It is nothing like co-ed club hockey back in Georgia! First of all? There's checking (anything that hinders the player with possession of the puck, ranging from a stick check all the way to a physical sweep). And then, there is Jack—his very attractive but moody captain. A collection of the first half, freshmen and sophomore year, of the megapopular webcomic series of the same name, Check, Please!: #Hockey is the first book of a hilarious and stirring two-volume coming-of-age story about hockey, bros, and trying to find yourself during the best four years of your life. This book includes updated art and a hilarious, curated selection of Bitty's beloved tweets. This is perfect for fans of the hit series Heartstopper!

Perfect for fans of the hit series Heartstopper! Eric Bittle is heading into his junior year at Samwell University, and not only does he have new teammates—he has a brand new boyfriend! Bitty and Jack must navigate their new, secret, long-distance relationship, and decide how to reveal their relationship to friends and teammates. And on top of that, Bitty's time at Samwell is quickly coming to an end...It's two full hockey seasons packed with big wins and high stakes!

The Small Book of Hip Checks Erica Rand,2020-11-23 In The Small Book of Hip Checks Erica Rand uses multiple meanings of hip check—including an athlete using their hip to throw an opponent off-balance and the inspection of racialized gender—to consider the workings of queer gender, race, and writing. Explicitly attending to processes of writing and revising, Rand pursues interruption, rethinking, and redirection to challenge standard methods of argumentation and traditional markers of heft and fluff. She writes about topics including a trans shout-out in a Super Bowl ad, the heyday of lavender dildos, ballet dancer Misty Copeland, the criticism received by figure skater Debi Thomas and tennis great Serena Williams for competing in bodysuits while Black, and the gendering involved in identifying the remains of people who die trying to cross into the United States south of Tucson, Arizona. Along the way, Rand encourages making muscle memory of experimentation and developing an openness to being conceptually knocked sideways. In other words, to be hip-checked.

Reality Check Peter Abrahams,2009-04-28 QB of the varsity football team. Passing grades in all his classes. Dating the hottest—and smartest—girl at school. Summer job paying more than minimum wage. Things in Cody's world seem to be going pretty well. Until, that is, his girlfriend, Clea, is sent off to boarding school across the country, and a torn ACL ends his high school football career. But bad things come in threes—or in Cody's case, sixes and twelves—and the worst is yet to come. While limping through town one day, Cody sees a newspaper heading: Local Girl Missing. Clea, now his ex, has disappeared from her boarding school in Vermont, and the only clue is a letter she sent to Cody the morning of her disappearance. With that as his guide, Cody sets out to find out what happened. Once in Vermont, he unearths the town's secrets—and finds out that football isn't the only thing he's good at. Reality Check is another edge-of-your-seat suspense novel by the New York Times bestselling and Edgar Award-nominated author of Down the Rabbit Hole.

Check Michael Burton,2021-05 Miles Norris, a retired computer salesman, has lost the will to live. Approaching 80 years of age, his wife taken by cancer, he was banished from an assisted living center in Florida because of violent behavior. Now his only son, Scott, is moving him, against his will, to the Better Life Spa, an expensive, state-of-the-art Alzheimer's center outside Washington, D.C. that claims to be able to provide all the care the old man could ever need—or so they think. Scott is unaware that the Better Life also operates a parallel business, a secret one, unrelated to healthcare. However, also like Scott, they too, the Better Life Spa, fail to appreciate that the old man that they have admitted to their facility, depressed and unresponsive, is much more than he appears. When the two forces collide, Miles Norris and The Better Life Spa, a violent game of human chess plays out. A fun rollercoaster of intrigue and revelations leads to one truth: there can be no stalemate or surrender in this contest. It will only end with checkmate. Amazon review, 5 stars, James Bond in an Assisted Living Center The lead character is really a 'geriatric James Bond'. As his skill set is unveiled the reader is lead to conclude there is more to this man than just another slightly confused patient in an assisted living facility. The action of this lead character is 'age appropriate' and not the fantasy of so many thriller/suspense characters. The epilogue is poignant and brings the reader full circle as one life has ended and another is beginning. This is the best crime/thriller book I have read in ages. It would make a wonderful movie. Tommy Lee Jones should play Miles Norris. I would pay to see that. Amazon Review, 5 stars, Gripping and thrilling spy mystery! Reviewed in the United States on May 30, 2021 Verified Purchase I like spy thriller novels and this one kept my interest from the beginning. It's setting is in an assisted living center where you wouldn't expect to have such suspenseful drama take place. The author drew me in and built up the suspense till the very end. All the chess moves were intriguing. I highly recommend this novel.

Checked Cynthia Kadohata,2019-02-12 “Kadohata’s slapshot is the heart-swelling narrative of a father and son...Truly powerful.” –Jason Reynolds “A deeply poignant story about a boy sorting out his priorities.” –Publishers Weekly (starred review) “A vivid, memorable portrayal of a boy within his family, his sport, and his gradually broadening world.” –Booklist (starred review) From Newbery Medalist Cynthia Kadohata comes a brilliantly-realized novel about a hockey player who must discover who he is without the sport that defines him. Hockey is Conor’s life. His whole life. He’ll say it himself, he’s a hockey beast. It’s his dad’s whole life too—and Conor is sure that’s why his stepmom, Jenny, left. There are very few things Conor and his dad love more than the game, and one of those things is their Doberman, Sinbad. When Sinbad is diagnosed with cancer, Conor chooses to put his hockey lessons and practices on hold so they can pay for Sinbad’s chemotherapy. But without hockey to distract him, Conor begins to notice more. Like his dad’s crying bouts, and his friend’s difficult family life. And then Conor notices one more thing: Without hockey, the one thing that makes him feel special, is he really special at all?
