Esguerra, 2023-06-06 A girl is to become a tool for a shadowy conspiracy, which will determine her fate. The year is 2030. The world is divided into supernational unions yet they don't control all nation-states, inviting an acceptable quantity of wars for mercenaries to find. This was the result of an alien ship crashing into the Democratic Republic of Afghanistan in the year 1985 with the supernational unions born from a world war from 1989 to 1991 that saw the use of nuclear weapons. Four months after being assigned to monitor Japanese corporate heiress Maria Hoshikawa, Iron Dutchman Services is tasked to assist the Foreign Intelligence Service of the New United Nations in assisting with an operation to rescue one Maral Eminovna Guliyeva, a teenage girl forced into sexual slavery, from Mexican drug lord Segismundo Alba. In truth, the mission is an attempt by the FIS to draw out Anton Oleksandrovich Kravchenko, the sex trafficker who sold Guliyeva to Alba, in order to capture him and use him for future negotiations with the Eurasian Tsardom as they failed to capture Kravchenko. However, the Gatekeepers of Knowledge, the organization mostly responsible for the reconstruction of the world after the Third World War, intend on taking advantage of this operation as they want Guliyeva as well. This, along with the Eurasian Tsardom's

OVR launching an operation to bring Imperial Eurasian Navy Walgear pilot Vladimir Nikolayevich Mirov to Japan to learn about Tarou Ganji and Tatev Mirzoyan's feelings about the mission, will affect Guliyeva's fate...

Synchrony and Diachrony Anna Giacalone

Ramat, Caterina Mauri, Piera Molinelli, 2013-05-31

The focus of this volume is on the relation between synchrony and diachrony. It is examined in the light of the most recent theories of language change and linguistic variation. What has traditionally been treated as a dichotomy is now seen rather in terms of a dynamic interface. The contributions to this volume aim at exploring the most adequate tools to describe and understand the manifestations of this dynamic interface. Thorough analyses are offered on hot topics of the current linguistic debate, which are all involved in the analysis of the synchrony-diachrony interface: gradualness of change, synchronic variation and gradience, constructional approaches to grammaticalization, the role of contact-induced transfer in language change, analogy. Case studies are discussed from a variety of languages and dialects including English, Welsh, Latin, Italian and Italian dialects, Dutch, Swedish, German and German dialects, Hungarian. This volume is of great interest to a broad audience within linguistics, including historical linguistics, typology, pragmatics, and areal linguistics.

Aviation Impact Variable (AIV) Editor Evaluation Report , 1997 This report summarizes the Aviation Impact Variable (AIV) Editor evaluation conducted at the Aviation Weather Center (AWC) in Kansas City, Missouri, by ACT-320, from February 13 through 23, 1996. The AIV Editor was developed by the Forecast System Laboratory (FSL) to enable forecasters to view and edit weather data grids used to issue Airmen Meteorological Statements (AIRMETS). The current prototype version addresses in flight icing potential only. Many users indicated that training was inadequate; therefore, they were uncomfortable using several editor functions, especially the higher level concepts (i.e., Vertical Interpolation, Algorithmic Parameters, and Volume Viewer). The effect of training was evident in the results, as the higher level concepts received less than acceptable utility and ease of use ratings while most other concepts received acceptable ratings. However, almost all require some improvement. The conclusions and recommendations contained within this report should be assessed for their feasibility and integrated into the AIV Editor, if possible. While these recommendations will not resolve every problem, they will, if implemented overcome many problems currently experienced by the forecaster.

The Young Knight and His Metal Steed A.I.V.
Esguerra, 2022-10-12 A seemingly simple protection job alerts the existence of a shadowy conspiracy. The year is 2030. The world is divided into supernational unions yet they don't control all nation-states, inviting an acceptable quantity of wars for mercenaries to find. This was the result of an alien ship crashing into the Democratic Republic of Afghanistan in the year 1985 with the supernational unions born from a world war from 1989 to 1991 that saw the use of nuclear weapons. The mercenary group Iron Dutchman Services, after another pay cut due to the damage wrought from their last job, takes up a job offer from the Foreign Intelligence Service of the New United Nations to go to Japan to secretly protect Maria Hoshikawa, a teenage corporate heiress. One member, Tarou Ganji, seventeen years old, uses this job as an opportunity to figure out his past as Maria has a similar upbringing (growing up in a country with different physical features from its inhabitants). The risk comes in acting like a normal teenager; something Tarou never learned to do as he learned how to use a gun at the age of ten. However, shadowy forces intend on using Maria for their own ends. They employ a man that made Tarou what he is today to kidnap her, having him work with the OVR foreign intelligence agency of the Eurasian Tsardom. This will complicate Tarou's mission as many now have an interest with a teenage girl, putting the fate of the world at risk.
