Unlike the atomic or nuclear bombs, Professor Martinelli's formula is exacting in its target: Annihilation. Professor Martinelli reached out to the President for assistance, but his call for help was intercepted by government parties unknown. It's a race against time as corrupt forces of the United States government agencies set out to obtain Professor Martinelli's Formula by any means necessary. But little do they realize that he will never surrender his formula. As far as the safety of the project goes, no one can be trusted and we are all...expendable.

Covering only the essentials, and how they are applied to the NEX, this crash course will get you out there shooting quality photos without bogging you down in unnecessary details.
