Industrial Waste Treatment Nelson Leonard Nemerow, 2010-07-27 Taking the reader through the history of industrial waste treatment and directing them toward a new path of best practice, Industrial Waste Treatment illustrates how current treatment techniques are affected by regulatory and economic constraints, scientific knowledge and tolerances. This book provides the reader with the basis for a more effective method of waste treatment which is sustainable and supportive of industrial improvements. Overall, it provides valuable information for planners, industrial, civil and environmental engineers and government officials for a better understanding of current practices and regulatory history and how these factors relate to the ability to complete environmental solutions to industrial waste problems. Provides environmental history from a professional/technical point-of-view as a basis for total solutions engineering Includes sustainable practice necessary for the 21st Century Thoroughly explores industry and environmental regulations over the past 150 years

Building Services Handbook Fred Hall, Roger Greeno, 2001 The Building Services Handbook summarises concisely, in diagrams and brief explanations, all elements of building services. Practice, techniques and procedures are clearly defined with supplementary references to regulations and relevant standards. This is an essential text for all construction/building services students up to undergraduate level, and is also a valuable reference text for building service professionals. This new book is based on Fred Hall's 'Essential Building Services and Equipment 2ed' and has been thoroughly updated throughout. It is a companion volume to the highly popular textbook 'Building Construction Handbook' by Chudley and Greeno, which is now in its fourth edition. The must-have guide to building services Uses the visual style of the Building Construction Handbook to present key information, techniques and regulations in an accessible wayA fully updates, expanded and re-designed text based on Hall's Essential Building Services
