Computing and Monitoring in Anesthesia and Intensive Care Kazuyuki Ikeda, Matsuyuki Doi, Tomiei Kazama, Kazuo Sato, Tsutomu Oyama, 2012-12-06 In April of 1991, 425 participants from 18 countries met in Hamamatsu in Japan for the 6th International Symposium on Computing in Anesthesia and Intensive Care (ISCAIC). The meeting was one of the most spectacular academic and fruitful in the history of ISCAIC. We had four days of fascinating presentations and discussions covering many areas of technology in Anesthesia and intensive care. New technologies were presented and old technology reexamined. The measures of success of the meeting were the excellent research material in oral and poster presentations, and state of the art reviews of the latest issues by distinguished worldwide key speakers. It must be sure that the meeting was most effective to promote and disseminate up-to-date information in these fields across the participating countries. The aim of this book is to record the exciting achievements of the meeting and extend them further among our colleagues. We hope the readers of this book will share the same excitement as well as the latest information in this speciality. Finally we would like to extend our deepest gratitude to all participants and others for the contribution to the compilation of this book. Kazuyuki Ikeda, M.D.

On-line Monitoring Systems and Computer Tool Interoperability Thomas Ludwig, 2003 Ludwig (Institut für Informatik, Ruprecht-Karls-Universität Heidelberg, Germany) and Miller (computer science, U. of Wisconsin, US) present five papers examining the construction and methodology of tools for debugging and performance analysis in parallel programs. After a review of the past decade's work in debuggers and performance analyzers, papers look at a tool infrastructure, an operational tool environment for multi-thread and multi-process debugging and execution visualization, multi-execution performance tuning, and the specification of performance properties of parallel applications using compound events. Program Monitoring and Visualization Clinton L. Jeffery,2012-12-06 This book presents software visualization at a level suitable for a senior level undergraduate or graduate course, or for the interested technical professional. The approach is to give a survey of the field, and then present a specific research framework designed to reduce the effort required to write visualization tools. A wide range of simple program control flow and data structure visualizations are then presented as examples of how to obtain information about program behavior, and how to present it graphically. Source code fragments and screen images illustrate each example.

Display and Interface Design Kevin B. Bennett,John M. Flach,2011-03-09 Technological advances in hardware and software provide powerful tools with the potential to design interfaces that are powerful and easy to use. Yet, the frustrations and convoluted work-arounds often encountered make it clear that there is substantial room for improvement. Drawn from more than 60 years of combined experience studying, implementing, and teaching about performance in human-technology systems, Display and Interface Design: Subtle Science, Exact Art provides a theoretically-based yet practical guide for ecological display and interface design. Written from the perspective of cognitive systems engineering and ecological interface design, the book delineates how to design interfaces tailored to specific work demands, leverage the powerful perception-action skills of the human, and use powerful interface technologies wisely. This triadic approach (domain, human, interface) to display and interface design stands in sharp contrast to traditional dyadic (human, interface) approaches. The authors describe general principles and specific strategies at length and include concrete examples and extensive design tutorials that illustrate quite clearly how these principles and strategies can be applied. The coverage spans the entire continuum of interfaces that might need to be developed in today's work places. The reason that good interfaces are few and far between is really quite simple: they are extremely difficult to design and build properly. While there are many books available that address display design, most of them focus on aesthetic principles but lack scientific rigor, or are descriptive but not prescriptive. Whether you are exploring the principles of interface design or designing and implementing interfaces, this book elucidates an overarching framework for design that can be applied to the broad spectrum of existing domains.

Big Data Technologies for Monitoring of Computer Security: A Case Study of the Russian Federation Sergei Petrenko,2018-05-17 This timely book offers rare insight into the field of cybersecurity in Russia -- a significant player with regard to cyber-attacks and cyber war. Big Data Technologies for Monitoring of Computer Security presents possible solutions to the relatively new scientific/technical problem of developing an early-warning cybersecurity system for critically important governmental information assets. Using the work being done in Russia on new information security systems as a case study, the book shares valuable insights gained during the process of designing and constructing open segment prototypes of this system. Most books on cybersecurity focus solely on the technical aspects. But Big Data Technologies for Monitoring of Computer Security demonstrates that military and political considerations should be included as well. With a broad market including architects and research engineers in the field of information security, as well as managers of corporate and state structures, including Chief Information Officers of domestic automation services (CIO) and chief information security officers (CISO), this book can also be used as a case study in university courses.

Conversion of the An/pdr-t1b Radiac to a Remote Area Monitor P. A. Covey, 1963 A reliable remote-area monitor was devised from two AN/PDR-T1B gamma survey meters by coupling the electronics of one unit, located at the readout position, with the ion chamber from a second instrument located at the remote monitoring position. Cable lengths up to 50 ft were used with no appreciable signal degradation. The instrument is useful in fields up to 500 r/hr, and it has produced measurements agreeing with a standard NRDL Model 103 gamma intensity vs time recorder (GITR) to within $\pm 20\%$.
