The speaking lips animations: The animations you will produce are called animated GIF files. GIF stands for Graphics Interchange Format. Your animated GIFs can be incorporated into PowerPoint shows as described in a later chapter or they could, if required, be used on web pages. Animated GIFs are useful for short duration movie sequences and that is ideal for lip reading practice clips. You will also find that animated GIFs are fairly simple to modify to get a desired result. The PowerPoint shows you produce can be set up to step through a given sequence of spoken phrases or sentences and to repeat the cycle indefinitely. They can also be scaled to fit a particular display screen or a particular viewing situation.
