Writing the Memory of the City Markus Mai, Thomas Wiczak, 2007 Berlin has long been the capital of European graffiti. Here, theory and practice have met in rare fusion, driving development forward. Writing the Memory of the City offers a unique look at the creativity of 15 Berlin graffiti artists, presenting their thoughts, ideas and studies. Driven by their love of the organic city, these writers go through town in search of remote and hidden locations. This is urbanism as it has not been in evidence since Baudelaire's celebration of the city 150 years ago.

Art and Gentrification in the Changing Neoliberal Landscape Tijen Tunali, 2021-05-30 Art and Gentrification in the Changing Neoliberal Landscape brings together various disciplinary perspectives and diverse theories on art's dialectical and evolving relationship with urban regeneration processes. It engages in the accumulated discussions on art's role in gentrification, yet changes the focus to the growing phenomenon of artistic protests and resistance in the gentrified neighborhoods. Since the 1980s, art and artists' roles in gentrification have been at the forefront of urban geography research in the subjects of housing, regeneration, displacement and new urban planning. In these accounts the artists have been noted to contribute at all stages of gentrification, from triggering it to eventually being displaced by it themselves. The current presence of art in our neoliberal urban spaces illustrates the constant negotiation between power and resistance. And there is a growing need to recognize art's shifting and conflicting relationship with gentrification. The chapters presented here share a common thesis that the aesthetic reconfiguration of the neoliberal city does not only allow uneven and exclusionary urban redevelopment strategies but also facilitates the growth of anti-gentrification resistance. The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, urban cultures, cultural geography and urban studies as well as contemporary art practitioners and policymakers.

Spray City, 1994 It all started when the Academy of Fine Arts in Berlin started to prepare the exhibition Spray City in the included in X94 - young art and culture. Within the research for this event the authors discovered the unbelievable variety of this phenomenon called Grafitti. A fantastic world of pictures, complex, multi-layered philosophies and massive prejudices in all classes of the people were only some of the problems and contrasts that were met. This led to the idea to continue researches in the field this uncommon, transitory and still so vast new expression of art. The result is a kind of an ongoing encyclopedia of Grafitti containing 14 volumes so far.

The Berlin Wall Hermann Waldenburg, 1990 A fine, full color, selection of, maybe, the world's longest mural--the Western side of the late Wall. The images are powerful and wide-ranging, but chiefly political. An important document.

I Am 1up One United Power, 2015 1UP (One United Power) is a name which provokes different emotions within the Graffiti scene: respect, admiration, envy, competitiveness and inspiration. It was almost 10 years ago that 1UP first appeared on the scene, producing work throughout Berlin - from small tags in the subways to large-scaled pieces on walls, skyscrapers or trains. Since they first arrived, no surface in Berlin has been guaranteed to be safe from their creative prowess.

Berlin street art Sven Zimmermann, 2005 Sie kommen nachts. Mit ihnen kommen Fotokopien, Tapetenbahnen, Kleister, Paketzettel und Sprühschablonen. Morgens sind ihre Aktivitäten sichtbar. An Fassaden, Trafohäuschen, auf Werbetafeln, Verkehrsschildern und Containern kleben geheimnisvolle Botschaften. Lässt der Betrachter sich einmal auf sie ein, wird er Linda, Gould, Mr. Robot, Tower, Fuck your Crew und die vielen Namenlosen nicht mehr los. Er wird süchtig nach neuen Botschaften. Sven Zimmermann ist diesen originellen Künstlern seit Jahren auf der Spur. Auf unzähligen Fotos hat er die Art of Rebellion verewigt.

Graffiti and Street Art Konstantinos Avramidis, Myrto Tsilimpounidi, 2016-12-08 Graffiti and street art images are ubiquitous, and they enjoy a very special place in collective imaginary due to their ambiguous nature. Sometimes enigmatic in meaning, often stylistically crude and aesthetically aggressive, yet always visually arresting, they fill our field of vision with texts and images that no one can escape. As they take place on surfaces and travel through various channels, they provide viewers an entry point to the subtext of the cities we live in, while questioning how we read, write and represent them. This book is structured around these three distinct, albeit by definition interwoven, key frames. The contributors of this volume critically investigate underexplored urban contexts in which graffiti and street art appear, shed light on previously unexamined aspects of these practices, and introduce innovative methodologies regarding the treatment of these images. Throughout, the focus is on the relationship of graffiti and street art with urban space, and the various manifestations of these idiosyncratic meetings. In this book, the emphasis is shifted from what the physical texts say to what these practices and their produced images do in different contexts. All chapters are original and come from experts in various fields, such as Architecture, Urban Studies, Sociology, Criminology, Anthropology and Visual Cultures, as well as scholars that transcend traditional disciplinary frameworks. This exciting new collection is essential reading for advanced undergraduates as well as postgraduates and academics interested in the subject matter. It is also accessible to a non-academic audience, such as art practitioners and policymakers alike, or anyone keen on deepening their knowledge on how graffiti and street art affect the ways urban environments are experienced, understood and envisioned.

Political Graffiti in Critical Times Ricardo Campos,Yiannis Zaimakis,Andrea Pavoni,2021-02-03 Whether aesthetically or politically inspired, graffiti is among the oldest forms of expression in human history, one that becomes especially significant during periods of social and political upheaval. With a particular focus on the demographic, ecological, and economic crises of today, this volume provides a wide-ranging exploration of urban space and visual protest. Assembling case studies that cover topics such as gentrification in Cyprus, the convulsions of post-independence East Timor, and opposition to Donald Trump in the American capital, it reveals the diverse ways in which street artists challenge existing social orders and reimagine urban landscapes.
