Lee Kuan Yew's Educational Legacy Oon Seng Tan, Ee Ling Low, David Hung, 2017-03-06 The late Mr Lee Kuan Yew (1923-2015) laid the foundations for the creation of a first-world education system in Singapore. Like many other issues concerning the country, his ideas for education were transported in a red box, which he took with him wherever he went, even up to his last days. Inside it was always something designed to help create a better life for all Singaporeans. The editors of this volume were inspired by the idea of Mr Lee's red box and by the Founding Father's selfless drive to continuously improve the country he loved. As such, the book explores in detail Mr Lee's plans, including chapters on Education: The Man and His Ideas; Foundational Pillars of Singapore's Education; Education for Nationhood and Nation-Building; and 21st Century Readiness and Adaptability. The chapters also include the authors' visions, no matter how great or small, for the future of education in Singapore. They explore how Mr Lee's educational policies resulted in a system that attracts the right and best candidates to become teachers; that forms them into effective teachers, specialists and leaders; that ensures they and the education system are able to deliver the best possible learning for every child; and that establishes a legacy that has allowed the education system to continue to move forward while tackling the challenges of its success. From the little red box came the ideas that led to the country's meteoric rise. Likewise, the editors hope this book will lead to a brighter future in education.

Urban Sprawl Gregory D. Squires, 2002 Urban Sprawl is not simply a development that undercuts the quality of life for suburbanites. It has raised alarms across the nation, as fair housing advocates, environmentalists, land use planners, and even many suburban employers who cannot find the workers they need, have recognized that the costs go far beyond aesthetics. Despite the agreement that something needs to be done, there is no consensus on what works. Urban Sprawl: Causes, Consequences, and Policy Responses assembles leading scholars who analyze the major causes and consequences of urban sprawl and the policy initiatives that are being explored in response to these developments.

Stephen Kaltenbach Constance Lewallen, Ted Mann, Gwen Allen, Lawrence Rinder, Sarah Lehre-Graiwer, 2020-04-10 A pioneering figure in the history of Conceptual art, Kaltenbach is long overdue for scholarly treatment; in the past decade and a half there has been a resurgence of interest in his work, but this will be the first major publication dedicated to him and his unique contribution to post-1960 art. This fully illustrated book is published on the occasion of an exhibition at the Manetti Shrem Museum of Art (January 26-May 10, 2019). Essays by the principle authors, exhibition co-curators Constance Lewallen and Ted Mann, will explore, respectively, Kaltenbach's dialectic of concealment and exposure, and his enduring interest in the nature of artistic influence and authorship. Contributing essays by Gwen Allen, Sarah Lehrer-Graiwer, and Lawrence Rinder will focus on more specific works or bodies of work: Kaltenbach's seminal Artforum Ads of 1968-69; his series of Life-Dramas; and his monumental painting Portrait of My Father (1972-79). Finally, the book will include an exhibition history and bibliography.

Sanskrit Michael Coulson, Richard Francis Gombrich, James D. Benson, 2006 Do you want to read Indian classics in the original? Do you want to progress quickly beyond the basics? Do you want to reach a high standard? 'Teach Yourself Sanskrit' is not only a primer, but also a work of scholarship, for the book contains much original material on Sanskrit syntax and usage. The carefully graded chapters explain Sanskrit grammar and style with exceptional clarity. The text includes an introduction to the nāgarī script, a useful explanation of how to use Sanskrit commentaries, plenty of examples from actual Sanskrit works, extensive vocabularies into and out of Sanskrit and a full key to all the exercises. The text has been completely re-set for this 2006 edition.

Marmosets & Tamarins Jeffrey A. French, 2005

Radical Figures: Painting in the New Millennium Lydia Yee, 2020-02-27 This timely publication, accompanying a brand new survey exhibition at Whitechapel Gallery, presents key works by some of the most exciting practitioners in current figurative painting. After a long period dominated by abstraction and conceptual approaches, painting saw a revival of figuration in the 1990s by artists whose work updated portraiture and history painting but remained rooted in the conventions of realism. However a new generation, coming to prominence in the new millennium, are distinguished by a radically different approach to the figure, in which bodies are fragmented, morphed, merged and remade but never completely cohesive. 'Radical Figures' highlights the renewed interest in radical modes of figuration during the past two decades, and considers the vast range of imagery, subjects and stories that have informed this transition: from the re-evaluation of early pioneers such as James Ensor and Max Beckman, and postwar painters such as Maria Lassnig and Philip Guston; to raunchy comics; to the ubiquity of photography on social media. Fully illustrated in colour, this innovative appraisal will explore the breadth and range of painterly techniques used, such as loose gestural brushwork suggesting polymorphous forms and gender fluid bodies, and thick impasto evoking flesh, matter and objecthood. Including newly commissioned texts on and by each artist, this sumptuous catalogue will showcase the best in figurative painting today. Exhibition: Whitechapel Gallery, London, UK (06.02.-10.05.2020).

Education in Human Values Sathya Sai Baba, 1988

Video/Art: the First Fifty Years Barbara London, 2021-09-02 A personal and expert account of the artists and events that defined the medium's first 50 years - now in paperback Since the introduction of portable consumer electronics nearly a half century ago, artists throughout the world have adapted their latest technologies to art-making. In this new paperback edition of her acclaimed book, curator Barbara London traces the history of video art as it transformed into the broader field of media art - from analog to digital, small TV monitors to wall-scale projections, and clunky hardware to user-friendly software. In doing so, she reveals how video evolved from fringe status to be seen as one of the foremost art forms of today.

Puppets All James F. Milne, 2000 A Sheltered Life is a combination of true stories of victims and survivors of Domestic Violence and provides knowledge for a better understanding of Domestic Violence. Domestic Violence has many forms: Emotional Abuse, Verbal Abuse, Child Abuse, Elder Abuse, Physical Abuse, and Sexual Assault. Domestic Violence follows a pattern of events (The Wheel) and there are Red Flags every man and woman should know. Red Flags make us aware of our life around us and how we are being treated. Are we being abused when our loved one calls us a name or gets upset with us if we are not home when we say we will be? When my loved one and I go out for dinner, do we go alone or with friends? If we usually go alone, we could be becoming isolated from friends and relatives; isolation is part of the pattern of Domestic Violence. There are resources for the troubled victims and survivors that are located within A Sheltered Life. Florida's Hotline Phone Number may be one of the most important phone numbers you may need. Just how do victims turn into survivors? What are the steps in becoming abuse-free?

Making KODAK Film Robert L. Shanebrook, 2010 The technology required to make photographic film has been a secret held by a few companies. This book explains, for the first time at this level of detail, how Eastman Kodak Company makes film. Photographic film is one of the most technically sophisticated chemical products that is used in everyday life. Over 200 complex chemical components are coated on to film base in up to 18 unique, precision layers which in total are half the thickness of a human hair. This insider's view explains in simple terms how the operation works. It is a picture book with over 25 diagrams and over 130 photographs of Kodak's production materials and equipment. Sixty percent of the printed surface area is illustrations. The book is unique; nearly all the illustrations were made specifically for this book. see www.makingKODAKfilm.com
