind of legacy for his children, Bill forged ahead and found ways to overcome the challenges of total blindness. From driving in a demolition derby to making music in Nashville to creating the Palisade Pals program that spanned decades and benefited thousands of children with special needs, Bill set an example that challenges even people with sight to achieve.

A User's Guide to Community Entry for the Severely Handicapped Ernest Pancsofar,Robert Blackwell,1985-09-30 Once warehoused in institutions, many severely handicapped individuals are now living in community residences. Yet there are few resource materials available for those who face the difficult task of planning and operating these residences. A User's Guide to Community Entry for the Severely Handicapped offers practical guidance for creating the most home-like, least restrictive residential settings. Committed to the right of all individuals to live in their home community, Pancsofar and Blackwell address topics of vital concern to residential planners, administrators, and direct care personnel. The Guide covers administrative and programmatic issues, offering a wealth of suggestions, examples, forms, and checklists. It is a valuable special education textbook and reference work, and an excellent resource for families.

Handicap This Thomas Whitney,2021-03-29 Life is one perplexing experience and ordeal. Behind its intangibility, mystery, and diversity, humanity never gets the deep meaning. It is a meaning that lacks a concrete and tangible answer that further confounds its purpose. However, despite everything, the chaos, mystery, and hullabaloo, life goes on! I am not going to sugarcoat things and tell you deep breaths and meditation will cure what ails you. Hell, I am not going to tell you that ales will cure what ails you. The first thing for me was to understand that life is dark, full of mystery, misery, and your happiness only comes from within. Now do not misunderstand me, the shit is dark, and the rain cloud may follow above your head, but once you accept that, you will learn to love the rain. Life itself is not all sunshine and roses. We see more dark, ill, and uncanny things naturally because it is all around us. Do not believe me? Go ahead and watch the news for a half-hour. Tell me how many good stories you hear because I know it will not be many. My point here is to accept the dark and use dark humor to better grasp your reality. Learning to find the comedic value in life's crazy times will lighten your mood so much coping will become easier. Humor: it's the first piece that you need. Life is dark, so mote it be.

Eating Handicaps Demos Gallender,1979 Abstract: Resources and materials on techniques for diagnosing, helping, and teaching people with eating handicaps have been collected for the use of parents, teachers, and health care workers directly involved with such people. The first section of the book addresses the anatomy and physiology of the bone, muscle, gland and nerve structures associated with the eating process, comprising about the first 8 inches of the digestive tract. The second section focuses on specific handicaps, and techniques which may be applied to aid and improve eating abilities. Each eating reflex is described, including sucking, bite reflex, breathing patterns, etc., and the appropriate remedial techniques are illustrated with diagrams and photographs. A basic understanding of normal oral development, underlying theory and practical management provide an integrated, clear and concise approach to physical therapy for the eating problems of handicapped people.
