Сканирование и распознавание текстов. Самоучитель по работе с ABBYY® FineReader 10 Александр Жадаев,2022-01-29

Работать с электронными документами во многом удобнее и проще, чем с их бумажными аналогами. Электронный документ можно редактировать, использовать при создании собственных работ, его легко копировать и пересылать по электронной почте. Вместе с тем, многие материалы изначально доступны нам в нередактируемом виде (бумажные или отсканированные документы, цифровые фотографии). Программа ABBYY® FineReader – лучший инструмент для создания электронных копий любых печатных материалов: книг, справочников, журналов, договоров, бланков. Книга включает описание приемов сканирования и распознавания разных оригиналов – от простых книжных страниц до сложно оформленных документов. А приведенные скриншоты программы позволят читателю быстро освоить интерфейс ABBYY® FineReader и получить практические навыки по работе с программой. Изложение материала сопровождается практическими примерами. Читатели, которые еще не пробовали самостоятельно переводить печатные материалы в электронный вид, найдут в этой книге простое пошаговое руководство. Для тех же, кто хочет в совершенстве освоить работу с программой, книга откроет многочисленные тонкости настройки для эффективного использования ABBYY® FineReader. Methods and Applications of Artificial Intelligence George A. Vouros, Themistoklis Panayiotopoulos, 2004-04-22

Artificial intelligence has attracted a renewed interest from distinguished scientists and has again raised new, more realistic this time, expectations for future advances regarding the development of theories, models and techniques and the use of them in applications pervading many areas of our daily life. The borders of human-level intelligence are still very far away and possibly unknown. Nevertheless, recent scientific work inspires us to work even harder in our exploration of the unknown lands of intelligence. This volume contains papers selected for presentation at the 3rd Hellenic Conference on Artificial Intelligence (SETN 2004), the official meeting of the Hellenic Society for Artificial Intelligence (EETN). The first meeting was held in the University of Piraeus, 1996 and the second in the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (AUTH), 2002. SETN conferences play an important role in the dissemination of the innovative and high-quality scientific results in artificial intelligence which are being produced mainly by Greek scientists in institutes all over the world. However, the most important effect of SETN conferences is that they provide the context in which people meet and get to know each other, as well as a very good opportunity for students to get closer to the results of innovative artificial intelligence research.

Natural Language Processing for Historical Texts Michael Piotrowski, 2022-05-31 More and more historical texts are becoming available in digital form. Digitization of paper documents is motivated by the aim of preserving cultural heritage and making it more accessible, both to laypeople and scholars. As digital images cannot be searched for text, digitization projects increasingly strive to create digital text, which can be searched and otherwise automatically processed, in addition to facsimiles. Indeed, the emerging field of digital humanities heavily relies on the availability of digital text for its studies. Together with the increasing availability of historical texts in digital form, there is a growing interest in applying natural language processing (NLP) methods and tools to historical texts. However, the specific linguistic properties of historical texts -- the lack of standardized orthography, in particular -- pose special challenges for NLP. This book aims to give an introduction to NLP for historical texts and an overview of the state of the art in this field. The book starts with an overview of methods for the acquisition of historical texts (scanning and OCR), discusses text encoding and annotation schemes, and presents examples of corpora of historical texts in a variety of languages. The book then discusses specific methods, such as creating part-of-speech taggers for historical languages or handling spelling variation. A final chapter analyzes the relationship between NLP and the digital humanities. Certain recently emerging textual genres, such as SMS, social media, and chat messages, or newsgroup and forum postings share a number of properties with historical texts, for example, nonstandard orthography and grammar, and profuse use of abbreviations. The methods and techniques required for the effective processing of historical texts are thus also of interest for research in other domains. Table of Contents: Introduction / NLP and Digital Humanities / Spelling in Historical Texts / Acquiring Historical Texts / Text Encoding and Annotation Schemes / Handling Spelling Variation / NLP Tools for Historical Languages / Historical Corpora / Conclusion / Bibliography

Virtual-Office Tools for a High-Margin Practice David J. Drucker,Joel P. Bruckenstein,2010-05-21 Tired of spending more time with filing cabinets than with clients? Is overhead eating up margins? Now, two leading financial planners and columnists deliver the help advisers have been begging for. Virtual-Office Tools for a High-Margin Practice is a nontechnical trove of technology, clever workarounds, and procedural efficiencies tailored to help financial advisers move toward a paperless office, while still complying with SEC record-keeping requirements. The authors show planners how to reduce the amount of paperwork in their offices by 99 percent, slash overhead, and find anything they need in one minute or less by adapting innovative software tools and shifting from on-site employees to remote assistants and virtual work partners. Until now, creative ways of working this smart were hard to come by. With this book, they are available, ready to go, and easy to implement.

Language Technology for Cultural Heritage Caroline Sporleder, Antal van den Bosch, Kalliopi Zervanou, 2011-07-07 The digital age has had a profound effect on our cultural heritage and the academic research that studies it. Staggering amounts of objects, many of them of a textual nature, are being digitised to make them more readily accessible to both experts and laypersons. Besides a vast potential for more effective and efficient preservation, management, and presentation, digitisation offers opportunities to work with cultural heritage data in ways that were never feasible or even imagined. To explore and exploit these possibilities, an interdisciplinary approach is needed, bringing together experts from cultural heritage, the social sciences and humanities on the one hand, and information technology on the other. Due to a prevalence of textual data in these domains, language technology has a crucial role to play in this endeavour. Language technology can break through the Google barrier by offering the potential to analyse texts at advanced levels, extracting information and knowledge at the level of the humanities or social sciences researcher, who wants to know about the who, what, where, and when, but also the how and the why. At the same time cultural heritage data poses considerable challenges for existing language technology: technology aimed at generic language has to face such disparate problems as historical language variation, OCR digitisation errors, and near-extinct academic expertise. This book is primarily intended for researchers in information technology and language processing who would like to receive a state-of-the-art overview of the whole breadth of the new and vibrant field of language technology for cultural heritage and its associated academic research in the humanities and social sciences. Researchers working in the target domains of cultural heritage, the social sciences and humanities will also find this book useful, as it provides an overview of how language technology can help them with their information needs. The book covers applications ranging from pre-processing and data cleaning, to the adaptation and compilation of linguistic resources, to personalisation, narrative analysis, visualisation and retrieval.
